Elzevir and Grimsthrope — W. H. Kells, reeve.

Tudor and Cashel—J. A. Gunter reeve.

It is worthy of note that there are 15 Liberals and 15 Conservatives in the Council this year.

Treasurer Mallory, acting in the absence of Clerk Aylsworth, who is ill, called for nominations for the Wardenship.

Mr. Dryden nominated William Rogers, seconded by Mr. Vermilyea, the latter saying it gave him much pleasure in doing so.

There being no other nominations, Mr. Rogers was unanimously elected by a standing vote.

After taking the oath of office, Mr. Rogers took the chair. He said he felt highly honored at being chosen Warden as it was a proud position to hold as well as a responsible one. He felt sure he was surrounded by a competent body of men who would be able to compete with any questions that came before them.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

After a number of communications had been read and disposed of, and routine business transacted, the report of the House of Refuge Committee for 1908 was read. It was a very lengthy document and dealt in detail with the expenses since its beginning. In 1906 the total expenditure was $25,536.67, in 1907 the amount spent was $20,714.05, in 1908 the amount was $3,324.00 ; a total of $55,273.96. The receipts during that time was about $900, leaving a net expenditure on capital account of $54,561.96.

The superintendent reported that during the year the total number of inmates were 55 from different parts of the county, Sidney and Thurlow having, of course, the largest number. Of these, five had died and three were discharged. The average age of the inmates was 73 years. The average cost per inmate was 71 cents. The receipts from paying inmates were $297,-66. The total receipts from produce sold was $724.03. The average cost for all purposes per patient each week was $2.30.

The Committee recommended that both the superintendent and matron have their salary increased $100 each, and that the physician, Dr. Clinton, have his salary increased.

The Committee was composed of S. T. Vandervoort, C. Wright and W. C. Farley.

The physician's report was read. During the year there were 4 deaths, one 84, one 85, one 77 and the other 81. During the year two men and one woman were discharged. He visited the institution about three times a week. Six inmatas are blind, four men and two women.

The report was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Dr. Harper moved that the Warden, Messrs. Vermilyea, Cook, Harper and Mather be a Committee to select the House of Refuge and Executive Committees and report to the Council.

The motion carried.

Council adjourned until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY.

Mr. Vermilyea reported that the Committee appointed on Tuesday afternoon to choose the House of Refuge and Executive Committees had decided as follows :

Executive Committee—N. Vermilyea, chairman ; J. P. Cook, W. R. Mather, C. Ketcheson and the Warden.

House of Refuge Committee — J. Newton, Christopher Wright and the Warden.

The Clerk read a report about several bridges that should be repaired. Among them were the Stoco bridge in Hungerford, Meagher's bridge in Tyendinaga, and the bridge over Black Creek in Elzevir. The matter was referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee.

Council went into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means, Mr. Rollins in the chair, and a number of accounts were ordered to be paid. A lengthy discussion took place over several of the accounts, and they are to be looked into by the proper authorities. The question of who ordered many articles which many of the committees think they should not pay for, is the main argument. One official sent in an account for a calendar stand which cost $11.25. When it was read there was all sorts of laughter. Several of the councillors from the north said they were glad to have a calendar and a shingle nail to hang it up with.

Judge Fraleck addressed the Council. He was present to request a grant for the road between the Two Sisters through Lake township. The road was now almost impassable owing to recent forest fires in that vicinity. He said if a grant could be made by this Council of $100 he was assured the Government would supplement the amount by at least $200. He hoped the Council would do this. He simply asked it as a matter of justice to the residents in that vicinity.

William Prest wrote asking for $10 for the use of his field last winter by persons driving over it. Several of the Councillors spoke in opposition to paying anything, while a few supported the claim, among the later being Mr. Hannah, Mr. Hanley, Mr. Beatty and Mr. Clark.

On a vote being taken only four members out of the thirty voted that Prest be paid $5.

Dr. Mather moved that the sum of $70 be allowed the North Hastings School Inspector for postage and the sum of $50 to the School Inspector for South Hastings. The motion carried.

Mr. Gunter moved that the sum of $262.50 be granted the northern municipalities for the purpose of improved roads.

Mr. Vermilyea opposed the grant. He thought the general spirit among the members should be to make the burden of the county as light as possible.

Mr. P. P. Clark said he did not think the Reeve of Thurlow was candid when he opposed the grant to the northern townships. He said Mr. Vermilyea was never known to oppose any move that was in the interest of Thurlow. Mr. Clark said the people of his constituency took a great pride in their roads and he thought it was only justice that the grant should be made and he thought it should be carried by a big majority.

Mr. Douglas asked that the motion be amended so that Monteagle and Herschel, as well as Bangor, Wicklow and McClure be granted $365.

Mr. Vermilyea then moved that the motion of Mr. Gunter be carried with the rider attached that the amount be in full of all grants for outside roads in 1909.

About half an hour was taken up in discussion of the matter.

On a vote being taken Mr. Gunter's motion was carried with Mr. Vermilyea's rider.

The Council then adjourned until Thursday morning.

THURSDAY.

The Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities reported that the necessary accommodation had not been provided in the Court House, and pointing out that the statutory requirements must be carried out. Referred to the Finance and Property Committee.

Mr. M. W. Sine wrote asking the Council to instal a public watering trough on the Marmora Road in Rawdon township. It was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

The Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means resumed, Mr. Rollins in the chair.

Mr. Lancaster made a strong plea for $100 to go on a road leading from the Tariff Settlement to L'Amable station and cheese factory. The new road would mean a saving of nearly three miles for the settlers. After several of the members had spoken in favor of the grant, on motion of Mr. Cook, seconded by Mr. Newton, the usual grant of $202 was increased to $302.

The usual grant of $25 was made to the three Farmers' Institutes and $10 each of the three Women's Institutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, superintendent and matron of the House of Refuge asked for a raise of $100 on each of their salaries.

It was not deemed advisable to increase the salaries at present, and a motion to raise the matron's salary from $250 to $300 per annum was voted down, on motion of Messrs. Weaver and Hannah.

D. Hanley was appointed Chairman of the County Gravel Roads Committee.

The usual grants to the poor schools in the northern townships were passed, being the same amount as last year.

On motion of Messrs. Clark and Douglas, the Finance and Public Property Committee was empowered to go on with the necessary repairs to the Court House, and report progress at the June session.

FRIDAY.

The local Children's Aid Society sent in a bill for costs in connection with the care of four neglected children near the village of Bancroft in December. Their names are Peacock. Two of them have been placed in foster homes and the other two are expected to be placed next week. The total bill was $48.

It was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Vermilyea moved, seconded by Mr. Kells, that hereafter before the Council assumes any piece of road as a county road that the Chairman and Superintendent first examine the road as to its length and condition and also as to the bridges, and report to the Council.—Carried.

Mr. Vermilyea moved that county road employees work for 10 hours a day, every day in the week.—Carried.

Mr. Kells thought the wages of the men on the county roads should be placed at $1.50 a day and teams $3.00 a day. He did not think the foreman should receive more for his team than the others. Mr. Clarke said he would second Mr. Kells' motion but he could not vote for it. He thought the matter of hours and wages could be satisfactorily arranged between the foremen and superintendent. It was not deemed wise at present to pass any resolution regarding wages of county employees, and the matter was left in the hands of the superintendent.

Mr. Stringer moved, seconded by Dr. Leavitt "That the usual grants of eight hundred dollars to the schools north of Marmora, Madoc and Elzevir, and ninety dollars to the schools of Elzevir be granted in addition $25 to each of the following schools, viz : No. 7 McClure, 2 Mayo, 1 Monteagle, 3 Dungannon, 2 Faraday and 8 Herschel, and also one hundred dollars to No. 4 Mayo and Dungannon. The $800 and $90 grants to be apportioned as in former years by the inspector of schools.—Carried.

On motion of Dr. Harper, seconded by Mr. Lancaster, Mr. N. Vermilyea was appointed a member of the board of audit for the county.

Dr. S. Eagleson was appointed Trustee for Madoc High School.

Councillors Chris. Wright and John Newton were added to the Board of Management of the House of Refuge.

The matter of building a public watering trough on the road in the 5th concession of Rawdon was left in the hands of the representatives of Rawdon with power to act. The county is to pay half of the cost.

Mr. McLellan moved, seconded by Mr. Douglas, that a grant of $75 be made on a boundary road between Faraday and Herschel. Mr. McLellan said if the sum of $75 was made on the road the Legislature would supplement the amount by $200. The motion carried.

On a vote being taken on Mr. Kells' motion that hereafter the pay of county road employees shall not exceed $1.50 for laborers, $1.85 for foremen and $3 for teams was carried by a vote of 14 for and 13 against.

SATURDAY.

A short session was held on Saturday morning to receive final report of the Committee on Ways and Means, and among the resolutions passed were the following :

That $16.30 be paid the Treasurer of Wollaston re equalization appeal of 1907 :

That there be a reconsideration of the motion that passed on Friday in regard to wages paid to county roads men and teams. The wages to be for foremen $2, the leading team $3.25, and the common laborers $1.50 a day.

Council adjourned to meet Tuesday, June 15th

Presentation and Address.

On Wednesday evening, January 27th, about one hundred and fifty of the personal friends of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Twiddy, of Crookston, assembled at the old Twiddy home-stead, on the tenth line of Huntingdon, to offer the bride and groom their congratulations and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Twiddy having been married only a few days previous.

The event was totally unexpected by the bride and groom and for that reason the presence of so many friends proved an agreeable surprise.

After the party had got comfortably settled in the spacious rooms they were called to order by Mr. Stanley Tummon who read to them the following address :—

DEAR MR. AND MRS. TWIDDY.

Your friends of this vicinity have felt on the occasion of the recent important step in life you have taken that it would give them a great deal of pleasure to express to you and your estimable wife the appreciation in which you are held by your friends in the vicinity of Crookston, and to express to Mrs. Twiddy the pleasure it gives us to welcome her to our midst.

We trust that your lives amongst us may be long, prosperous, and very happy, and we ask you to accept this sideboard and these chairs as a slight token of our friendship and regard for you, and again wishing you much happiness and assuring you we shall always take a warm interest in your prosperity and welfare.

Signed on behalf of the friends of this community.

STANLEY TUMMON,
WM. J. DOWNEY.

Crookston, Jan. 27, 1909.

Mr. Twiddy was so astonished by the whole proceeding that he could hardly find words to express his gratification and thanks to his many friends for their good wishes and their handsome presents.

Mr. Samuel Tummon was then called to the chair after which short addresses were given by various gentlemen present, and one of the most interesting of all by Mrs. Ray, mother of Mr. Twiddy.

Games of different kinds were played by the young folks, some songs were sung, refreshments were served by the ladies and about midnight the party broke up with hearty congratulations and a three times three for the health and prosperity of the bride and groom.

Great Danger in Headaches.

It's often dangerous to consider headache a trifling ailment. If the head aches, the stomach is out of order and some serious disease may be impending. To tone up the stomach, to give it healthy action, nothing in modern medicines is so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The concentrated vegetable extracts in Dr. Hamilton's Pills have a quieting healthful effect on the stomach and remove all disorders Your headache will be cured and they won't return, if you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold everywhere.

The next League game for Madoc will be at Marmora on Monday next. The boys would like their friends to go over in force and cheer them on to victory.

Stirling plays at Madoc on the evening of the 17th. This will be THE GAME of the season.

A Doctor's Advice.

FOR CHRONIC COUGHS AND COLDS A PROMINENT ATLANTA PHYSICIAN SAYS NOTHING EQUALS VINOL.

"I want people to know that I believe the most valuable cod liver oil preparation, the best body-builder, health-restorer and strength-creator known to medicine to-day is Vinol.

"I advise Vinol in my practise, and find it has no equal for healing coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and sore lungs.

"I have used Vinol in many cases of indigestion, mal-assimilation, and for patients who have no appetite, were anaemic and run-down, with splendid results. I have also found Vinol to be a boon to the aged.

"I believe Vinol to be well worthy of any honest physician's endorsement." Dr. J. E. Ennis, Atlanta, Ga.

Vinol contains no injurious drugs, but it actually does contain peptonate of iron and all of the medicinal, curative elements taken from fresh cod's livers, without a drop of oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Those who try it and receive no benefit may have their money returned on demand. W. P. J. Alexander, Druggist, Madoc.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which variably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Havner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberains Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses he cough entirely disappeared and as not manifested itself since." This emedy is for sale by all druggists.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend A Pudding In Distress.

By FANNIE MEDBURY PENDLETON.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Perhaps it was fate that belated Cartwright and caused him to rush across the station platform just as the last passenger climbed aboard the train. If so, then fate was materially assisted by a little old lady over whom he nearly stumbled and who wildly clutched his arm.

She was very much out of breath, and her hair had blown free from her bonnet until the stray locks stood out in the wintry winds like a silver halo.

"Oh," she cried breathlessly, "my granddaughter has forgotten the Christmas pudding! She's on the train. Will you please give it to her? Her name's on the wrapper."

Cartwright mechanically accepted the pudding thus thrust upon him.

Cartwright nodded as he clutched the railing of the last car and pulled himself up. As the train swept around the curve he caught a last glimpse of her face. Her eyes were fixed upon the package under his arm.

"I actually believe she thinks I want her old pudding," grinned Cartwright. "She doesn't trust me."

The train, which was the last local for the city, was crowded with would be shoppers, with homegoers and guests bound cityward. Every seat was occupied. At last Cartwright found a place beside a young woman who obligingly made room for him and immediately resumed the study of the snowy landscape through which the train was rushing.

Cartwright glanced casually at her voluminous brown veil; then his eyes fell to the traveling pudding, and he turned over the package to find the name.

It was written in a fine, old fashioned hand and read, "Mary Lang, 1019 Essex place."

A pucker appeared between his eyes and bade fair to develop into a scowl when he became conscious that the gaze of the girl was fixed likewise upon the package.

"Pardon me," he cried impulsively; "you don't happen to be Miss Mary Lang, do you?"

The girl turned a very pretty and astonished face toward him.

"You see," he continued eagerly, "I don't know a soul at the station where I got on—changed cars there and nearly got left. Just as I was making for the train a lady requested me to deliver this. It is a pudding," he explained impressively, "and from the evident value set upon it by the maker I judge that it is a good one and that my responsibility is vast."

There was a responsive twinkle in the girl's eye.

"Sorry I can't help you out," she said. "Why not ask the conductor? He will know who got on at that station. I did myself, but we had to hurry to catch the train, and I didn't notice my fellow passengers."

"Tickets, please."

"Say, conductor," cried Cartwright, "can you tell me who got on at Alton function?" and he explained the problem of the pudding.

The conductor grinned.

"There was the lady two seats ahead," he answered, "the one with glasses."

Cartwright inspected her with comic dismay.

"I'm a shy man," he announced, "and if it be she perhaps you had better tackle her, conductor. I don't want the job."

"Well, there's the fat lady in the yellow waist with buttons, and the girl in the front seat, and the family just behind, and"—

"You don't know even if she's grown up, do you?" queried the girl, who had become quite interested in the proceedings.

"That's so," assented Cartwright ruefully. "But I feel by the pricking of my thumbs that she's homely as a hedge fence, cross eyed and at least fifty."

"That may not interfere with her appetite for plum pudding," suggested the girl mirthfully. She had put back the enveloping brown veil, and her dark eyes gazed straight into Cartwright's.

"I wish you were Mary Lang," he said, with decision.

"I'm very well satisfied as I am," she answered, dropping her eyes demurely.

The conductor had returned.

"Lend me the precious pudding," he suggested. "Guess I can help you out."

He walked to the front of the car and faced about.

"Is there a lady in this car by the name of Mary Lang?" he shouted above the roar of the train.

There was much turning of heads, but no response. The conductor disappeared into the car ahead, while Cartwright wiped imaginary drops of perspiration from his forehead.

"This suspense is awful," he observed. With hands clasped dramatically he awaited the outcome.

The door opened. A giggle came from the girl and a groan from Cartwright as the conductor returned, bearing before him the pudding, still unclaimed. He dropped it into Cartwright's hand.

"Sorry," he chuckled, "but there's nobody on the train who will own to being Mary Lang and thus become the proud possessor of the pudding."

"It is not a pudding," declared Cartwright resentfully, "it's an old man of the sea." And he leaned back, with the look of a martyr. The girl watched him with twitching lips.

"There is the address," she suggested. "You can send it when you reach the city."

"But I promised," said Cartwright wrathfully—"I promised the woman to see it delivered in person, and now it is my fate to go on a still hunt for this horrible woman, this gorgon. I'm very much afraid that Maud Cartwright's dinner will be late if she waits for me." He added the last wrathfully.

"Oh!" said the girl sympathetically. "Still," she continued, "the poor woman is probably mourning the loss of her pudding, and you can figure as the restorer of happiness. She is likely one of these timid souls and didn't dare own up to her name, or—I have it!—she is probably deaf and didn't hear the conductor."

"Goodby," said the girl sweetly. "I hope you find her all right. May you enjoy as good a Christmas pudding as Mary Lang's."

Cartwright watched her ruefully as she disappeared in the crowd.

"I'd like to know that girl," was his mental ejaculation; then he walked into the waiting room, eagerly scanning the crowd for a woman who appeared to have lost something. At last, refreshing his memory by a glance at the address, he took an uptown car and started for 1019 Essex place.

The storm had increased, traffic was slow, and it was some time before he mounted the steps and rang the bell at his destination. He wondered if he should ask for Miss or Mrs. Lang, and when the door opened he slurred the prefix and laid emphasis upon the name. Miss Lang was at home, and he presently found himself comfortably seated and awaiting her advent. He glanced mechanically about the tastefully appointed room; then these was a step on the stair, and he turned to behold a tall girl in a black lace dinner gown and with a spray of holly caught in her dark hair.

"You!" he cried.

She came forward, a half shamed, wholly mischievous expression on her face.

"I suppose I owe you an apology," she said. "You see, I fully intended to own up before you reached the city—you were so deliciously funny that I simply couldn't before—and then you mentioned your cousin, Maud Cartwright, who is my best friend, and I knew that you must be Bobby's cousin, of whom I've heard all my life. And so"—she darted a mirthful glance at him from under her dark lashes—"and so, well, the temptation was too overwhelming. I have heard of you in a variety of roles, but never before as a restorer of puddings." She held out her hand. "Please try quite hard to forgive me," she finished in assumed contrition.

They looked at each other, and both broke into a merry peal of laughter.

"You," cried Cartwright when he could speak—"you led me this wild goose chase!" He tried to summon a reproachful air.

She raised one hand and plucked a tall rose from a vase on the mantel. Her mouth was drawn into demure lines, but her eyes danced wickedly. Then she held out to him the long stemmed rose.

"I had to punish you for calling me a gorgon and believing me to be such a dreadful looking creature. The score is not so uneven, is it?"

They looked at each other above the rose and laughed again.

"I will even it up, my Christmas lady," declared Cartwright. Then his voice fell into a humbler tone. "And with Cousin Maud to introduce me I may come again?"

"Are you sure that Bobby Cartwright is your cousin?"

"Positive."

"Well, I have invited Bobby and Maud and the cousin who was expected to Christmas dinner. We are to have the pudding, but perhaps it would not agree with you after what has happened."

"Food for the gods!" cried Cartwright. "Give me a chance at that pudding. It will afford a very excellent substitute for humble pie."

It was snowing heavily when Cartwright reached the street, but he plunged resolutely into the storm.

"Heavenly pudding," he cried with enthusiasm, "I must relinquish you, but I will not give you up so easily, my Christmas lady."

Breaking Up a Witness.

In no way can barristers better display their acuteness than by seeing at a glance the character of the witnesses they are about to examine and by treating them accordingly. Erskine was famous at this. In a case in which he was engaged a commercial traveler came into the witness box dressed in the height of fashion and wearing a starched white necktie folded in the Brummel fold. In an instant Erskine knew his man, though he had never seen him before, and said to him, with an air of careless amusement, "You were born and bred in Manchester, I perceive." Greatly astonished at this opening remark, the man admitted that he was. "Exactly," observed the great cross examiner in a conversational tone. "I knew it from the absurd tie of your neckcloth."

The roars of laughter, coming from every person in the court, with the single exception of the unfortunate witness, which followed this rejoinder completely effected Erskine's purpose, which was to put the witness in a state of agitation and confusion before touching on the facts concerning which he had come to give evidence.—London News.

A FABLE OF NIGERIA.

The Crafty Spider and the Way He Paid His Debts.

A spider, it seems, had occasion to borrow a sum of money. A journey round to the generously disposed brought him 2,000 cowries each from the cat, the dog, the hyena, the leopard and the lion. When pay day came round, the spider remained at home to receive the visits of his creditors in a certain prearranged order. First came the cat to claim repayment of his loan. "Hush!" said the spider. "I hear a noise outside. It is a dog come to see me. You must hide under this calabash for safety." The cat was scarcely hidden when the dog, coming in, made a similar request for his money. Says Master Spider, "There is a cat under that calabash. Take him and consider the debt paid." No sooner said than done. Just then a snuffling and scraping were heard at the door. The third creditor, the hyena, had arrived. "Don't be alarmed, my dear dog, but hide here till he has left." And the spider bustled him under the calabash. "I smell a dog," said the hyena, routing about. "Under that calabash," the spider replied. "Eat him up, and your debt is paid." The dog paid the penalty of his simplicity, and all was quiet once more. The hyena was preparing to leave, when he heard an ominous sound that sent him crouching against the wall. It was the pattering of the leopard's feet at the door. "Quick! Under this calabash!" cries his host, and the hyena curls up in the fatal cache, only to meet a like fate from his more courageous enemy. "My debt is repaid," said the leopard, and ran against the lion coming in. A terrible fight ensued, for the leopard and the lion are equal in strength, so the natives say. When blood and dust make havoc in the house and both animals are exhausting their strength the spider is busy at the fire. Seizing a pot of boiling grease, he pours it over the clawing mass. Leopard and lion roll apart in their death agony, and the spider has only to straighten and clean up before resuming once more the humdrum life of fly catching. No wonder he is known as "Maiwayo," the crafty one.

AUTOMATIC FOOTBALL.

Actions of One Player After a Kick In the Head.

"Speaking of queer things in football," said an old player, "I recall a game that was played at Annapolis some years ago between Columbia and the Naval academy teams.

"One of the men on the Columbia team, the quarterback and a very prominent player of the year, started the game in good condition, but after part of the first half he was kicked in the head in one scrimmage. It took some time to get him around, but he suddenly arose and gave a signal. The two teams lined up and play went right on.

"This man went through the game, and no one noticed that anything was wrong with him. When the game was over and the Columbia team was on the way back to New York in the train this player, who had appeared to be in a brown study, suddenly turned to the man next to him and asked, 'Who won the game—what was the score?' and a number of other questions that made it seem as if he hadn't been anywhere near the field of play.

"The players were greatly surprised and thought perhaps the kick in the head had hurt the man so that his mind was affected. Later they learned that he was unable to tell what happened from the moment he got the kick in the head until the time he recovered consciousness, so to speak, on the train.

"His playing of quarterback and his giving of signals had been entirely automatic, or, rather, subconscious. That case was referred to frequently in the psychology courses at Columbia, you may well imagine."

Bismarck and Music.

Bismarck's utterances regarding music are compiled in a book by Keudell, "Furst und Furstin Bismarck, Erinnerungen aus den Jahren, 1846-1872." Kendell once saw the man of blood and iron shed tears during a performance of Beethoven's Sonata Appasionata. His favorite composers were Beethoven and Schubert. The only thing he did not like in their works was the variations. These, he said, "do not speak to the heart." Concerning the sonata just referred to he remarked: "This is like the singing and sobbing of a whole human life. If I heard this music often I should always be brave."

Ma Meant Well Anyway.

A young woman overheard an old negrees call to a pickaninny, "Come back, Exy, Exy!"

"Excuse me," said the young woman, "but isn't that a queer name for a baby, aunty?"

"Dat ain't her full name," explained the old woman, with pride; "dat's jes' de pet name I call fer short. Dat chile got a mighty grand name. Her ma picked it out in a medicine book. Yessum, de chile's full name is Eczema."

The Basis.

He—I wonder if we can get along all right. She—Certainly. We can buy the auto with the money father left me, and you will surely make enough to pay for running it, don't you think?—Puck.

The more one speaks of himself the less he likes to hear another talked of. —Lavater.

EARTHQUAKE IN SPAIN

Several Towns and Villages Devastated by Shock.

Coast Near Barcelona Is Practically Submerged by Great Tidal Wave—Village of Romara In Morocco Is Buried by Landslide and Hundreds of Villagers Have Lost Their Lives—Villages in Murcia Damaged.

London, Jan. 30—A special despatch received here from San Sebastien, Spain, says that a terrible earthquake has devastated several towns and villages in south and southeastern Spain.

A tidal wave partially submerged the coast near Barcelona, and a great landslide at Ceuta, in Morocco, just opposite Gibraltar, buried the village of Romara and several hundred inhabitants.

A despatch from Tarrasa says that Barcelona has been overwhelmed by a tidal wave. The loss of life is unknown. Subterranean roarings preceded the tidal wave, causing a fearful panic among the people on the promenades and in the buildings of the city.

News from Malaga says that many houses were damaged in the town of Totana, and several villages in the province of Murcia.

Tarrasa, whence comes the report of a great tidal wave at Barcelona, is fifteen miles distant from the latter city. Barcelona is the second largest city in Spain, situated on the Mediterranean, in the northeastern part of the country. It has a population of 450,000.

Murcia, where the shock is also reported to have been felt, is in southeastern Spain, a short distance inland from the Mediterranean coast. The meagre advices thus far received indicate that the earthquake was felt along the entire Mediterranean coast.

Moving Pictures Not Reliable.

New York, Jan. 30.—Despite moving picture evidence, introduced by counsel for the Coney Island & Brooklyn Railway Co. in the action brought against it by Stephen McGorty, 10 years old, a jury in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, on Thursday awarded the lad $8,500 damages.

The boy had been injured by being thrown from a trolley car by a conductor in 1905, and the moving pictures showed him running, boxing and wrestling, although it was claimed he is permanently injured. The jury held that the moving picture operator could control the speed of the film and misrepresent the boy's activities.

Cowboys In Autes.

Galveston, Texas, Jan. 30.—An order for ten automobiles for the Ransom and Wellsford cattle ranches of Midland and Crane counties were placed on Thursday for use in the semi-annual round-up of cattle. A special machine suited to this work will be manufactured.

Col. Crowley, secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association, in describing the tests, said:

"Cowboys can drive through a bunch of a thousand head of cattle in automobiles without even disturbing a steer. A man on horseback can stampede a bunch of steers quicker than lightning."

No Special Fares For Chinese.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Railroads cannot allow special fares for transporting Chinese to ports of deportation even though the expense is paid by the Government.

The hours of service law does not apply to employes on a ferry, even though the ferry be owned by a railroad company.

These were among several administrative rulings announced by the inter-state commerce commission yesterday.

Brantford Police Statistics.

Brantford, Jan. 30.—Chief Slemin's annual report shows the department to have handled 1,720 cases at the Police Court with 1,157 convictions secured. Out of 1,129 occurrences reported, the police succeeded in clearing up 823.

The foreign population of the city has increased to 1,093, of whom 134 have been offenders.

Public Service Commission.

Montpelier, Vt., Jan. 30.—The longest session of the Legislature in the history of the state closed yesterday when the law-makers adjourned after a ninety-two days' sitting. The creation of a public service commission to supervise telegraph and telephone companies and railroad corporations was among the most important acts of the session.

Mine Workers In Hot Debate.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30.—Yesterday's session of the United Mine Workers' convention was enlivened by a bitter debate over the national organizers. The faction opposed to President Lewis charged that the organizers were sent into Pennsylvania for electioneering purposes.

Amnesty For Lincoln Offenders.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Speaker Cannon yesterday received a letter from Memphis, Tenn., conveying for his consideration a bill by which it is proposed to grant amnesty and a general pardon to any persons who aided or abetted the assassination of President Lincoln.

Bulgeria Dispersing Troops.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—The governor of the Vilayet of Adrianople has telegraphed the Minister of the Interior that Bulgaria is disbanding the reservists recently concentrated on the Turkish frontier.

Wipe Turkey Off the Menu.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—A movement is on foot among the leading restaurants of Chicago to wipe turkey off their menus as a result of the high price now being asked for the meat.

THAT MONTREAL 'QUAKE.

There Were Three Shocks and Uncompleted Buildings Suffered.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The chief topic of discussion in Montreal yesterday was the earthquake which on Sunday night startled those of the residents who were not in bed and asleep. The shock was a very light one, but a great many people declared that they had felt it, some even declaring that they had been awakened by it.

Westmount seemed to have been particularly shaken up by the first disturbance at 11.45 Sunday night.

There were two others at intervals of about 15 minutes, but they were very slight.

About an hour afterwards there came a third shock.

The operators in the fire alarm office in the tower of the City Hall reported that there was a shock at 1.45 a.m. yesterday, and still another at 3 a.m. is vouched for by others.

In the section about Elgin avenue, Westmount, quite a few houses were quite severely damaged, especially where the construction work had not been carried out as perfectly as it should. One roof is reported to have split.

The McGill seismograph was found not to have been working. McGill scientists are of the opinion that the present disturbances are indirectly connected with those which have occurred on the other side of the world. Mount Royal, which overlooks the city, was at one period of its existence a living volcano, but not for many years has it been active, and scientists are of the opinion that it never will be again.

COMMITTED FOR ARSON.

Alberta Brothers Charged With Deadly Plot.

High River, Alta., Feb. 2.—One of the most sensational arson trials in the history of the country has been begun here by the commitment of M. Driscoll and his son, F. Driscoll, on a charge of setting fire to the barn and house of a neighbor named Demers. Settlers around saw the fire in the barn, and rushed to Demers' assistance in time only to avert a possibly horrible tragedy as the culmination of the crime. When they arrived they found the outbuildings in flames and a box full of inflammable material in the coalshed, to which a burning fuse had been attached, and which had burned down almost to the explosive point. Had it not been discovered when it was the lives of Mrs. Demers and four little children would have been menaced, if not sacrificed, as they were asleep in the house at the time. Strong circumstantial evidence connected the Driscolls with the crime, and they have just been sent for trial.

Port Hope Council Gets Busy.

Port Hope, Feb. 2.—The Town Council last night decided to have a representative of the Provincial Board of Health visit Port Hope to look into the smallpox scare. Pointed allegations were made that the trouble was being carried about by doctors.

Ald. Curtis introduced a bylaw looking toward compulsory vaccination, which measure carried, with a recommendation that several foreigners' families be specially cared for.

Cut This Out And Save It.

SAYS MANY PERSONS HERE CAN BE MADE HAPPY AGAIN BY USING IT.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who sufferers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which variably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Havner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlains Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Get the Best

A HAND FORGED RAZOR is becoming an art of the past. The present method of manufacturing razors and the desire to compete in prices, has compelled the manufacturer to forge, grind, polish and hone by machine, a method whereby the cost is greatly reduced at the expense of efficiency.

A perfect razor is the creation of skilled labor of the highest class. From forge to finish, through twenty operations, none but practical workmen put a hand to it. If the steel is not just right, or if the work is neglected in any stage of the manufacture, the faults will be many and annoyingly manifest. No amount of after honing can put a perfect, keen, smooth cutlery edge on an imperfectly made razor—yet nothing is easier than taking care of a good blade.

The best razor is as perfect as human skill can produce. It is made of the finest grain steel; hammer-hardened by hand; ground with a precaution that prevents the temper being disturbed; every one in stock uniform with every other one; all keen enough to shave the most tender face smooth and comfortably, without irritation. But call, examine, and convince yourself that our claims are borne out by facts.

St. Peter's Church.

Annual Congregation Meeting Held Last Week.

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Peter's church was held in the lecture room of the church on Wednesday evening last and was very largely attended.

The Pastor, Rev. H. S. Graham, who acted as Chairman, opened the meeting with devotional exercises, after which Mr. J. R. Brown was appointed Secretary for the evening, and read the minutes of the last meeting, which, on motion, were adopted.

The Chairman then called on the officers of the Sabbath School for their reports for 1908, which were read, and showed the Sabbath School to be in a very healthy condition, both spiritually and financially. The number enrolled for the year was 112, and the average attendance 70, while 50 new books were added to the Library.

The report of the Young People's Society of the church was read by the Secretary, also showing progress to have been made. The Treasurer's report of this Society was read by Mrs. H. Jones.

The report of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was read by Mrs. Wm. Mackintosh, and showed the average attendance to be larger than usual. The offering was the largest in the history of the Society, the yearly contribution amounting to $111.

The Ladies' Aid Society report was presented by Miss A. M. Allan and after its adoption Mr. W. Mackintosh took occasion to congratulate the ladies on the untiring efforts put forth by them to benefit the church in all its branches.

The report of the Cradle Roll Department of the church was presented by Miss L. Weir, showing 26 to be enrolled.

The Pastor presented the report of the Church Session, in which special reference was made to the fact that during the year the ranks had not been broken by death. Nine were received into membership during the year.

The chairman called on Mr. A. McGregor for his report as Treasurer, in presenting which Mr. McGregor announced his intention to resign. It was taken with sincere regret by the congregation, and a hearty vote of thanks was unanimously tendered for his valuable and faithful services as Treasurer of the church for the past five years.

At the close of the regular services Mr. Mackintosh was called to the chair, when a resolution was passed unanimously and by a standing vote. In introducing the resolution Mr. Wood said the congregation were in full sympathy with their pastor in the part he had taken in the Local Option contest, and it was in defence of their self-respect this resolution was submitted for their consideration. A few persons, actuated by questionable reasons, talked of breaking up the congregation, sneered at the pastor and his efforts, and left the church or threatened to, but the effect was an increased attendance. No individual could or had been able to run St. Peter's nor ever would. Mr. Elder Tuller said he fully and heartily endorsed the resolution and all that had been said. Was there one person present who would get up and say that Mr. Graham should have taken the other side? (No response.) Elder McMechan endorsed all that had been said and was proud that we had a pastor who dared to do the right thing. The following is the resolution:—

Moved by Mr. A. F. Wood, seconded by Mr. Wareham Tuller, that after hearing the various reports of the church at this annual meeting, the congregation wishes to express their appreciation of the work done by the different organizations of the church issuing in results in advance of previous years, and also wish to express their unqualified approval of their pastor's work among them resulting as it has in increased contributions to the funds of the church, improved spiritual life, and largely increased attendance at the regular church services. The congregation also wished to express their approval of the active part he took in the late campaign for Local Option, and we deeply regret that the majority rule did not prevail, and pledge themselves to support him in any well-directed effort for the suppression of the liquor trade and look forward to the time when there will be a law prohibiting the sale of liquor in any public place in the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Graham, in reply, said how deeply he felt their kindness as expressed in the resolution. He hoped that he had approved himself to his Master as well as to them. He felt, however, that he could not take to himself alone their appreciation of work done during the year. He was glad to have had a share in it, but had it not been for the self-sacrificing labors of those associated with him in the work no such satisfactory results could have been presented to the meeting. Referring to the reference made in the resolution to the part he took in the local option campaign, he was indeed glad to know that this meeting had approved of his attitude throughout the campaign. He knew from the beginning that the church session stood with him. While the temperance party had been defeated he looked upon it as a lost battle, and not a lost cause.

The United States Senate again delayed action on the waterways treaty.

A German book to be issued this week tells that the Kaiser's famous Kruger telegram of January 3, 1896, was really despatched at the request of the German Foreign Office.

BRUSH WITH PIRATES

Fish Poachers at Niagara Show Fight to Officers.

While Provincial Fish and Game Officers Are Patrolling the River They Come Upon Launch Whose Occupants Are Dynamiting Near Canadian Side—Have Been Carrying on Depredations For a Long Time.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—A brush between Government officers and fishing poachers on the Niagara river in which rifles and shot guns were brought into play, has been reported to Superintendent Tinsley of the Ontario Department of Fish and Game.

Chief Officer T. J. Briggs of Black Rock advises that on Saturday night three provincial officers while patrolling the Niagara river in a boat, located a power launch, the occupants of which, three in number, were dynamiting for fish near the Canadian side. They gave chase and being unable to overhaul the poachers' craft, opened fire with rifles. The pursued replied with shotguns and disappeared in the darkness. No one was injured.

Mr. Tinsley has issued orders for a strict patrol of the river. The "fish pirates," as they are designated, are believed to have a rendezvous on an island and this will be closely watched. It has been known that dynamiting has been going on for some time, the discharges killing the fish, which come to the surface and are gathered in easily, boxed up, and sent to Buffalo or other cities for marketing. The United States officers have given assurance of their active co-operation in an attempt to capture the predatory band.

No Gas, and They Freeze.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 2.—With the thermometer ten degrees below zero yesterday, Lancaster, 25 miles from here, is practically without fire. The natural gas main from the West Virginia field has broken across the Ohio river and the city is without a supply. Lines of people are going to the coalyards with buckets, baskets and wheelbarrows, or anything else they can get, but the coal supply will soon be exhausted. All the factories and schools have closed.

At Upper Sandusky the natural gas has been reduced to the lowest pressure and the water pipes have frozen. Chillothe, Ohio, is also minus gas, and few houses are equipped for coal fires.

Slovenly Farmers In Saskatchewan.

Regina, Feb. 2.—The Department of Agriculture yesterday published a final report dealing with the crop of last year.

"Compared with 1907," says the report, "returns of last year are almost twice as large, both in acreage and yield," but deduces the fact that for each farmer whose crops exceeded the average yield for the province, some other farmer or farmers must have had crops of which the average yield was correspondingly less. The report says that Saskatchewan is being retarded and damaged by bad and slovenly farming.

Sudden Change.

Chatham, Feb. 2.—Visiting the police station to ask the magistrate to permit the woman with whom they were boarding to keep a maid, Thos. Robbiston and Walter Simmons, who have been here from England three years, admitted that they had boarded at the place, which is a house of ill-repute, in the estimation of the police. They were immediately charged with being inmates, pleaded guilty and each was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

Fernie Sufferers Squabble.

Fernie, B.C., Feb. 2.—There are lively times in sight because of an agitation among the work people burned out in the big fire against the repaying the money that was loaned them to rebuild their homes.

At a meeting attended by practically all the sufferers by the fire, strong language was used and ex-Mayor Tuttle vigorously replied to certain attacks made on the disposition of the relief funds.

Compulsory Insurance.

Minneapolis, Feb. 2.—Compulsory old age and disability insurance under state control and applying to workers in trades, crafts and professions, is advocated by Senator J. T. McGowan of Henepin County. Senator McGowan is embodying his ideas in a bill which will be introduced at the present session of the Legislature.

Steamers Ice Bound.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 2.—Traffic between Prince Edward Island and the mainland is interrupted. The steamer Minto, which is from Georgetown, P.E.I., for Pictou, has been in the ice three miles off Pictou Light since Saturday and is landing mails and passengers over the ice.

Tanner Re-nominated.

New Glasgow, N.S., Feb. 2.—The Conservative convention here yesterday nominated C. E. Tanner to contest Pictou County for the seat in the local Assembly made vacant by Tanner's resignation to contest the county for the Dominion House. The polling is on Feb. 16.

Miss Keller's New Home.

Boston, Feb. 2.—A large farm house in Brunswick, Maine, is to be the future home of Miss Helen Keller, the famous deaf, dumb and blind young woman in order that her work for the blind may not be interrupted by so many social engagements.

To Light a Channel.

Brockville, Feb. 2.—Motor and steamboat owners are circulating a petition asking the Dominion Government to place more lights in the Canadian channel of the river between here and Gananoque, in order to make it navigable after dark.

California Rose Co.

The California Rose Co. which plays in the Masonic Hall, Madoc, Saturday, Feb. 6th, has just closed a record tour of the States, having crowded houses at every performance. It is a Western Comedy Drama in 4 acts dealing with the early mining days in the gold rush of California. The play holds interest from beginning to end with not an idle moment, and the players are just as perfect as the play. The company is composed of 18 members of the best talent that can possibly be gathered together. A six inch gun is used and fired in the play so do not fail to see it, also introducing the famous Middlebrook Family introducing new styles of dancing. This family are cited by the press and public to be the best on the road, bar none, which you will be able to see for yourself. Also do not fail to see the side splitting darkies, tramps and dutchmen. There is no waiting or delays and the specialities between acts are of the best, so get your tickets early in order to avoid the rush. Play commences at 8 p. m. sharp. Liquor Cases.

A number of cases occupied the attention of Magistrate Casement at the Town Hall on Thursday last. They were the eight cases under the Liquor License Act formerly referred to in these colums and were as follows :—

King vs. Wm. Golding ; King vs. James Quinn ; King vs. Edward O'Connor, all of Marmora, and King vs. Jno. T. Cockram, of Madoc, all charged with selling liquor to a minor.

In the first two cases the defendants were fined $20 and costs each ; the third case was dismissed and in the fourth defendant was fined $10 and costs. King vs. Flynn was enlarged at the request of the Crown. In King vs. Mrs. Thos. Reid and two charges of King vs. Thos Reid, of Springbrook, all of selling without a license, the defendants failed to appear and Mr. Moore applied for and was granted a bench warrant for their arrest. Since then Mrs. Reid has appeared and paid a fine of $50 and costs, while Thomas has left for parts unknown. In all these cases Mr. Moore represented the Crown assisted by the Provincial Inspector who was present, while Mr. McDonald represented the defendants in the first three cases.

—Who sells the most Sugar for $1.00 in Madoc? Hudgins, 21 lbs. Redpath's granulated.

It is reported that Frank Law, convicted of conspiracy to defraud, will make restitution to extent of $50,000.

Misery in the Stomach.

AND INDIGESTION VANISHES IN FIVE MINUTES AND YOU FEEL FINE.

Why not start now—today, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of indigestion and upset stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take the gas from stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and besides, one triangule will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapepsin works your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all stomach misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to begin taking Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to be thoroughly cured of indigestion.

BRITISH MAIL WRECKED

Driver Cool Is Pinned Beneath His Engine and Killed—Several Other Trainmen Are Injured—Five Cars and Two Engines Off the Track—Engines Toppled Over as Result of Crash.

Moncton, N.B., Feb. 1.—At 12.45 yesterday the British mail special, in charge of Conductor Wm. Crockett, which left Moncton about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, with a double header, was wrecked about four miles east of Campbellton. In the engines' cabs were Drivers C. Cool of Campbellton, and A. H. Fryers, Moncton; Firemen Thomas Clark and Walter Carson, Moncton. Driver Cool, who was in the head engine, was pinned beneath the engine and was killed, while Driver Fryers was scalded about the head, arms and legs, but none of the injuries are serious. The train was made up of seven cars, five baggage cars, combination baggage and colonist, diner and sleeper. The runoff is supposed to have been caused by a broken rail. Wrecking crews were rushed to the scene with hydraulic jacks, but it was 6 o'clock last evening before the dead body of Driver Cool was taken from beneath the wrecked engine. Both engines toppled over on their sides and were transferred to other baggage cars, and were forwarded as soon as possible. At the time of the run-off the mail special was running fast, and when the head engine left the rails both locomotives were plunged into the ditch and topple over on their side. There was a heavy snowstorm on the northern division and the special plow had been running on the track for the mail special, but there was no plow on the mail train.

TO CORNER WHEAT.

Market Feels Stringency That Bespeaks Big Manipulation.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 1.—Not in ten years has there been a condition in the grain trade quite like that existing in Minneapolis and Chicago now, where James A. Patten operating in both markets, has bought anywhere from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels, and presumably is out to run a corner in May wheat.

The effect always felt before a corner gets under way is now apparent in the trade. Nothing is doing. Dealers agree that, as Patten stands and takes delivery of his wheat bought for May delivery, prices might easily advance to $1.25 or higher. They see also that in the grand statistics of the country he has the advantage, for there is not a great quantity of wheat in the United States, consumptive and export demand considered, and the present outlook is for a winter wheat crop next season smaller than for several years.

The exporting and manufacturing end of the business is getting the adverse effect. Buyers are afraid to stock up with flour or flour by-products or with grain, either wheat or other cereals, for fear that, should the Patten crowd ever decide to give up the deal and throw their holdings of wheat on the market, great decline in prices might follow.

The result of it is a deadlock. Prices fluctuate in narrow range and all business is down to minimum.

Tree Falls on Him.

Hamilton, Feb. 1.—Bertram Wylie, 20 years of age, the son of a Glanford farmer, lies in the City Hospital with a broken back and paralyzed from the waist down. With his father, brother and uncle, he was engaged in cutting down the stub of a maple tree about a foot and a half in diameter and about 12 feet high. After they had nearly finished cutting it off at the stump, the young man, who is six feet tall and weighs 180 pounds, climbed up in the tree in order that his weigh might incline the tree in the desired direction, when it fell. His instructions were to jump when the tree began to fall, but his foot slipped and the tree fell on him. Dr. James White performed an operation on him and he has been placed on a water bed. Slight hopes of his recovery are entertained.

Laird-Scott Libel Case.

Regina, Sask., Feb. 1.—Saturday morning's session of the Laird-Scott libel case was chiefly occupied with cross-examination of Constructor Frye, who testified that he had paid $1,000 to Mayor Laird for influence as to a contract.

The defence produced several witnesses who swore Frye had said in their hearing that he could make more out of opposing Laird than he could make as a contractor in a year.

Dobson, Frye's partner, swore he had given Laird $500 for the provincial rights' party campaign fund.

Would Wed Her Uncle.

Windsor, Feb. 1.—Charged with unlawfully detaining Lorraine Ulch, his 17-year-old niece, Forrest Ulch, residing in Sandwich East, was arrested yesterday and locked up. The girl's parents say that Ulch induced the girl to leave her home and go to him. Miss Ulch openly avows her affection for her uncle and declares that she would marry him were it possible. "Uncle" Ulch, as she calls him, is 42 years old.

Two-Year Term For County Councils.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The legal and legislative committee of the Carleton County Council, Saturday afternoon recommended the passing of a resolution calling upon the Legislature to enact that municipal elections be held every two years instead of every year.

"Colonist" Regrets.

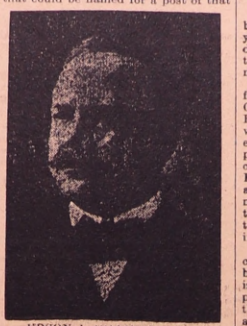

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 1.—The Colonist newspaper Saturday contained an apology for the publication of the false Borden telegram, explaining that the wire was taken off the telegraph editor's desk and never returned.

DID M'BRIDE DO IT?

B.C. Premier Said to Be Cause of Mr. Morse's Resignation.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The resignation of F. W. Morse as vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific continues to be discussed here. When it was first made known that he had stepped down it was said that it was because the Government had absolutely refused to deal with him. The story now is that it was Premier McBride who forced Mr. Morse from the management of the transcontinental road.

Mr. Morse is not the smoothest man that could be named for a post of that description and of late it is said he became so obnoxious to the British Columbia Government that they refused to conduct negotiations with him, and on one occasion at the request of Mr. McBride Mr. Wainwright was despatched west to deal with the Government.

To-day the Commons will discuss the academic question of the conservatism of the natural resources of the Dominion, on a motion placed on the order paper by R. L. Borden.

MONTREAL SHAKEN.

Shock of Earthquake Alarms Citizens —No Damage Reported.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—Montreal was shaken by an earthquake at 11.45 yesterday. People in all parts of the city were awakened by the shock, which was so sharp that it was believed to be an explosion. Men were sent out from the police stations to investigate. While the shock gave a scare to the inhabitants, no damage is reported.

Earthquake In Missouri.

Mexico, Mo., Feb. 1.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here Saturday. The motion seemed to be from north to south. Some of the inner walls of the Audrain County court house were cracked their entire length.

Civil Servant Missing.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The mysterious disappearance of Peter Robertson, accountant of the Interior Department, from his home at 472 Maclaren street, has caused much uneasiness to his family and fellow-employes. A vain search has been made for him since Wednesday, and those who know him fear he may have come to some sudden end.

At 2.30 on Wednesday Mr. Robertson, who has been a steady employe of the Interior Department for 30 years, left his office and was not seen again by any of the other clerks.

Mr. Robertson, who was about 60 years of age, had been in failing health for some few years.

The sudden leave-taking led to an enquiry as to his accounts and they were found in the most satisfactory state. His private property is not involved in debt in any way that would be likely to influence him to leave the city.

Arrested as Firebug.

Winnipeg, Feb. 1.—Incendiarism is alleged as the cause of Friday night's disastrous fire at Emerson, and, following the representations made Saturday to the Attorney-General's Department, the elder of the firm of Perreles and Brothers, dealers in "job lots," was arrested on Saturday. So intense is the excitement that the townspeople threatened him with violence, and also demanded the arrest of the others of the firm.

The firm have been selling bankrupt stocks and the fire broke out in their store, due, they claim, to a stove falling down. They carried $8,000 insurance.

Loses Both Feet.

Woodstock, Feb. 1.—John Slater, a man with no fixed place of abode, but who is well known in this county, had both of his feet amputated at the hospital yesterday.

Slater was found in a stable at Embro some few weeks ago. His feet had been frozen through exposure.

Level Crossing Tragedy.

Rochester, N.Y., Feb. 1.—Jacob Greenagle and his two sons were struck by the Chicago Limited on the New York Central Railway near Lyons Saturday night. One son, George, 7 years of age, was instantly killed and the sleigh demolished. Greenagle and the other child was badly injured.

Provincial Appointments.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—The following Ontario appointments are gazetted: Arthur Alexander of Barrie; Walter H. Gregory of Stratford, and Arthur A. Fraser of Cobalt, notary public. Archibald McKellar of Dutton, Elgin, bailiff, succeeding the late Malcolm C. Leitch.

$10,000 For Airship Race.

New York, Feb. 1.—An airship race from this city to Albany, a pioneer event of its kind in the United States, has been arranged as one of the features of the Hudson-Fulton memorial next autumn.

The New York World will donate a prize of $10,000.

GANANOQUE HAS BLAZE

Damage Amounting to $100,000 in Early Morning Fire.

Grand Opera House and Turner's Block Are Destroyed—Rumor Has It That Burglars Who Rifled Jewelry Store Set Fire to Building to Conceal Their Crime — Two Men Were Seen at Hotel Stable.

Gananoque, Feb. 1.—Burglars are blamed for having caused a fire early yesterday morning which completely destroyed the Grand Opera House and the Turner blocks, involving a loss of more than $100,000.

At 3.30 flames were seen bursting from the front windows of Joseph McCauley's restaurant in the Turner Block, King and Stone streets. A gale was blowing, but the firemen responded promptly and soon had five streams playing. Prospects for the destruction of King street looked so certain that Kingston was telephoned for assistance and in 40 minutes an engine and men were entrained at Kingston Junction. As the fire was then under control, a message was sent countermanding the request.

While the origin of the fire is not certain, the discovery that Walter Abbotts' jewelry store had been burglarized during the night leads to the supposition that the burglars broke into the restaurant for something to eat and that they set fire to the building to conceal the crime.

Two men are said to have driven into a hotel shed about midnight, and left about three o'clock.

The fire sufferers are: W. G. Rogers, owner of the Grand Opera House, $30,000, insured for $8,000; also proprietor of the butcher shop, loss $25,000; W. Y. Boyd, owner of Turner Block, a three-storey brick building, loss $25,000; Clifford Sine, druggist, loss $15,000, insurance $8,000; Corrigan & Co., dry goods; James McCauley, restaurant and billiard room, insured; Tiger Hockey Club rooms; Prof. Jackson, musical studio; Colonial Theatre, on top floor of Turner building; Peters Brothers, restaurant; A.O.U.W. and Canadian Order of Foresters, lodge rooms.

Walter Abbott's loss by burglary is over $500. Entrance was secured by boring 13 augur holes around the Yale lock, and knocking it in. The store is six doors away from the restaurant.

FIRE AT SCHREIBER.

Blaze That Sweeps Town Does Big Damage.

Schreiber, Feb. 1.—During one of the wildest gales ever experienced in this part of the county, fire broke out in the roof of the Queen's Hotel here about 7.15 Friday night, and in less than two hours the hotel, together with the whole business block adjacent, was reduced to ashes. Only the presence of a thick stone wall between the hotel and store occupied by the Schreiber Trading Co. and postoffice, aided by the efforts of a volunteer fire brigade with the assistance of the C.P.R. fire hose, saved the latter building from destruction also. As it was, the trading company's store and stock was badly damaged by fire and water.

The following is a list of the buildings and places of business destroyed: Queen's Hotel, partly insured; H. H. Parliament, barber shop, insured; Schreiber Drug Co., drugs, total loss, insurance unknown; D. McCuaig, billiard and poolroom and tobacco store; A. Strachan, jeweler, loss $5,000, insured; P. McCuaig, bakery and confectionery store; J. H. Beamish, general merchant, loss $45,000; insurance about $35,000; E. J. O'Brien, merchant tailor, loss and insurance unknown; residence of F. Armstrong, contents saved.

K. C. McCuaig lived over the pool room and lost all his furniture.

Bad Blaze at St. John.

St. John, Feb. 1.—Fire early yesterday morning gutted three large establishments, Reid Bros., Dunlop & Cook, furriers, and part of A. D. Skinner's draperies.

Queen Nearly Well.

London, Feb. 1.—Disquieting rumors have been current recently concerning the health of Queen Alexandra. Miss Knollys, her secretary, announced from Windsor Castle Saturday that the Queen has nearly recovered from her recent attack of influenza and hopes to return to London on Monday.

The Queen's physicians advise her to reserve her strength for her coming visit to Berlin, for which reason it is probable that she will not accompany the King when he goes to open Parliament.

Menelk Is Not Dead.

Addiz Abeba, Abyssinia, Feb. 1.—The reports recently circulated in Europe and America that King Menelik was desperately ill, and even that he had died, were wildly exaggerated. The King is a chronic invalid, but there is nothing in his condition today to cause immediate alarm.

Author of "Elsie" Books.

Elkton, Md., Feb. 1.—After several weeks' illness, Miss Martha Finley, the author, died yesterday at her home in Elkton, aged 82 years.

Miss Finley was born at Chillicothe, Ohio, April 26, 1828. Her best known works were the "Elsie" books.

Stomach Comfort.

WHEN THE STOMACH REBELS, HEADACHE, INDIGESTION AND NERVE PAIN FOLLOWS—MI-O-NA BRINGS RELIEF.

Just as soon as you are done eating the healthly stomach commences to churn the food around and mixes it thoroughly with the juices of the stomach.

If the food is not churned, it lays heavily on your stomach, turns sour and causes all kinds of distressing symptoms, such as headache, indigestion, stomach pain and dyspepsia. Mi-o-na helps the stomach to properly mix the food.

John S. May, of Isabella Street, Belleville, Ont., says: "For over seven months I was in constant agony with a case of nervous dyspepsia and indigestion that medical skill could not relieve. I was weak and had lost much weight through loss of appetite and suffering. My meals would fill me with gas and a feeling of oppression across the stomach and all up the left side, left me in a miserable condition. I was restless at night and unrefreshed in the morning as on going to bed. A choking sensation in my throat was always constant when lying down and my heart seemed to flutter and pound as though it were coming out through my side. I was benefitted from the first two days, use of Mi-o-na. I began to feel like myself again, my appetite returned and the depressive feeling left me. I can enjoy my meals without the least worry of after suffering. I have gained in weight and can sleep the night through in comfort.

Go to W. P. J. Alexander the druggist, and get a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na Tablets. Money back if Mi-o-na does not cure.

Ask Yourself the Question.

Why not use Chamberlain's Pain Balm when you have rheumatism? We feel sure that the result will be prompt and satisfactory. One application relieves the pain, and many have been permanently cured by its use. 25 and 50 cent sizes. For sale by all druggists.

Some inquiries are being made about the steamer Hestia, said to have sailed from Glasgow for Halifax twenty-three days ago.

Have You Warts?

You can cure them painlessly by Putnam's Corn and Wart Extractor. Never known to fail. Be sure you get "Putnam's," in 25c. bottles.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent have frequent headaches, coated tongue bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, acid dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. H. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of "American Dispensatory;" Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send postage and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

FOUR BURN TO DEATH

Vansickle Homestead Near Hamilton Wiped Out by Fire.

Philip Vansickle, His Son Martin, Daughter Meletta, and Son-in-Law Harry, Lose Their Lives In Disaster, the Origin of Which Is a Mystery—Father of Harry Vansickle Declares There Was Foul Play.

Ancaster, Ont., Feb. 1.—In a fire which destroyed their home at Jerseyville, 18 miles west of Hamilton, Saturday morning, Philip Vansickle, his son Martin, his daughter Meletta, and his son-in-law, Harry Vansickle, were burned to death. The whole affair is a mystery and many conflicting explanations of the affair are current throughout the countryside. A coroner's jury is sitting on the case and there is a great deal of doubt whether the tragedy is the result of an accident or of some terrible crime.

At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon Seth Vansickle, who lives almost opposite the burned house was there and saw Meletta, his sister; the old man, his father; and Martin, his brother. He worked in the adjoining barns, which were used jointly by the old man and his sons with Harry. When they stopped at 7 o'clock Seth went to his home and Harry went into the house.

At 8 o'clock Saturday morning Seth went to the pump outside his father's house and drew a pail of water. He says that he noticed smoke coming from the chimneys at either end of the house and concluded that those within had arisen. There were no marks of footprints to door or window that he could see at the east end of the house, which is that toward his own. He went back to his own house and did not see the other again until his cousin Peter Vansickle came rushing into his kitchen shortly after 11 o'clock crying, "Come, father's house is burning and they are all inside."

It appears that the first to notice the fire were Bert and Peter, nephews of old Philip Vansickle, who live immediately west of the homestead on opposite sides of the road. Bert with his son Stanley were at work in their barn when they noticed smoke issuing from the window sashes of the old man's house. The father sent Stanley to see what was the matter, but before he returned his father saw a little tongue of flame lick out upon the verandah which ran along the front of the house. This would be about 11 o'clock. Bert dashed across the road and told his brother Peter and then ran for the burning house.

As is the custom Peter sounded an alarm by frantically ringing the large dinner bell and then ran to join Bert in rescuing the inmates.

Meanwhile Bert had reached the house. He rushed to the east end and around to the north corner where the old man's room was situated on the ground floor.

He smashed the window to be met by a heavy cloud of pugnent smoke. Undaunted, he clambered in and, groping about in the deadly fumes, stumbled over the old man's body, lying prostrate at the door of his room, which was closed.

He dragged it to the window, but was there so nearly overcome that he was forced to drop his burden and seek the pure air without.

At this juncture Seth, who had been called by Peter, came up. Together they pulled the body through the window, throwing in pails of water to keep back the smoke. It was too late, however, the aged man was dead. The body was carried to the carriage house and the three returned to the burning building. They strove to force their way in through the east door, but were driven back by the heavy black smoke and tongues of flames which, fanned by the air, were now burning fiercely.

A great throng had congregated, but the flames, too, had gathered strength and any further attempt at rescue was hopeless.

When the roof fell the work of searching for the bodies began. These was burned almost beyond recognition. All were mixed with debris in the cellar of the smouldering ruins.

The body of Meletta, the daughter, was found at the northeast corner of the ruins. A patch of clothing under the arm showed that she had been still wearing her night clothes, and probably in bed when overcome by the smoke.

The body of Martin, son of Philip, was found below his room in the southeast corner. Embedded in the heap of the charred remains was a bed, indicating that he had gone down with his bed.

But the body of Harry was also found near this, while the room he occupied was in the northwest corner of the building. Upon his back, stuck in the burned flesh, was a buckle of his suspenders, but his watch was found under his own room.

Here is where his father begins to doubt. "The boy never slept with Martin," he says. "He always slept alone. What was his body doing there?"

It is suggested that he went to warn the others, being awakened by the smoke. This does not satisfy the father.

"The skulls of the two men are practically missing," he declares. "Oh, I think that there is something wrong. I feel it." he keeps repeating passionately until the thing becomes uncanny.

"I think there was a fight. Someone got in from the outside. I feel it. There was a will. There was trouble over that. One of the family said that he would fight it as long as there was a penny left.

"Some thought that the girls were getting too much. That was last spring. Then I believe there was another made by old Philip six weeks or so ago, and I was told at Christmas time that that made more ill-feeling."

Only the old man's passionate belief in his doubt and declaration stands against the seeming certainty of all.

Among the theories current many are wild and tangled, but a few bear weight from the intimate knowledge of those who hold to them concerning the habits of the unfortunate victims. Mrs. Harry Vansickle, who through a lucky chance had been staying with her three children at the home of her father-in-law, Wesley Vansickle, at Trinity, and so escaped death, says that it was the habit of old Philip to get up before the others and light the fires. He was just as apt, she says, to put the shavings, used as kindling, under the stove as into it, and it is known that for a time last fall his mind was unhinged. Others believe that a burning piece of charcoal must have fallen from the stove and smouldered in the carpet, overcoming all with the fumes before the actual burst of flames.

The jury empanelled to enquire into the cause of death is a curious one in that almost every man is related to the deceased, and so are nearly all who are to be witnesses. The settlement is the growth of two or three families of United Empire Loyalists, who settled at that spot as early as 1810, coming from New Jersey. Since then they have lived almost entirely to themselves, the intermarriage of first cousins being a not unfrequent occurrence.

Girl Conducts Elopement.

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 1.—When the immigration authorities at Port Huron stopped Miss Jeanne Boureau, aged 24, and Hugh Lawrence, aged 20, they put an end to an elopment which reversed the usual order, the woman in this case running away with the man. The couple declared stoutly that they were married and gave another name to the officers, but finally broke down and said that they were bound from Montreal to Detroit. The girl is a pretty French-Canadian girl, while the young man is described as a "regular Apollo." When questioned the girl told the officers that she happened to see the young man on one of the Montreal streets and had become infatuated with him. Other girls, however, took a fancy to Lawrence. Miss Boureau determined that she should have him all to herself, and finally succeeded in persuading him to start with her to Detroit, she paying all expenses. They were deported.

Woman Drinks Carbolic.

Peterboro, Feb. 1.—Word has reached here of the death of Mrs. Gillian, who lived four miles from Warsaw, as the result of taking a big dose of carbolic acid, from the effects of which she died about 20 minutes afterwards, with her son and other relatives unable to do anything for her.

The only reason that can be assigned for her self-inflicted death is that a sister of the deceased residing in Havelock has been so seriously ill that her life was despaired of and Mrs. Gillian had been worrying very much over this. Mrs. Gillian came about a month ago from Havelock.

Red Hat For Falconio.

Rome, Feb. 1.—It is expected that a consistory will be held in March, when Mgr. Falconio, the apostolic delegate to the United States, will be recalled and the appointment of Monsignor Aversa, apostolic delegate to Cuba, to take his place, will be announced.

Monsignor Falconio will be created a cardinal either immediately or shortly afterward.

Hypnotized Into Shoplifting.

Boston, Feb. 1.—Two young women who said they were formerly music teachers in Springfield, and that they had been hypnotized by a traveling salesman, who induced them to take up the profession of shoplifting, were arrested in a store here on Saturday. They gave their names as Jane Relsey, aged 21, and Henrietta Burit, aged 20.

Loved the Wrong Woman.

New York, Feb. 1.—George Kahn, 37 years old, fatally shot himself in a Brooklyn hotel late Saturday, in the presence of Mrs. Johanna Von Hausselin, wife of the proprietor of Saengerbund Hall, of which Kahn had until recently been manager.

She said: Kahn shot himself when she refused to elope with him.

Drank Wood Alcohol.

Orillia, Feb. 1.—James Loudfoot, a man of about 54 or 55 years of age, died here yesterday morning from the effects of drinking wood alcohol. It is reported that he had been out of town and on his return had drunk the alcohol in mistake. He had no friends or relatives here.

RUSSIA AS PEACEMAKER

She Has Succeeded in Ending War Talk in the Balkans.

By an Able Piece of Financing Whole Question of Indebtedness In the Near East Is Simplified Into Bulgaria Owing Turkey and Turkey Owing Russia—Both Governments Have as Good as Given Consent.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 2.—The Turko-Bulgarian deadlock over the amount of money to be paid Turkey by Bulgaria because of the Bulgarian declaration of independence is practically broken and the war cloud in southeastern Europe has been dissipated by the acceptance of a plan proposed by Russia, which reconciles in a novel manner the Turkish claim of 120,000,000 francs ($24,000,000) and the Bulgarian offer of 82,000,000 francs ($16,400,000).

This plan is based on the war indemnity of 8,000,000 francs a year, which, in accordance with the Berlin treaty of 1878, Turkey is to pay Russia for a hundred years. These payments bear no interest. The Russian proposal is to remit them until the Turkish claim against Bulgaria is satisfied. Russia will collect instead 82,000,000 francs from Bulgaria in similar installments. These payments will bear interest, and the amount of this interest will recoup Russia.

Bulgaria has formally assented to this proposal, and the Russian Government has assurances that the plan is satisfactory to the Turks.

The settlement of the Turko-Bulgarian difficulties, it is stated in well informed circles, involves the recognition of the kingdom of Bulgaria, whose proclamation of independence precipitated the crisis.

One Man's Downfall.

Brockville, Feb. 2.—Richard C. Grindlay, a tramp, locked up here on suspicion of being a murderer, wanted in Rochester, N.Y., was yesterday discharged. Grindlay is very well connected in Glasgow, his father being president of a large manufacturing concern, while a brother is an eminent lawyer. His wife and family live in Plainfield, N.J., but he is a confirmed inebriate, and they would sooner live without him.

Fatalities on G.T.P.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 2.—The steamer Rupert City arrived with the bodies of Peter Burglund, Seattle, and Eric Lindstrom, sub-contractors on the G.T.P. Burglund was killed by the premature explosion of dynamite. Transporting the remains 40 miles up the Skeena river was extremely difficult, as the river is piled high with ice, and with seven feet of snow on the banks. Lindstrom was killed in his bed by a landslide.

Experiment Futile.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 2.—Dr. Germain E. Nirman, 38 years old, died on Sunday, following an operation recently performed at his direction, sent to prove the theory that he advocated some time ago at a medical meeting in Washington. Dr. Nirman held that the removal of the colon would make one immune from diseases. As he was locally diseased in the colon he decided to experiment on himself to prove his theory.

Anniversary of Assassination.

Lisbon, Feb. 2.—The first anniversary of the assassination of King Carlos of Portugal and his son, Crown Prince Luiz, occurred yesterday and passed off quietly.

King Manuel, Queen Marie Amelie and a number of court dignitaries attended a memorial service in the Pantheon of St. Vincent, where the remains of King Carlos and his son lie buried.

Ministers Asked to Help.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—Secretary Caskey of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, yesterday began circularizing all the Protestant ministers throughout the Dominion with outline programs of the great missionary congress here in April.

Each minister is also asked to furnish a list of prominent laymen who will co-operate in the movement.

Judicial Inquiry.

Galt, Feb. 2.—The Town Council last night decided on a judicial investigation of the civic scandal in which Town Foreman Davidson is accused of employing men on his own farm and having their names on the board of works pay list.

Eskimo at College.

New York, Feb. 2.—Mene Wallace, the full-blooded Eskimo boy, who was brought to the United States 12 years ago by Commander Peary, was heartily cheered yesterday by a big crowd of students on the campus of Manhattan College here, when he appeared to enter the preparatory class of the institution.

Diamond-Maker Sentenced.

Paris, Feb. 2.—Henri Lemoine, the Frenchman, who claims that he could manufacture diamonds were aired in the courts of Paris last summer, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in default. Lemoine fled just before the final hearing of the case against him.

Two Hundred Burned In China.

Canton, China, Feb. 2.—At least 200 lives were lost in a fire which occurred yesterday in a fleet of flower boats. The charred bodies of 170 victims have already been recovered, but many persons are still missing.

Mexico's City Hall Destroyed.

Mexico City, Feb. 2.—Fire destroyed the City Hall, the Hotel Paeje, and two blocks of business houses and dwellings on Sunday. Loss $500,000.

Letter from a Forty-Niner.

Here is a simple, interesting and sincere letter from a rugged pioneer of '49, who braved the dangers and hardships of the overland trail to California. It should appeal to all catarrh victims.

Santa Rosa, Cal., May 5, 1908.
Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dears Sirs:—I was afflicted with catarrh and tried a number of remedies, but received no relief. I purchased an outfit of Hyomei, and before I had used the bottle I noticed a marked relief. I used it for a month or so, and thought I was cured, and and stopped using it for a year or so. Thought I was getting catarrh again, and started using it again. I use it every morning, and keep myself clear of catarrh. I consider it the best catarrh medicine that is used. I have often recommended it to my friends. I am 81 years old. I came to California in 1849, and of course am not as vigorous as I was 58 years ago. My address is 841 4th Street. Yours truly W. Mosch.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is guaranteed by W. P. J. Alexander not only for catarrh, but for grip, coughs colds, bronchitis and croup. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs only $1.00; extra bottles of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, cost but 50cents.

La Grippe Coming Again.

Europe is now in its grasp, and in a short time America will be over run with this awful epidemic. Get ready, use preventive measures. Build up a surplus of vigor by Ferrozone, and inhale Catarrhozone three times each day. Nothing destroys the grippe germ like Catarrhozone. It cures the cold, breaks up the fever, relieves the headache and destroys every vestige of catarrh and sore throat. For bronchitis, grippe and winter ills, Catarrhozone is best. Sold by all dealers 25c. and $1.00.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these falling organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once and see! Sold by all dealers.

ESTIMATES PRESENTED

If No Supplementary Estimates Are Brought In There Will Be a Reduction of Over Nineteen Millions This Year In Expenses—Decrease Shown In Immigration Outlay and Increase In Civil Services Salaries.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The main estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1910, were tabled last evening by the Minister of Customs calling for an expenditure of $110,489,774, a comparative decrease of $19,298,389. Should the Government stick to its decision to bring in no supplementary estimates this session, this would represent the net decrease in estimated expenditure. Last session supplementary estimates totaled over ten and a half millions.

Chief decrease are: In arts, agriculture and statistics, $585,500; militia, chargeable to income, $636,125; public works, chargeable to income, $8,000,000; lighthouse and coast service, $662,150; railways and canals, income, $636,125. The increases include: $1,741,180 in interest and charges on public debt and $1,874,679 in the item of civil government, which provides for the enhanced salaries of inside civil service.

For redemption of public debt the sum of $50,825,262 is asked, which takes in the "Canada reduced 4 per cent. loan, payable January, 1910, and the "4 per cent. loan of 1885, payable Jan. 1, 1910."

Under the head of immigration the decrease is $105,120. The sum of $150,000 is asked for preparing plans, etc., for the reconstruction of Quebec bridge.

Under the head of public buildings for Ontario there are the following, including revotes: Belleville armory, $15,000; Belleville, to reimburse City of Belleville re drill hall site, $2,025; Brantford drill hall improvements, $3,000; Cornwall Dominion public buildings, $20,000; Fort William public building enlargement, $11,000; Gleneoe public buildings, $26,000; Hamilton drill hall, addition, $37,000; Kincardine public building, $15,000; Kingston Military College, addition, $57,000; accommodation for stables, $15,000; Kingston Veterinary Hospital, $15,000; Leamington public building, $23,000; Markham public building, $10,000; Ottawa, buildings for testing fuel, $15,000; Owen Sound public building, $20,000; Parkhill public building, $20,000; Peterboro armory, $37,000; Renfrew public building, $16,000; Simcoe public building, $20,000.

Toronto Dominion buildings, repairs, $5,000; drill hall, additional accommodation, $25,000; meteorological observatory, $44,000; military magazine, $1,500; post office, to make good damage by fire of 1906, $25,000; Welland, public buildings, $33,000; Whitby public buildings, $28,000.

The following additional expenditures are asked for public works in Ontario: Burlington channel piers, reconstruction, $50,000; Cobourg, extension of breakwater, $60,000; Goderich harbor, repairs to piers, $5,350; harbors, rivers and bridges, general repairs and improvements, $25,000; Little Current, improvement of northern channel, $28,000; renewal bank protection works at Chatham, $7,100; Montreal river, improvements above Latchford, $25,000; Pelee Islands, western wharf, $5,500; Port Stanley, harbor improvements, $45,000; River St. Lawrence, improvement to channel between Kingston and Brockville, $75,000; Rideau harbor, improvements, $25,000; Sault Ste. Marie, dredging, $55,000; Southampton, extension of dock, $6,000; Toronto harbor, improvements, $375,000.

Under the head of customs salaries and contingent expenses in several parts, including pay for overtime of officers, the additional sum of $95,000 is asked. City postoffice salaries are increased: $18,000 in Ottawa, $53,000 in Toronto, $5,389 in Hamilton, $1,135 in Brantford, $4,800 in London, $3,420 in St. Thomas, $13,533 in Winnipeg, and $11,408 in Vancouver.

There is a big reduction on Intercolonial Railway, the item of $1,793,830, looking after capital expenditures, comparing with $4,502,240 last year.

There is a reduction of $40,000 in the item of Industries of Kingston Penitentiary.

Tweny millions are provided for surveys and construction of the National Transcontinental Railway in place of thirty millions last year, while for the Hudson Bay Railway $65,000 is provided.

Canals get $1,720,300, of which the following items are for the Welland, chargeable to capital: Electric lighting and power plant, $8,000; to widen canal near Welland, $40,000; Port Colborne, improvements, $65,000; surveys, $10,000; dock, south of Welland, $40,000; siding to Port Colborne elevator, $21,000. Chargeable to income the following sums are included: To renew entrance piers, Port Maitland, $65,000; stone protection to banks, $10,000; heavy repairs, $10,000; to renew foundations of junction lock, $8,000; to build new steel gate lifter, $12,000; to renew bridge over raceway, lock No. 2, old canal, $1,500; to renew three feeder bridges, $3,000.

Most of the items for civil government passed last night when the estimates were taken up.

In seven minutes the House disposed of Mr. Lancaster's level crossings bill by putting it through all the stages as in the same form as it was last year, and it now goes back to the Senate, perhaps to be inhumanly slaughtered again.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier readily accepted R. L. Borden's suggestion that a select standing committee on natural resources be appointed. Mr. Borden asserted that development and conservation might well be the watchwords of the representatives of the people in Parliament, yet any stimulus to public interest had come almost together from the outside. Mr. Borden suggested that a sub-committee might be appointed to deal with the fisheries, resources and interests. Germany had greatly increased its forest wealth by turning the rough hill districts into timber lands, and he quoted a statement that the spruce forests of Nova Scotia are reproducing more rapidly than any other timber in the world. The water-powers should be held for the general benefits of the people, not handed over to private control. The mineral wealth of the country should also be carefully guarded. The committee could also investigate the advisability of preventing the export of pulpwood.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in favor of the principle of the resolution, but thought that as the subjects involved were various it would be better to have more than one committee, say one for fisheries, one for minerals and one for forests and waterways. It would be better to have smaller Parliamentary committees and more of them.

Mr. Borden agreed. He had only ventured to ask for one more committee, but would cheerfully accept three.

Mr. Aylesworth introduced a bill to prevent the payment or acceptance of illicit or secret commissions, explaining that there was already an act directed against persons receiving commissions from transaction while acting for the Governments or municipal bodies. The proposal goes further and makes it illegal on the part of any employe to receive commissions in considerations of favors to be given at the expense of the employe.

Dr. Barr introduced his bill to facilitate the crossing of railway tracks by telephone, telegraph or electric wires or water mains. It provides that the person or company requiring to cross the track may proceed with the work if no action is taken by the railway company within 15 days.

Too Much Brandy In Chocolate.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Dr. Milton Hersey yesterday morning submitted to the court his report of the analysis of the brandy chocolates which were seized by detectives in a big raid on local confectionery establishments, made last week. Dr. Hersey stated that the liquid in the chocolates contained 6.26 pure alcohol, or 20 per cent. of brandy. The percentage of alcohol in the whole candy was about 7. The chocolates were about half the strength of ordinary brandy, and he considered them intoxicating.

British Steamer a Total Wreck.

Melbourne, Feb. 2.—The British steamer Clan Ranald is a total wreck near Edithburg, and the captain and 4[illegible] of the crew, most of whom were Asiatics, were drowned. The vessel was seen drifting ashore on Sunday night, but sank before boats could reach her. Eighteen members of the crew were picked up. The Clan Ranald was struck by a heavy sea on Saturday afternoon and rendered unmanageable. Then being driven ashore she turned turtle.

Level Crossing Accident.

Chatham, Feb. 2.—About noon yesterday a horse attached to a dray loaded with coal was crossing the tracks at William street when the wheel of the wagon became caught in a frog. A freight was approaching and struck the wagon, completely demolishing it. The horse was carried down the track 35 feet, but did not receive even a scratch.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Feb. 1.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Jan. 30 were 2272 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 3066 hogs and 300 calves. The supply for local consumption this morning consisted of 1300 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 200 calves.

The condition of the market was much the same as that of a week ago for cattle, prices being steady, in spite of the fact that supplies were larger, and the quality of the stock not quite so good. A feature of the trade was the demand for export account, and quite a few of the best steers, cows and bulls were bought by some western shippers. The local and outside demand was rather slow in the early part of the morning, but later it improved some, and on the whole a fair trade was done. There were really no choice stock on the market, and in consequence the top figure realized was 5¼c, but 5¼c would have been paid by some buyers if they could have obtained the quality. Cables received from Liverpool reported trade in cattle very slow, while those from Glasgow stated that trade was rather more active than a week ago.

The best steers offered here to-day sold at 5¼c; good stock at 4¾c to 5c; fair at 4¼c to 4½c; medium at 3¾c to 4c; common at 3c to 3½c, and inferior at 2c to 2½c per pound. A stronger feeling has developed in the market for lambs, and prices since this day week have advanced ¾c per pound, which is due to the continued small receipts and the good local and outside demand for the same. Sales of choice lots were made at 5c to 5¼c, and good at 5¼c to 5¾c per pound. There is no change in the condition of the market for sheep, which remains firm, under a fair demand, and sales of choice stock were made at 3¾c to 4c, and culls at 3¼c to 3½c per pound. The demand for calves was good, of which the offerings continue small, and prices rule firm at from $2 to $10 each, as to size and quality. The market for hogs is strong, and prices have scored a further advance of 15c to 25c per 100 pounds since this day week. This is attributed to the small supplies coming forward, and the continued keen demand from packers. Sales of selected lots were made at $7.40 to $7.60 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Feb. 1.—Cattle—Receipts 3000 head; active and strong to 25c higher; prime steers, $6.35 to $6.75; shipping, $5.50 to $6.25; butchers, $4.75 to $6.15; heifers, $4.25 to $6; cows, $3.50 to $5.25; bulls, $3.25 to $5.25.

Veals—Receipts, 950 head; active and 25c higher, $7 to $10.

Hogs—Receipts, 9400 head; active and 25c to 40c higher; pigs, 50c to 75c higher; heavy and mixed, $7.15 to $7.25; yorkers, $7 to $7.25; pigs, $6.50 to $6.75; roughs, $6 to $6.25; stags, $4.50 to $5; dairies, $6.75 to $7.15.

TO BRO. JOHN ADAMS AND DAUGHTER.

We, the officers and members of L.O.L., No. 1133, Hazzard's, take this opportunity of extending to you and your daughter our heartfelt sympathy in the great loss you have sustained by the removal from your home to a home in Heaven a true and loving wife and affectionate mother. When such great waves of trouble roll over us it seems very hard to see any silver lining in the dark cloud, but we know the all-wise Father knoweth best, and it has been for our good in some way though not seen now, but we do know what is our loss is her eternal gain, and we can clasp hands with fraternal hope and travel on to meet her that has gone before, and "Joyful will the meeting be." We trust that this token of our kindly interest and sympathy may be some comfort to you in your time of trouble.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge,

W. F. FARRELL.

Command Term Extended.

49th Commanding Officer is Retained for Another Year.

Militia General Orders of a few weeks ago contained the following notice from the Militia Department at Ottawa:—

49TH REGIMENT, "Hastings Rifles," — The period of tenure of command of Lieutenant-Colonel J. Roland Orr has been extended to the 30th of December 1909.

Such an item to the average reader would seem unimportant, but to officers of the volunteer force and militiamen generally it has considerable significance. The usual term of an officer commanding a Regiment in the Canadian Militia is limited to five years. Only in exceptional cases, and on the recommendation of the District Officer Commanding and then the further recommendation of the Militia Council, will the Minister of Militia grant an extension of command. Where other qualified officers are ready and waiting to take the position, the cases are rare indeed. It may therefore be taken as a decided compliment to the Hastings County Regiment, as well as to Lieut.-Col. Orr, that he has been thus favored,—an evidence that under his command the 49th has "made good" during the last five years, that the work of the Regiment at the yearly training camps, as well as the records for general efficiency, has met with the approval and approbation of the Inspecting Officers and the Militia Department.

Col. Orr is also particularly favored in the fact that he has been surrounded by a staff of officers, and non-commissioned officers, who have loyally and most enthusiastically supported him in every movement for the welfare of the Regiment, and who greet his extension of command with unanimous expressions of approval.

Have You Bronchial Catarrh?

It is easily recognized by the dry cough and hoarseness. Not difficult to cure with Catarrhozone as Mr. Xavier Babin, of River Capalin, Que., proved. "No one could suffer from bronchitis more than I did. I had a hard hacking cough that caused me great pain. My throat was hoarse, and I had great distress in my chest. Catarrhozone reached the sore spots and gave immediate relief. Since using it I have not had a single attack." Every physician who is asked about Catarrhozone says it is a sure cure,—so will you if you try it. Sold everywhere, 25c. and $1.00.

Village Councillors in Legislative Action!

February Meeting an Important One—Large Amount of Business Transacted—Officers Appointed.

One of the most important meetings of the Council for the year was held on the 1st inst. Present — Reeve Harper and Councillors Weir, Tufts, Hill and Bristol.

A number of communications were read and ordered to be fyled.

For Assessor—J. A. Chambers, Wm. Ballard, Jos. B. Burns, N. M. Maybee.

Collector—James White.

Constable—C. St. Charles.

Street Surveyor—Wm. Knox.

The Collector reported about $1400 taxes yet uncollected, and he was authorized to "gather in" the same forthwith at any cost.

A petition was received from the Social and Moral Reform League of the village, asking the Council to pass a by-law regarding drunk and disorderly persons.

Couns. Tufts gave notice that he would at the next meeting introduce a by-law along the lines of the one proposed.

On motion of Couns. Hill and Bristol, the petition was received and fyled, and the Clerk was instructed to not ty the League that the Council intended to take action in the matter.

On motion of Couns. Weir and Tufts, the following appointments of Alert Fire Co. were confirmed:

Chief—George Reid.

Fire Police—J. C. Dale, sr., R. T. Gray, Thos. Caverly, C. M. Wallbridge.

The Auditors presented their report, which, on motion of Couns. Weir and Bristol, was received, and an abstract ordered to be printed.

A number of accounts were ordered to be paid.

A by-law to appoint Village Officers, and also a Snow By-law were introduced, and on motion of Couns. Hill and Weir, received their first reading.

Council went into Committee of the Whole on By-laws, Coun. Hill in the chair.

By-law to appoint officers was read a second time, and the following insertions were made, by motion:—

By Weir and Bristol, that W. H. McBain be Clerk at a salary of $85.

By Bristol and Tufts, that R. T. Gray be Village Treasurer at salary of $40.

By Harper and Weir, that R. T. Gray be Treasurer of electric light plant at salary of $50.

Moved by Weir and Bristol, that J. A. Chambers and N. M. Maybee be Assessors at salary of $25 each.

Moved by Harper and Tufts, that Jos. Burns and Wm. Ballard be Assessors at $25 each.

The Chairman decided in favor of the latter motion.

On motion of Harper and Weir, Jas. White was appointed Tax Collector at salary of $40.

On motion of Weir and Tufts, Chas. St. Charles was appointed Constable and Truant Officer at salary of $140.

By Harper and Weir, that Frank Smith be Engineer and Collector for electric light plant at salary of $650.

By Harper and Weir, that W. Knox be Street Surveyor at $1.75 per day when employed.

By Bristol and Weir, that D. Ward be Pound-keeper.

By Harper and Weir, that James White be fireman of fire engine at $12.

By Weir and Harper, that Wm. Hill, sr., be engineer of fire engine at $15, and Frank Smith, second engineer.

By Harper and Tufts, that M. O'Riordan be bell-ringer and caretaker of hall at $65.

On motion of Bristol and Harper, the snow by-law was laid over for further consideration.

Council resumed, and on motion of Couns. Hill and Weir, the by-law to appoint officers was read a third time, passed and numbered 238.

Moved by Coun. Tufts, seconded by Coun. Bristol, that the Street Committee be a Committee to wait on the Township Council in reference to putting a sidewalk to the cemetery.—Carried.

Madoc Public Library.

The annual reports to the Department of Education have just been completed and from them the following summary has been prepared for readers of THE REVIEW, most of whom are no doubt warm friends of the Library and wish for its continued progress and prosperity. The thanks of the Library Board are due and are hereby heartily rendered, not only to its patrons who have mainly supported it by their subscriptions, but also to the municipality, which in its corporate capacity rendered us very efficient aid at a very critical time. The Board look confidently forward to a continuance of their patronage and a year of increased prosperity.

During the year the membership fees amounted to $88.70, fines etc., $11.60. The Legislative grant was $68.72 and that from the municipality $50.00, making a total of $209.00. At the beginning of the year the Board had to face a deficit of $81.45. They paid for Books $62.51, Salaries $50.00, Insurance $6.25, and other expenses such as freight, express, cartage, stationery, stamps etc., $3.60, leaving a balance on hand of $5.29. They are still holden however for the sum of $25.00 for rent, light and heat, which they hope to overtake by the end of the current month; and all receipts after that, except current running expenses, can be devoted to the purchase of new books which are much needed, 70 new volumes were added during the year, some of them very recently. The Library now contains 2033 volumes and during the year 4883 were taken out. This shows that our village has a thirst for reading and the class of books taken also shows an increasing and improved literary taste.

The value of the stock and assets of the Library is estimated at $1,708.00, and the number of subscribers last year was 127. This is rather less than the average of past years and it is to be hoped that friends of the Library will be careful to renew their subscriptions and use such influence as they have to increase the number of our patrons.

If you would have a safe yet certain cough remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's — at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite cough remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupifying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's cough remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

OBITUARY.

GUNYOU.—One of the old landmarks of this community was removed on Friday last, when death claimed as its reward Mr. John Gunyou at the advanced age of 86 years 3 months and 17 days, after an eight days' illness from kidney trouble and asthma. Deceased was born in Kingston, and some forty-three years ago moved to Bridgewater where he resided for a number of years. He was married to Amanda Babcock who predeceased him two years ago. Nine of a family survive him — five sons and four daughters: Joseph, Madoc, with whom he resided; George, Sudbury; John, Newburgh; Chas., Spokane, Wash.; David, Springbrook; (Lavina) Mrs. Wm. Laird, St. Ola; (Jane) Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, Picton: (Julia Ann) Mrs. M. Cassidy, Spokane, Wash.; and (Helen) Mrs. Sam Stevens, Springbrook. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to the Holiness Movement Church where Rev. Mr. Price conducted the services, and interment took place in Tuller's cemetery.

County Orange Lodge.

A Record Meeting Held in Madoc This Year.

The annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge of Central Hastings was held in Madoc on the 2nd inst., a report of which was crowded out of our last issue. The attendance was the largest in the history of the County Lodge—nearly 150 delegates, besides many visitors. The capacity of L.O.L. No. 160 lodge-room was taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate them.

The reports from the Primary and District Lodges was in keeping with the enthusiasm of the meeting—all showing a large increase in membership, financial standing, and general progress throughout the jurisdiction.

County Treasurer Martin reported a good surplus on hand, and the brethren at once evinced their generosity and desire to carry out the highest principles of the Order by donating a grant of $100 to the True Blue Orphanage at Picton.

It was decided not to hold a County celebration this year, but to allow the various Districts to assemble as best suited their Lodges.

The next meeting will be held in Madoc in 1910.

W. M.—Henry Wallace.
D. M.—W. H. Kells.
Chap.—Rev. E. Saunderson.
R. S.—Robt. Woods.
F. S.—Jas. White.
Treas.—W. S. Martin.
Lects.—E. A. Morrow, Jas. Morgan.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these falling organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once and see! Sold by all dealers.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS!

IMPORTANT.

We ask every subscriber of THE REVIEW this week to note the address label on his paper. The figures after his name mean the date up to which he is paid. Example, —"Feb. 07" means that he owes from February, 1907, two years. "Jan. 09," means that he is paid up to the beginning of this year only, and "Jan. 10," means that he is paid in advance for this year. We again ask every subscriber to note these figures carefully as the undersigned will be obliged to collect all arrearages according to these dates in order to settle with Mr. McKerracher, who published the paper for the past two years, and who has to be paid two dollars for each name on our list.

As the present publisher is personally responsible for this amount, we respectfully ask everyone in arrears to remit to us during the coming week.

STATISTICS IN MEDICINE

OLD REMEDIES RETAIN THEIR POPULARITY

Investigations of French Physician Show that Large Production of Synthetic Medicines is No Crowding Out the Old Favorites

A late despatch from Paris says Prof. Grasbert presented a notable paper before the Academy of Medicine on therapeutic tendencies in the last ten years, basing his figures on medicines furnished to 219 large asylums and hospitals by the State Pharmacy, he finds that the old-fashioned medicines retain their popularity.

An expert authority on being interviewed states that the tendencies of the medical profession in Canada are along exactly the same lines. He gives the following old-fashioned vegetable mixture as the safest and best treatment for all stomach and liver troubles, constipation, disorder of the kidneys and bladder, and states that many of the leading physicians use these ingredients in some form, often by some fancy and expensive name:—

Fluid Extract Cascara.....	½ oz.
Syrup Rhubarb	1 oz.
Carriana Compound	1 oz.
Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla	5 oz.

Take one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

This acts in a pleasant way, and is free from the bad effects of strong purgatives and synthetics.

We advise all our readers to cut this valuable formula out and use it. Any druggist can supply these ingredients at a small expense. You can mix them at home if you prefer.

BERLIN IN GALA DRESS

Visit of Their Majesties to Germany Will Be Splendid Affair.

Little Easement of the International Strain, However, Is Expected as Result of Trip—Wave of Militarism Grows and Every Device Is Being Used to Fill Up the Recruiting Lists.

London, Feb. 8.—Keen interest is being shown both here and in Germany in the visit of King Edward and Queen Alexandra to the Emperor and Empress.

Their Majesties started this morning, and to-morrow will find them in Berlin, where no British king has been for the past 186 years.

A large and distinguished suite, which accompany the King, and which includes the Earl of Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, as Minister in attendance, and Sir Charles Hardinge, representing the Foreign Office, emphasizes the importance attached to the visit, but those behind the scenes hardly anticipate that the present effort to ease the relations between Great Britain and Germany will be attended by much more striking success than that which followed the Emperor's visit to the British court last year.

A remarkable wave of newspaper militarism has suddenly swept over England during the past week, which delights the friends of the "larger army" and alarms the supporters of the Liberal party, who see in this only unnecessary public expenditure and incitements to war with Germany. The territorial army scheme of Mr. Haldane, Secretary for War, still lacks more than 50,000 men of the number necessary to its fulfilment.

The National Service League, of which Field Marshal Roberts and Lord Curzon are the moving spirits, have chosen the psychological moment to issue an appeal for more recruits. The newspapers, which have taken up the cry for soldiers, are using sensational devices to advertise their propaganda and to incite apathetic youths in England to enlistment. Some employers have been stirred to interest themselves in the cause, and are offering inducements to their workmen to join the territorial forces.

The matter is becoming more and more a political question of defence. The agitators proclaim that the country must have more volunteers or adopt conscription. Conscription as a possibility has come up for discussion to a greater degree than ever before. A strong faction of the Liberals are doing everything possible to suppress the heated newspaper talk, as they believe this tends more to bring on war than to strengthen the country's defence.

In all quarters Germany is pointed out as the possible enemy against which the island must prepare, and the call for soldiers and for six more Dreadnoughts, which comes on the eve of the visit of the King and Queen to Berlin, seems an unhappy coincidence, for Germany's increased naval program was launched at the time of the Emperor's last visit to England, and created much feeling here.

Would Make World Dry.

Washington, Feb. 8.—A universal "water wagon" is the proposition submitted to the House by Representative Sheppard of Texas.

He introduced a bill providing that the President shall call a world's temperance conference of all nations represented at The Hague peace conference, for th purpose of considering legislation curtailing the use of intoxicating liquors, drugs, narcotics and other "dangerous" articles, including tobacco.

According to the provisions of this bill, the President is to appoint not less than one hundred delegates from the United States, and is to request other powers to send twelve representatives each to the conference, which is to be held in Washington or "some other seaport town." The bill was referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

Sembrich's Farewell.

New York, Feb. 8.—On the same stage where she made her first appearance in opera in New York, some 25 years ago last October, Mme. Marcella Sembrich, as she is best known to a music-loving public, whose number is legion, sang and said, Saturday night, her formal farewell as an opera singer to a clientele which, to say nothing of its numbers, in its admiration and affection is of a kind that no other individual singer in the history of opera in New York has ever succeeded in attracting to her or his standard.

The real demonstration of the evening came, however, when ex-Mayor Seth Low, on behalf of the public, presented Mme. Sembrich with a string of pearls and a watch and chain set with diamonds.

Wants Canadian Eggs.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Believing that the removal of the duty on Canadian eggs would go far toward reducing the cost of the United States product. Arnold Brennan of this city has adopted an endless chain postcard system to accomplish such an end.

The primary purpose of the endless postcard system is to bring the matter forcibly to the attention of Sereno F. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee of the lower House of Congress.

Motorman's Sentence.

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 8.—One of the drivers of the electric trains on the Berlin Electric Railway which collided on Sept. 26 last, resulting in the death and injury of many people, was sentenced to twenty-one months' imprisonment.

Dissolve Italian Chamber.

Rome, Feb. 8.—The Council of Ministers has decided to propose to King Victor Emmanuel that the chamber be dissolved and that authority be left to the Premier to fix a date for a general election.

GEN. LAKE CRITICIZED.

Fighting Speech Severely Criticized by The Ottawa Free Press.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Military men and members of Parliament who spend the week-end in the capital are discussing with serious interest the editorial raking over which The Ottawa Free Press, the organ of the Government, administered to Gen. Lake in its Saturday issue, because his remarks in Toronto forecasting an ultimate conflict with the orient. The article, which is specially displayed, has the earmarks of a studied rebuke, and is not lacking in indications of having been inspired from high political sources.

At the outset The Free Press says: "Gen. Percy Lake, by his speech in Toronto on Thursday night, has, we are very much afraid, once more proved how difficult it is for an imperial officer to grasp the importance of weighing his words before uttering them. We would have thought from Gen. Lake's record that he had learned the lesson taught to his predecessors that it is the duty of an officer of the Canadian Government to keep his lips sealed upon matters of controversy in Canadian politics."

"Surely," says The Free Press, "such a speech was not only inappropriate at this time, but it was also dangerous.

"What will be thought at Tokio when the news goes there that the inspector-general of the Canadian militia urges the youth of Canada to prepare to fight for our ideals," with especial reference to the time "when Japan has pulled herself together?"

CHINESE SMUGGLING.

Big Operations Are Alleged In the Vicinity of Niagara.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 8.—Sensational developments in connection with smuggling from Canada of Chinamen into the United States are expected within a few days.

Evidence has been secured by United States detectives which discloses full details of a scheme of illegal traffic which is said to be largely carried on between this city and Fort Erie, and in which prominent residents on both sides of the border are involved.

In the case of one man, a farmer in Welland County, the evidence is said to be conclusive.

The Chinese are said to be brought here from Toronto and concealed on the farm, and later conveyed by boat to Buffalo. The magnitude of the operations was discovered when Riley and Baltz were arrested at Fort Erie.

As the men cannot be extradited for the offence it is not known what course the law will pursue, but the technicalities of the law will be exhausted to bring the men to justice.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Mrs. Thomas Godgin of London dropped dead in her home at 235 Queen's avenue, of heart failure.

A. L. F. Jarvis, secretary of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, has been gazetted as Assistant Deputy Minister of the Department.

A Hudson Bay cellar man named Walker was instantly electrocuted in the basement of a building at Fort William on Saturday afternoon.

Andrew Carnegie has donated $3,000 to repair the organ of the St. James' Church, Montreal, on the condition that the congregation raise a like amount.

A piece of brick in the rail curve caused a C.W. & L.E. electric car to jump the curve at Chatham and crash in Mr. Baby's poolroom, shattering the plate glass to fragments.

Hon. C. H. Hyman and J. C. Duffield of London have left on a trip around the world. They go to San Francisco to sail for Hong Kong, to Marseilles, to London, and thence to New York and home. They will be gone four months.

Canada and the Treaty.

London, Feb. 8.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Sunday Observer, regarding the waterways treaty, says the nominal inequality caused by the difference between American and British constituencies implies no disparagement to Canada. Nevertheless Crewe's telegram in vindication of the Colonial Office might have been more tactful if the people of the Dominion would prefer merely an apparent equality to a practical advantage, viz., privacy. Then, in this, as in everything, Canada's own view of Canada's interests must unquestionably prevail.

Lost His Way and Perished.

Lloydminster, Sask., Feb. 8.—The body of John Peterson, a Swede homesteader, who has been missing since Jan. 14, was found on Saturday, about a mile from his late residence. Deceased had lost his way going from a neighbor's to his home, one mile distant. He came here from Beaudette, Minn., last June, where it is said he has a brother.

Basket Gown Next.

Paris, Feb. 8.—The directoire gown is doomed, so say the costumiers, and by next fall a new fashion which will revive the Louis Quinze basket dress will be the mode. The scabbard gown, which is a modification of the directoire gown, is now in vogue. This is practically as form-fitting as its predecessor, but includes an overskirt which hangs to the knee.

Miners' Demands.

Indianapolis, Feb. 8.—After selecting Indianapolis for the convention next year the convention of the United Mine Workers of America adjourned. The Pennsylvania scale committee demands an eight-hour day with no reduction in pay, and the complete recognition of the miners' union. A five and ten per cent. increase in wages is also asked for.

To Go Back to China.

Bpffalo, Feb. 8.—The four Chinamen who crawled into the Breakwater the stormy morning of Nov. 12, while six of their companions were being dashed to death on the rocks and the three white smugglers were considering only their own safety, are to be sent back to China.

GERMAN PRESS POLITE

Papers Hopeful For Good as Result of Royal Visit.

Little Reference Is Made to Present Warlike Attitude of Great Britain In Comments on Trip to Berlin To-Day, But Journals Hint That King Edward's Trip Is One of Courtesy and Does Not Represent Nation.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—The visit of King Edward to-day is regarded generally in itself as an event at the present moment of the greatest political significance and with the feeling that it would be an excellent thing for both nations if the meeting of the two monarchs resulted in a mutual understanding tending to allay international tension.

King Edward is accompanied by Queen Alexandra and official circles welcome the royal visitors in the most courtly tone, regarding their coming to Berlin as a return for the Emperor's visit to England and making no comment on the political importance of the event.

The semi-official Nord-Dutsch Allegemiene Zeitung, says: "We expect the meeting to effect good in the relations between the British and German peoples. The demonstration of friendly feeling and kinship to which the visit gives rise, will be a further encouragement for all who are striving both in Germany and England, against the estrangement of the two nations, and for those who desire to lead the relations in a same direction. Assiduous efforts will, however, be necessary in order to attain the goal of enduring friendship, founded upon mutual esteem between the two great civilized nations."

The German newspapers, in many instances, are inclined to view the King's visit as a mere return courtesy, adopting the tone that the British nation is not with the King and his journey to Berlin.

Engineer Saves Lives.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 9.—One hundred lives hung in the balance for the fraction of a second on Monday night while Engineer W. Baldwin of a Santa Fe train hesitated as to whether he should follow his fireman's example and jump or stick by his engine and pilot it over the fast-settling bridge at Avenue 35 and the Arroyo Seco. The Arroyo was a raging torrent from the heavy storm, and the water had cut under the concrete piling of the bridge and it began to sag.

Had he hit the bridge at high speed, the cars and passengers would have gone into the roaring waters.

Two Bad Jail Breaks.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 9.—Seven white prisoners in the city jail sawed their way through steel bars to liberty at an early hour yesterday. They jumped from the second floor. Three were captured and bloodhounds were secured to trail the others.

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Four criminally insane men, two murderers and two burglars, having armed themselves with knives made from steel taken from the soles of their shoes, broke from the keepers at the Columbus State Hospital. Ernest Terwillinger, wife murderer, of Newark, and Frank Szar are still at large.

Hurrah For Binns.

London, Feb. 9.—To-day Jack Binns, the wireless telegraph operator on the steamship Republic, goes to Peterboro, his native city, where an official welcome from the mayor and the city council awaits him. The horses from his carriage will be removed, and, accompanied by three bands, Binns will be borne in triumph through the decorated streets to the town hall, where an illuminated address will be presented to him.

Foreman of World's Greatest.

Schenectady, N.Y., Feb. 9.—Robert Geddin Brooke, general foreman of the largest machine shop in the world, died here yesterday of paralysis, aged 60. He was born in Ireland and reared at Brantford, Ont. Mr. Brooke was identified with the General Electric Co. since Edison founded the plant here twenty-three years ago.

Big Man In the Toils.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 9.—Samuel M. McCowen of Degraff, Kas., one of the best known Indian authorities in the country, was arrested here yesterday on a federal grand jury indictment, charging him with embezzlement and misappropriation of federal funds, while superintendent of the Indian school at Chilocco, Okla., from 1904 to 1908.

Poet Found Dead.

Paris, Feb. 9.—M. Catulle-Abraham Mendes, the noted French poet, was found dead in a railway tunnel at Saint Germain yesterday.

Although he never reached the rank of Hugo, De Maupassant and Cyp, his novels and stories have been favorably compared to the work of these writers.

Eight Dead In Lodging-House Fire.

Manchester, Eng., Feb. 9.—Three workmen were suffocated to death yesterday morning in Manchester as a result of a fire in a cheap lodging-house. Fifteen of the lodgers were removed to hospitals suffering from the effects of the flames and smoke, and subsequently five of these latter died.

Eye-Opener Still Barred.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—The application of R. Edwards, editor of The Calgary Eye-Opener, to have his publication re-admitted to the mails, has, after several days' consideration, been refused by the Postmaster-General.

Hit Open Switch.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 9.—Two men were killed and sixteen others injured, in a wreck on the Illinois Central Railroad early yesterday, when the fast mail ran into an open switch.

THE OLD SAIL DRILL.

Perils the Modern Warship Men Do Not Have to Face.

One of the dangers and one of the hardest tasks of the man-of-war's man vanished out of his life when, with the supplanting of the frigate by the steam cruiser, the old time sail drill became a thing of the past. Fleets in the old days were continually exercised in making and shortening sail, shifting spars and all similar manœuvers aloft, says Captain J. W. Gambier of the British navy in his "Links In My Life." As the greatest rivalry existed among the crews as to which ship should carry out the evolution first accidents were frequent. Hardly a drill day passed without men being seriously injured.

Once during a drill in Kiel harbor, where the rivalry in the fleet was increased by the eagerness of foreign ships to compete with the English, an unfortunate French midshipman went head first from the mizzen crosstrees of the French flagship to the deck.

That numbers of accidents should take place in sail drill was not astonishing when one remembers that spars measuring perhaps seventy or eighty feet long and weighing two or three tons were whisked about with bewildering speed with nothing but men's hands and brains to guide them; hundreds of men crammed into a space of a few hundred square feet, where nothing but the most marvelous organization and discipline could avert death on deck or aloft.

To the landsman, who understood nothing of the difficulty involved in rapidly shifting these great masts and yards or in reeling and furling thousands of square feet of stiff canvas—perhaps wet or half frozen—the rapidity with which it was done was perhaps the chief wonder.

Ropes, running like lightning through blocks that were instantly too hot from friction to be touched, had to be checked to within a few inches, requiring the utmost coolness and presence of mind, while the officer in command had to superintend what to the uninitiated looked like a tangled mass of cordage, but which was in reality no more in confusion than the threads in a loom.

In an instant this officer might see something going wrong. To delay a single second meant a terrible catastrophe. Every one, alow and aloft, was relying on his judgment.

"Belay! Ease away!"

The order came in an instant. The boatswain's mates repeated it in a particular call which this life and death necessity soon taught every one to understand, the shrill whistles rising above the din of tramping feet and running ropes or the thunderous crash of the great sails in the wind. Death had been averted—or not. If not you looked up and saw some unfortunate man turning head over heels in the air. Your heart stood still. Would he catch hold of something, even if only to break his fall, or would he come battering on the deck? It was a mere toss up. If he was killed outright it generally stopped the drill for the day; if he was only seriously injured the drill went on, for this was part of the lesson that must be learned—that in peace, as in war, one must take his chances.

A Short Verse.

An Englishman named Thomas Thorp died, leaving his fortune to a poor relative on condition that a headstone, with the name of the said Thomas Thorp and a verse of poetry, be erected over the grave. Costing so much a word to chisel letters on the stone, the poor relative ordered that the poetry should be brief. Upon his refusal to approve, on account of their length, the lines the following was finally ordered and accepted:

The Gingerbread Tree.

There is a species of palm, growing to a height of from twenty-five to thirty feet, in Egypt, Arabia, Abyssinia and Nubia which produces its fruit in long clusters, each containing from 100 to 200. These fruits are of an irregular form, of a rich yellowish brown color and are beautifully polished. In upper Egypt they form part of the food of the poorer classes of inhabitants, the part eaten being the fibrous, mealy husk, which tastes almost exactly like gingerbread, whence the popular name of gingerbread tree in Egypt. Hyphoene thebaica is the botanical name of this palm.

How It Struck Him.

It was 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in a crowded Brooklyn trolley car, and above the noise arose the wails of a leather lunged baby protesting against everything. After two miles of this din the mother left with her child, when a young man in the front end of the car thus expressed his sentiments:

Gee whiz! I'm glad I'm free!
No wedding bells for me.

Women and Ships.

"But, Mr. Mainmore, why do they always call a ship 'she?'"

"Lor', miss, you wouldn't ask that of you'd ever tried to steer one."

On the Safe Side.

"In the matter of drinking," mused the philosopher with the impressionistic nose, "be sure you are right and you won't get a head."

The man to whom you owe money never rests.—Atchison Globe.

Are you a success as a bread-maker? Is your cake and pastry complimented by your friends?

If not, whose fault is it—yours or the miller's. If you are successful in other lines, your reputation as a cook is vindicated, and it is plainly the fault of the flour.

Look up the good bread and pastry makers of your acquaintance and get their flour experience.

You will find that most of them are using

A CROSS ON HIS BACK.

It Was Made With Chalk, but Was Too Heavy to Carry.

There is a story of an envious tailor current with the French peasantry. He fancied that his neighbor, who received a pension for the loss of an arm incurred while fighting for his country, was better off than himself. Both men went to pay their rent on the same day.

"That's a lucky man," said the tailor to the landlord. "He gets well paid for his arm."

"But who would be willing to part with an arm, even if he were paid for it?" said the landlord.

"I would," declared the tailor.

"You!" cried the landlord. "Why, man, you wouldn't be willing to bear anything of the sort, no matter how much you were paid for it."

"I wish some one would try me."

"Now, see here," said the landlord, who had studied human nature, "I'll tell you what—If you'll wear even so much as a chalk mark on your back the condition being that you tell no one why it is there."

"Agreed," said the tailor eagerly. "That's an easy way to pay rent."

So the chalk mark in the form of a cross was made on the back of his coat, and the delighted tailor sallied forth upon the street.

Strangers and acquaintances hailed him to tell him of the mark on his back. Jokes were made at his expense, children laughed and pointed at him, and his wife annoyed him with questions and with conjugal familiarity told him he was a fool. The usually amiable man grew surly and morose; he shunned men, women and children and frequented back streets. Before the week was up the tailor found himself embroiled in a quarrel with his best friend, his wife had threatened to leave his house, and he considered himself miserable and ill used.

Finally one night he took off his coat and rubbed out the chalk mark and said: "There! I would not wear that cross on my back another week, no, not if I could have all the money there is in Paris!"

ROBIN HOOD NOT A MYTH.

Hero of Sherwood Forest Had a Court Place Under King Edward II.

Many famous men have their names linked with Sherwood—King John, the three Edwards, Richard III., Cardinal Wolsey and Charles I.—but the hero of the place, the "genius loci," is Robin Hood.

Some think that the famous outlaw of the ballads was a myth, a mere poetic conception and a creature of the popular mind, but Mr. Hunter in his research into the person and period of Robin Hood holds that he was born between 1285 and 1295, living through the reign of the second Edward and into the early years of the third. He was of a family of some station seated near Wakefield and supported the Earl of Lancaster in his rebellion against the government. When the earl fell and his followers were proscribed Robin Hood took to the woods and supported himself by slaying the wild animals found in the forest and by levying a species of blackmail on passengers along the great road which united London and Berwick. This continued for about twenty months, from April, 1322, to December, 1323, when he fell into the king's power, who for some unknown reason not only pardoned him, but gave him a place at court. Anyhow, a man of the name of Robyn Hode was a "varlet" of the king in 1324.

Dr. Spencer T. Hall says that Robyn was created Earl of Huntington by a London ballad writer hard up for a word to rhyme to Little John. Be this as it may, Robin Hood will always be the hero of romance, and those who love romance will refuse to believe that he never existed.—London Globe.

Mansfield's Lonely Meals.

There were two meals which Mansfield always ate alone—breakfast and the light repast of broth and oysters late in the afternoon. An empty stomach attacked his nerves and set his temper on edge. In the morning he was in no convenient mood until he had the invariable coffee and bacon. After a somewhat rigid abstinence during the balance of the day and evening the fatigue of a performance edged his nerves till his midnight supper, which, with a troop of friends about him, warmed him into the sunniest humor of the day. A book or play was the companion of his solitary meals.—Paul Wilstach in Scribner's.

The Very First One.

The visitors in the historical museum gazed curiously at a small feather pillow which nestled in a glass case.

"I don't see anything unusual about that pillow," remarked one of the visitors, turning to the guide.

A Zoological Question.

The director of the zoological gardens was on his vacation. He received a note from his chief assistant, which closed thusly: "The chimpanzee seems to be pining for a companion. What shall we do until you return?"

Two Words.

"There are two words that I feel sorry for."

"And they are?"

SHRUBB IS DEFEATED

Longboat Defeats Him in Slow Marathon at New York.

English Long Distance Runner Gains Lap After Lap on Onondaga Man Until He Is a Mile Ahead at 23 1-2 Miles, But at Twenty-Fifth He Collapses — Canadian Finishes In Good Condition.

New York, Feb. 6.—Another Marathon has been run and won. The victor, Tom Longboat, well deserves the race, as he met and defeated the world's greatest ten and fifteen-mile runner, Alfred Shrubb, the English champion. The task was too much for the little fellow, and he gave up the fight at the twenty-fifth mile, fifth lap.

Shrubb jumped to the front and kept the lead until he quit. He gained lap after lap, and at one time was nearly a mile ahead of the Indian, who, at the twenty-third mile, began showing signs of distress. At the twenty-third and half mile Shrubb stopped, knelt and adjusted his shoes. Longboat gained a lap he had lost, but the English man arose and sprang after him with the speed of a deer. At this juncture Flanagan appeared at the track side with the Indian's bride. Tom smiled broadly, nodded his head and took fresh life. The little Indian squaw waved encouragement at each lap and the new life injected into the race caused Shrubb to lose heart. Shrubb began to walk in the twenty-fourth mile, and Longboat began to make lap after lap. Shrubb was done for. He was sobbing and tears streamed down his cheeks. He knew defeat was his, yet he staggered on, refusing to quit. His gait was nothing but a walk. Honors were even as the end of the race drew near. Had Shrubb had anything left it would have been anybody's race. As it was it was nothing but Longboat.

Tom Flanagan was beside the ring and working like a trojan. "I'm satisfied," said he, as he notices the distress of Shrubb. At the end of the twenty-fifth mile and fifth lap Shrubb walked into the arms of his trainer and was led from the track. Longboat continued and finished the race. He received a rousing ovation.

New York Doctor Fined at Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 6.—Dr. Thomas Snyder of Niagara Falls, New York, was fined $25 by Magistrate Fraser yesterday in this city for not being fully qualified according to Canadian law. Dr. Snyder pleaded guilty to the charge of violating the Medical Act. Though the physician has passed his examinations in Toronto and is qualified, still there are some subjects which he must yet pass. The prosecution of American physicians for practicing in Canada have occurred before very rarely.

Says Will Is a Forgery.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 6.—Since the belief expressed by Boston attorneys that the will of the late Benjamin Hadley, the Somerville hermit, found recently on a doorstep in England, disposing of property valued at $500,000, is a forgery. Charges will be brought against four persons in England for forgery and conspiracy. Hadley was believed to have died intestate. In the alleged will was a bequest to President Roosevelt of $10,000, which the President refused to accept.

Gets Ready For War.

New York, Feb. 6.—John J. Conway, a war correspondent for an English magazine, arrived yesterday on the Majestic on his way to Japan, his mission being to be one of the first on the ground when the U. S. and Japan declare war, which he thinks inevitable.

"The British public," says Mr. Conway, "regards the relations between Japan and the United States as so strained that war cannot be avoided."

On Dangerous Ground.

Sacramento, Calif., Feb. 6.—Speaker Philip A. Stanton took the floor yesterday and secured, by a strong personal appeal, unanimous consent of the Assembly to postpone further action on the Japanese school segregation until next Wednesday.

He declared he had information which he could not reveal, that proved the Assembly was treading upon dangerous ground in passing the anti-Japanese bill Thursday.

Brother Shoots Brother.

New York, Feb. 6.—A number of women employes of the Glass Novelty Co., Walker street, were thrown into a panic yesterday when Vincent Gambaro, a foreman, was probably fatally shot by his brother, Giuseppe, a designer, after he had refused a preemptory demand for $400. A third brother, Frank, succeeded in overpowering the would-be murderer.

Exporters.

Dealers report that prices for the class of exporters that are coming to the Toronto and Union Stock Yards, are too high, and that drovers must buy them at lower rates in the country or be prepared to drop some more money when they sell them. Export steers sold at $5 to $5.30 with the exception of one lot of 12 selected from five or six loads, that were sold by McDonald & Halligan at $5.65; and another lot of 11 sold by Maybee & Wilson, at $5.40. Bulls sold at $4 to $4.50, and one of prime quality reached $5, but the general run was from $4 to $4.25.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of butchers' sold at $4.85 to $5; loads of good, $4.50 to $4.85; medium, $4 to $4.40; common, $3.75 to $4; canners, $1.50 to $2.50.

Milkers and Springers.

Veal Calves.

Sheep and Lambs.

A light run of sheep and lambs sold at unchanged quotations: Export ewes, $3.75 to $4.25; rams, $3 to $3.25; lambs, $5.50 to $6.35.

Hogs.

The Messrs. Gunn and H. P. Kennedy report hog prices as follows: Selects, fed and watered, $6.75 at the market, and $6.60 to drovers at country points, for hogs, f.o.b., cars.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Feb. 6 were 1300 cattle, 315 sheep and lambs, 1060 hogs and 140 calves, and the offerings this morning were 1100 cattle 100 sheep and lambs, 1050 hogs and 90 calves. A firm feeling prevailed in the market for cattle to-day owing to the fact that the supply was smaller than a week ago by 300 head, and, as butchers were generally pretty well cleaned out of stock there was an improved demand and a more active trade was done for local account. In addition to this, there were quite a few out-of-town buyers present, and, as they all wanted a share of the stock offered, the bidding for the good to choice grades was keener than usual, as supplies of such were none too plentiful. Altho cable advices from Liverpool this morning reported trade in cattle as being slow, and noted a decline in prices of ¼c to ½c per lb., as compared with a week ago, there was a fairly good demand here for export account, and several loads were bought. Choice steers sold at 5¼c to 5¾c; good at 4¾c to 5c; fair at 4¼c to 4½c; good cows at 4c to 5c; common cows at 2½c to 3½c, and bulls at 2½c to 4½c per lb. There was no further change in the condition of the market for sheep and lambs, prices being firmly maintained on account of the continued limited supply coming forward, for which the demand is good for local consumption. Choice lots of lambs sold at 6c to 6¼c, and good at 5½c to 5¾c per lb. Good straight lots of sheep brought 3¾c to 4c, and culls 3¼c to 3½c per lb. Calves continue to be very scarce, for which there is a very good demand, and prices rule firm at from $3 to $10 each, as to size and quality. Owing to the continued small supplies of hogs coming forward, the undertone to the market remains very strong, and prices have scored a further advance of 15c to 25c per 100 lbs. On Saturday a few sales of extra choice lots were made at as high as $7.85, but the range of prices this morning was from $7.65 to $7.75 per 100 lbs. for selected lots, weighed off cars. The demand from packers was not so keen as it has been of late, owing to the fact that at the present high figures the consumption is falling off some, and they are away above export basis; consequently it would not be surprising to see a reaction in values in the near future.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Feb. 8.—Cattle—Receipts, 2650 head; fairly active and steady to 10c lower; prime steers, $6.25 to $6.50; shipping, $5.50 to $6.15; butchers', $4.75 to $5.10; heifers, $4.25 to $5.85; cows, $3.50 to $5.25; bulls, $3.25 to $5.25.

Veals—Receipts, 1250 head; active and 25c lower; $7 to $9.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 15,300 head; fairly active and steady to 5c lower; heavy and mixed, $6.70 to $6.80; yorkers, $6.50 to $6.75; pigs, $6.25 to $6.35; roughs, $5.50 to $5.90; stags, $4 to $4.75; dairies, $6.25 to $6.65.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 21,000 head; active; wethers, 10c higher; others steady; lambs, $5 to $7.75; yearlings, $6 to $6.75; wethers, $5 to $5.75; ewes, $4.50 to $5; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $5.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Cattle—Receipts, 22,000; market steady to strong; steers, $4.90 to $7; cows, $3 to $5.50; heifers, $3 to $5.75; bulls, $3.40 to $5.90; calves, $5.50 to $6.25; stockers and feeders, $3 to $5.40.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at 45,000; market steady; choice heavy shipping, $6.40 to $6.50; butchers, $6.35 to $6.50; light, mixed, $6 to $6.20; choice, light, $6.20 to $6.35; packing, $6.15 to $6.35; pigs, $5 to $6; bulk of sales, $6.25 to $6.45.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts estimated at 20,000; market steady to 10c lower; sheep, $4.25 to $5.60; lambs, $6.75 to $7.70; yearlings, $6 to $7.

The organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars.

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

THE REVIEW

No Need For Alarm.

A mild case of smallpox has developed in the neighborhood of Madoc. The disease has been contracted by two other persons, but as all precautions in the way of quarantine are being taken, and vaccination urged on those who have not already been vaccinated, it is not anticipated that the disease will spread any further. It was brought to this section of the county from some of the lumber camps of the northern townships where it is very prevalent and hard to contend with. In the township of Grimsthorpe a shanty is quarantined, which is reported to have twelve cases of the disease.

—Here is a new kind of complaint. Mr. J.S. Larke the Canadian Commissioner, says that Canadian apples sent to Australia are too large. This is a criticism that rather takes the breath away. If the names of these shippers were known in Toronto, says the News, they would not lack for orders next season.

—Quite a tempest was aroused last week by the publication in the city papers that Judge Fraleck was to be haled before Somebody to answer charges of unduly criticising the action of Provincial liquor detectives in their action before Casement, J.P., at Madoc, convicting Marmora liquor dealers of selling to a minor. It was said the charges against his Honor were sent to the Provincial Government, and forwarded to the Dominion Minister of Justice. The Judge explained the matter by saying he had simply expressed his private disapproval of the methods employed to secure a conviction—hiring a boy under 21 years of age to drink liquor, but who would appear to be much older, and so throw the liquor man off his guard. It appears the authorities took the same view of the matter, as the Judge's explanation was accepted without more ado.

—The nationality and religious leaning of the members of our Canadian House of Commons is not without interest to the readers of THE REVIEW. There are 204 members who are native born, an increase of four over the preceding Parliament. There are six members who were born in England, two who were born in Scotland, and two who were born in Ireland. There is also one who hails from South America. The Roman Catholics number 70, the Presbyterians 46, the Methodists 50, the Church of England 41, the Baptists 6, the Congregationalists 2, while one each claims relationship to the Universalists, the Lutherans, and the Farringdon Independents. But while it is interesting to know the national and religious complexion of our legislators, yet the country is not so anxious as to where a man was born, or what church he favors, as it is what kind of legislation he will turn out.

Ask Yourself the Question.

Why not use Chamberlain's Pain Balm when you have rheumatism? We feel sure that the result will be prompt and satisfactory. One application relieves the pain, and many have been permanently cured by its use. 25 and 50 cent sizes. For sale by all druggists.

—The union of all the late South Africa republics under one general Parliament is now an accomplished fact. They will have a Senate and House of Assembly, the Canadian model to be followed.

—Parliament this week passed the second reading of a bill under which compensation, not exceeding $25 in amount, will be paid for registered letters or parcels lost in transit from one point in Canada to another.

—King Edward and Queen Alexandra are visiting Germany this week, and they were warmly welcomed by the Emperor William and the people of Berlin. The visit should result in better understanding between the peoples of these two countries.

GUNTER

We have lost a great deal of our snow during the recent thaw making it look very spring-like. The appearance of a robin on Monday February 8th, and his chirruping song makes it seem quite real.

Hauling logs to the saw-mill is the present occupation of a good many of the men of this vicinity. It looks as if Mr. Sprackett will have a large cut of lumber again this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hinchliffe were visiting her aged father at B. F. Hazard's on Sunday evening.

Quarterly Service has been postponed at Cashel Church till a later date owing to smallpox of a very mild type which has visited this place causing the church and school to be closed for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Marma Haggerty were guests at Jacob Dafoe's on Sunday.

Death of Chas. Twa.

Chas. Twa of Monteagle was taken to Belleville on Thursday last to undergo an operation for appendicitis. He was accompained by Dr. Emburv. When he reached the hospital his condition was so serious that it was decided to postpone the operation for a short time, but the patient sank rapidly and died at 8 o'clock Monday morning.

The deceased, who was about thirty-four years of age, was a son of Mr. Geo. Twa, and leaves a widow and one small child to mourn his untimely demise. The remains were interred in Zion cemetery, Monteagle.—Bancroft Times.

CANDY WAS POISONED

Was Woman's Suicide Result of a Baffled Plot?

Mrs. Swinard of McArthur's Mills, Ont., Kills Herself and Act Is Attributed to Promised Investigation of Poison In Candies Found at Gate of Neighbor—Said to Have Been Jealous of the Other.

Bancroft, Ont., Feb. 8.—A very unfortunate affair, resulting in the suicide of Mrs. Swinard, heretofore one of the most highly respected residents of the little community at McArthur's Mills, is agitating the people of Mayo township and may result in an investigation by the authorities.

The deceased woman was reputed to be jealous of a neighbor, Mrs. Grant, and on Thursday last a paper bag containing candies was mysteriously left at the latter's gate. It was picked up by two men who were passing, one a brother of Mrs. Grant, Chester Hannah. The men tasted the sweets, but found them bitter, and Hannah fed three of them to a dog. A few moments later the canine was in a fit, similar to those produced by strychnine.

Hannah and his father immediately started for Bancroft, where they made a declaration before the Justice of the Peace, asking for an investigation, and leaving the balance of the candies to be forwarded to Toronto for analysis.

The following morning it was noised abroad that action was being taken, and Mrs. Swinard swallowed a dose of poison and died in a very short time.

Much sympathy is expressed for the dead woman, who was supposed to have been crazed with trouble. She was a daughter of the late William Allison, one of the first settlers in the district, and had always been highly esteemed by the community. It is said she would soon have become a mother. Coroner Dr. Leavitt of Bancroft is investigating the case.

SLEW HIS WIFE IN MERCY.

French Workman Could Not Bear to See Her Suffer.

Paris, Feb. 8.—Alphonse Baudin, a workman living in Puteaux, last week shot his wife to put an end to her intolerable suffering caused by a hopeless disease. The question has often been raised whether a man has the right to put an end to another's life in a case like this, but few men have been brave enough to try the experiment and wait for justice to decide what should be done with them afterwards.

Prof. Landousey, dean of the faculty of medicine, says of the case: "The drama is one of passion inspired by pity which had been aggravated to a point where the man lost his reason."

Toronto Boy In Search of Mother.

Rochester, Feb. 8.—Fred McMartin, aged 17, of Toronto, applied to the police on Saturday to assist him in finding his mother. The boy was born in Bay street and his parents separated when he was a year old. He was given to a family named McMartin. They died six months ago, and he has to shift for himself.

He didn't know her name, but the police located her on Saturday. She is a widow, but in good circumstances. The meeting was affecting and the boy will assume his mother's name of Hussey.

Murderer Drags Wife With Him.

New York, Feb. 8.—Hunted all night by a posse who wanted him for the murder of John Connolly, a coal dock superintendent, James Dick, an Italian, was captured late on Saturday.

Dick and his wife had been occupying a part of Connolly's house, and on Saturday night was asked for the rent, whereupon he killed Connolly with a shotgun. Dick and his wife fled and all Saturday night the hunted Italian dragged his wife through the soft marshes and across the country in efforts to escape the police.

Hot In Australia.

Sydney, Feb. 8.—A heat wave recently wept over New South Wales, the shade temperature in the country districts ranging from 105 degrees to 125 degrees. In Sydney 104 degrees were registered in the shade and in the suburbs 113 degrees. Fierce bush fires have been raging, chiefly along the Southern Railway line and in the Blue Mountains, doing great damage.

Pension For Ex-Presidents.

Washington, Feb. 8.—African hunts and magazine writing will not be necessary as the occupation of ex-Presidents of the United States if a bill introduced by Representative Volstead (Minnesota) should be enacted.

The measure provides a pension of $12,000 annually for every President after he leaves the White House.

Another Lake Line Merger.

Hamilton, Feb. 8.—It is reported here that the combined Hamilton and Turbinia steamship companies are negotiating for the purchase of the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Navigation Co., which operates the Lakeside and Garden City, as well as an electric line from St. Catharines to the Falls.

Arrests His Own Wife.

New Orleans, Feb. 8.—Patrolman Freitage arrested his own wife Saturday night when she and a neighbor engaged in a quarrel. He marched both women to the police station and preferred a charge against them of disorderly conduct.

Three Boys Drown.

Fishkill Landing, N.Y., Feb. 8.—While sledding on the ice on the Hudson river near Dutchess Junction three young boys broke through the ice and were drowned.

To the Municipal Council of the Village of Madoc.

Gentlemen,—We, your Auditors, hereby certify that we have examined the books and accounts of the Village of Madoc for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1908, and have compared the said books with the vouchers submitted and found the same to be correct as set forth in the annexed statement. All of which is respectfully submitted.

Auditors, GORDON FOOTE.
A. HILL.

LOCAL MATTERS.

—Is the Old Boys' Re-union movement to become a failure?

—Two new Assessors are on the job in Madoc village this year.

—Madoc Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, meet in the Masonic Hall this (Thursday) evening.

—We have the latest and best in the way of wedding invitation stationery at The Review office.

—The Auditors' report for Madoc village appears in another column of this issue of The Review.

—There are reported to be many cases of a mild type of small pox in the Northern parts of the county.

—Hockey stock has fallen somewhat but the boys will give a good account of themselves yet before the season is over.

—Send in your items of news to the Review office—personal or otherwise. This is the way to make your local paper interesting to everybody.

—MacGregor's department store has lately been fitted up with an outfit of new lamps, which light up brilliantly that always bright appearing business centre.

☞ Call on E. C. Tufts, licensed Auctioneer, for Hastings County.

—Reeve Harper will have his photograph in the Illustrated Standard, of Montreal, among a list of the "Heads" of the leading municipalities of Ontario.

—The I.O.O.F. are re-organizing their Degree team, in order to properly exemplify the new Ritual. This Lodge will be able to handle a few good young candidates shortly.

—A Madoc sage remarked the other day that the difference between the moon and one or two of our citizens is that the fuller the moon gets the better we like it. See!

—Two Hockey teams representing "Cobalt and "Edmonton," are practicing for a grand match on the Madoc rink at the first favorable opportunity. It promises to be very exciting.

Criticizing an Epworth League.

Smith's Falls Record: Somebody in town has evidently definite information about the attendance at the carnival in the Rink under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Methodist church. He or she has written on the bill hanging in the office these words: "God won't be there."

Some Readers' Opinions.

"The Editor" is glad occasionally to receive a few voluntary expressions of opinions like the following:—

"We look forward to the weekly arrival of the Review as a letter from home"—Chas. Comerford, Mullingar, Sask.

"Glad to see you back again at the old job"—W. C. Caverly, Bowsman River, Man.

"We are pleased to note you are in good health again and once more able to manage the One interesting North Hastings Review."—Mrs. R. M. Fitton, New York.

How to tell Her Age.

Girls of marriagable age do not like to tell how old they are, but you can find out by following the subjoined instructions the young lady doing the figuring: Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born, then to multiply it by 2, then add 5, then to multiply it by 50, then to add her age, then to subtract 365, then to add 115, then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will tell you her age and the remainder the month of her birth. Example, if the amount is 822, she is twenty-two years old and was born in the eighth month (August). Try it.

Personal Mention

Mr. George Johnson, arrived home from the west last week.

Mrs. S. L. Golding, of Bancroft, was a visitor in Madoc last week.

Mr. William Cross, barrister, left on Saturday last for a three weeks trip to Edmonton, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor, of Norwood, are spending a few weeks in Madoc with relatives.

Mrs. W. W. Hudgins, and little Miss Helen, have been spending the past week visiting friends in and around Moira.

Rev. and Mrs. Bamforth were summoned to Kingston on Monday by the news of the serious illness of the latter's father.

Mrs. Wm. Rankin, of Hermon, spent a few days in Madoc last week with her son, Willie, a student at the High School, who was ill.

Mr. James A. Caskey, of Madoc, was in attendance last week at the annual Convention of the Holstein-Freisian Association, held in Toronto.

Dr. S. T. Sproule, M. P., Grand Master of the Loyal Orange Association of British America, will open and dedicate the New Orange Hall at Queensboro on the 19th. He will deliver a public address during the evening.

Death of Mrs. Feeney.

Yesterday morning there passed away one of the old residents of Madoc township, in the person of Mrs. William Feeney, aged 76 years. Her husband died several years ago. Her maiden name was Mary Jane Thompson. The funeral service will be held at the Church of the Sacred Heart to-morrow, (Friday) morning at 9.30 o'clock.

A Good Entertainment.

The "Old Southland" Co. of colored singers gave a very pleasing entertainment in the Masonic Hall on Thursday evening last, and the Epworth League of the Methodist church did not lose any money by their venture, although they were not supported as they should have been by the public. The singing of the "darkies" was a rich musical treat, and hearty applause greeted almost every number, especially in their choruses, duets and quartettes. There was not a displeasing feature in the whole program.

80th Anniversary.

On February 1st, Mr. Wareham Tuller, now a resident of Madoc, had the pleasure of celebrating his 80th anniversary at his "old homestead," about a mile east of the village, the present residence of Mr. W. T. Harris. Few people live to see such a ripe old age and enjoy the blessings of health and activity such as possessed by Mr. Tuller. With himself and his estimable wife there gathered to celebrate the birthday a number of his relatives in this vicinity, and a pleasant reunion was spent. Mr. Tuller is still "hale and hearty," and can do his stunt of work with much younger men. The Review joins his friends in heartily wishing him many more such pleasant gatherings as the occasion just mentioned.

Good Business.

Madoc merchants who have been advertising especially extensively during the past few weeks have assured The Review that their business was largely increased as a direct result of the prominent display announcements in our columns. This is good business all round, and while helping themselves, the first consideration as a matter of course, they have also largely benfitted the town by attracting the best class of customers from outside places to do their shopping in Madoc. We commend their enterprise to the buying public, and would ask the 7000 readers of The Review weekly to consult our columns before buying, well knowing that the merchant who advertises most extensively has the goods and the reputation to back up everything he says.

New Orange Hall.

Queensboro L. O. L. No. 437, will open and dedicate their new Hall on the evening of the 19th. A rare treat will be provided in the presence of the Grand Master of British America, Dr. T. S. Sproule, M. P., an able and effective speaker. Every Orangeman in this section of the country will doubtless make an effort to be present to hear him, as well as those who are not members of the order. A dinner will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock, admission to which will be 50 cents. The new Hall, comprising private Lodge-room up-stairs and public hall down, is a credit to Queensboro and the Orange Order at that place, and we bespeak for the Lodge a record crowd at the opening on the 19th. See large bill for further particulars.

Hockey.

Madoc Defeated at Marmora.

Marmora turned the tables most decisively on our Hockey team on Monday evening, defeating our players by a score of 7 to 2. It was evidently a case of the best team winning—not that the Marmorites can play better hockey, but they are a much heavier body of men, and this tells in the game.

A large delegation of Madocers accompanied the team to Marmora to see the match, and while disappointed at the result, all enjoyed the visit, and many friendships were made.

The next game in Madoc will be on the 17th, with Stirling. This will be a record struggle, as Madoc must win it to keep on even footing.

Heart Strength.

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one Weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds, it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves — re-establish them as needed, with

NO RAILWAY SUBSIDIES

Mr. Graham Says Government Will Curtail Bonuses.

Request of Western Premiers Will Be Denied, Says Minister of Railways —That Telegram Is Again Subject of Debate—Mr. Maclean Secures Text of Council's Order Approving New Issue of C.P.R. Stock.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Hon. Mr. Graham made the announcement in the House of Commons yesterday that there will be no new railway subsidies this session.

This statement was made in reply to a question by Mr. McCarthy of Calgary as to the Government's decision in reference to the request of the Premiers of Alberta and Saskatchewan for a federal aid to further railway building in these provinces.

"It is not the Government's intention this year," said the Minister, "to add to the obligations already incurred in the way of aid to railways."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, rising to a question of privilege yesterday, said he desired to correct a statement in The Toronto News, observing that it was the first time in his 34 years of Parliamentary experience that he had taken occasion thus to correct a newspaper report. The News had said that in the House the other day he persisted in using the garbled version of Mr. Borden's "Asiatic Exclusion" telegram, although he had previously been told otherwise by Mr. Templeman.

Sir Wilfrid said he had been informed by Mr. Templeman, just after the elections, that he had written Mr. Borden about the telegram, but had received no answer. That was all. Sir Wilfrid then read a letter just received from Mr. Templeman in which the latter corroborated this, adding that he had not yet received a written reply from Mr. Borden; that one day in the club Mr. Borden spoke to him about it, his recollection being that Mr. Borden had merely told him he was awaiting further information. This, said the Premier, was proof that he didn't know the telegram was a forgery, when he quoted it in the House.

R. L. Borden observed that he had not answered Mr. Templeman's letter, but he was quite convinced that he had left the impression upon that gentleman's mind, when they spoke on the matter, that there was a mistake in the telegram.

"In fact," said Mr. Borden, "in his letter to me he expressed his own conviction that I had not sent the telegram in the terms in which it was published."

"While on this matter," added Mr. Borden, "I wish to refer to comments made in at least one Liberal journal, The Montreal Herald. For the third time I repeat in this House that I did not know anything about the altered telegram until the middle of December."

In reply to Mr. Edwards, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the question of granting lands to veterans of 1866 was now receiving the attention of the Government.

Mr. Arthurs was informed that the cost of revising the voters' lists in the disorganized townships in Parry Sound district for the last election was $751, the number of names on the list being 2,353.

The Minister of Justice informed Dr. Beaupardant that of 220 persons sentenced to death in Canada in the past 25 years, the sentences of 88 had been commuted.

Mr. Paquette was informed that during the fiscal year, 1907-8, the Government paid $140,657 in immigration bounties. The arrivals of immigrants were: From the United States, 58,312; from Great Britain and Ireland, 120,182; from France, 2,671; from Belgium, 1,214.

During the year 1,172 immigrants had been refused permission to land from steamships, and 1,507 had been deported after landing.

The militia training would be carried out as usual, Col. Hughes was informed by Sir Frederick Borden. It is not the immediate intention to supply miniature rifles for practice in rifle shooting.

R. N. Lewis introduced a bill to establish for vessels on inland waters and for coasting vessels a safety load line, compulsory from Sept. 15 to May 15 in each year. It was also to be made compulsory for a master in clearing outwards to leave with the collector of customs the names and addresses of his crew. The bill was read a first time.

When public bills and orders were reached Dr. Barr (Dufferin) was not ready to proceed with his bill to amend the Railway Act because it was not printed in French. Even Sir Wilfrid could not forbear to laugh at this point.

In compliance with a motion of W. F. Maclean (South York), Hon. G. P. Graham yesterday laid on the table the order in council approving of the increase in the capital stock of the C.P.R. from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000.

"The company represent," says the memorandum, "that looking to the general development, it is essential that they should have money to pay for the added equipment that is sure to be required in order to keep pace with the progress of the country, and they ask for approval of an increase of $50,000,000 on the authorized capital, making the authorized issue $200,000,000.

"The Minister recommends that the application of the company be granted, provided that none of such new stock be issued at less than par; and further, that no part of the capital so to be raised shall be applied to the construction of any works outside of Canada.

"The Minister further recommends that the said $50,000,000 of stock shall not be deemed capital expended in construction, and the power of the Parliament of Canada or the Governor-General in council to reduce the tolls upon the railway of the company shall in no wise be affected."

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Fred Hall, machine operator, aged 35, was killed by falling seventy feet in the Mother Lode mine at Phoenix, B.C.

Representative Jerry Howard of Nebraska has introduced in the House of Representatives a bill to segregate Japanese and Chinese laborers from American workmen.

Herbert Demers, a lineman in the employ of the Ottawa Electric Co., was electrocuted while working upon one of the company's poles opposite the Supreme Court.

William Sager, while cutting the top from a tree near Ridgeway, lost his balance and fell about 25 feet to the frozen ground, the top of the tree falling on him. He was killed instantly.

At Newark, N.J., because she had threatened him with arrest for alleged cruelty to his stepdaughter, Louis Greber, a machinist, shot and killed his wife, Pauline, and then committed suicide.

Judge McGibbon of Brampton has been appointed chairman of the conciliation board between the G.T.R.-C.N.W. Telegraph Co. and the M.C.R. operators. P. F. Mackay and J. D. O'Donoghue are the other members.

The son of an official of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary has been transferred to the Kingston Penitentiary by order of the Justice Department, the transfer being made out of deference to the father, who did not want his son under his care in the prison.

Bisley Dates.

London, Feb 9.—The National Rifle Association meeting at Bisley will be held July 6 to 24. A special prize in connection with the jubilee of the association will be added for colonial teams, for an aggregate score in the Kolapore and Mackinnon competitions.

At a meeting of the association yesterday, Lord Sheylesmore intimated that there was still a possibility of Great Britain being represented in the competition to be held in America in September. The council, he said, had originally decided that, as it was the jubilee year of the British Association and there would be an unusual attendance from the colonies at Bisley, it would not be feasible to accept the "very cordial invitation" from America, but in view of a later communication from America it had been decided to reconsider the matter, and, if possible, arrange for the representation of Great Britain.

Money Lenders In Court.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—M. J. Hatry, one of the accused money-lenders, pleaded guilty to usury in the Police Court yesterday. Sentence was deferred until the cases against the others have been heard.

A. L. Forbes could not attend, as he is in an hospital threatened with appendicitis.

Walter Hatch, also charged, cannot be located, and a new summons has been issued.

Mrs. Arabella Lahaise pleaded not guilty and was remanded until Friday, as was also Neil McKinnon. In the latter case, Gordon Henderson, his counsel, questioned the jurisdiction of Magistrate O'Keefe to try the case, but was over-ruled.

J. H. Dube pleaded not guilty, and, after evidence had been called, the case was postponed until Friday for argument.

For Aged Poor.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Ralph Smith (Nanaimo, B.C.) will move in the House of Commons for the appointment of a committee of nine members of the House "to enquire into and consider a scheme by state aid or otherwise, for making provision for the aged and deserving poor, with special regard in case of any proposals of which they may approve, to their cost and probable financial results."

Thanks to Aylesworth.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—His Excellency the Governor-General has formally tendered to Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, the thanks both of His Majesty's Government and His Majesty's ambassador at Washington for the great services which he rendered in the final negotiations respecting the reference of the fisheries dispute to The Hague tribunal.

Government Should Protect.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—At a coroner's inquest on the body of Herman Schaaf, who was killed at a level crossing here, the jury absolved the G.T.R. crew of blame for the accident, but added a recommendation that the Dominion Government compel railways to protect all dangerous crossings in cities and towns.

C.P.R.'s Big Gas Well.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Feb. 9.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has secured a great natural gas well at 2,000 feet. Developing 4,000,000 cu. ft. a day. The strike was made Jan. 13.

Cars are being equipped with reservoirs and the fuel will be utilized for heat and light on transcontinental trains.

New Conductors.

Brockville, Feb. 9.—The G.T.R. has promoted Conductors T. H. Parsley and Adam Young to the passenger service. Conductor R. McConachie takes the Belleville-Toronto local, vice Parsley, promoted, and J. Robinson, Belleville, the Belleville-Brockville local, in place of Conductor Young.

Ex-Policeman Sentenced.

Simcoe, Feb. 9.—William Wilkins, ex-policeman, appeared before Magistrate Beemer on the charge of receiving stolen goods, and was committed to jail for five months. The sentence is to date from Dec. 1, the day he was shot by ex-Chief Malone, who comes up for trial Feb. 22.

Templeman Elected.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 9.—Hon. Mr. Templeman (Lib.) was yesterday elected by acclamation in Comox-Atlin.

The Minister was defeated in the last election and Mr Sloan resigned, in this constituency to allow his getting back to Parliament.

French Senate Committee Is Again Considering Agreement.

Paris, Feb. 9.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Customs Committee of the Senate resumed consideration of the revised French-Canadian treaty yesterday. M. Viger, ex-Minister of Agriculture, and M. Trouillot, who is also an ex-Minister, reported on the latest Ministerial statements with reference to the treaty, dealing especially with the supplementary convention signed on Jan. 26, which set up a special tariff on imports of cattle from Canada. The Ministers of Foreign Affairs, Commerce and Agriculture then addressed the committee, replying to questions received through the president of the committee. M. Pichon, Foreign Minister, insisted strongly in the name of the whole Cabinet that the committee should examine the treaty as completed by the supplementary convention of Jan. 26, without delay, and should come to a prompt decision. The committee will meet again on Friday and decide as to its action according to the opinion of the members. The ratification of the treaty may be regarded as certain.

Mission Congress.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—J. Campbell White of New York, international secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and H. K. Laskey, associate secretary, will hold a conference with the officers of the Canadian Mission Congress to-day.

The officers of the coming great congress have been appointed as follows: President, S. J. Moore; vice-president, E. R. Wood; secretary, S. Casey Wood, B.A.; treasurer, John Mackay. Chairmen of committees: Publicity, James Ryrie; finance, J. M. McWhinney; program, S. J. Moore; statistics, Thomas Bradshaw; transportation, A. F. Webster; literature, A. E. Armstrong.

Two hundred "commissioners" to the congress have already sent in their names for registration to the Toronto committee.

To Bombard Animals on Warship.

Paris, Feb. 9.—The, French Government is planning to carry on interesting experiments with the disabled battleship Iona in a few months to establish certain facts concerning the durability of modern warships under the fire of shells, and also to discover how great the loss of life would be.

The animals will be placed on board the ship in compartments which will be carefully penciled, and the effect of gases which will result from explosions on these boats will be observed by means of instruments.

Invalid Fatally Burned.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Feb. 9.—Mrs. J. D. McLeod, aged 75, wife of a retired grocer, died in Prince Edward Island Hospital from burns received in a fire. She had been an invalid and bed-ridden for twelve years. The fire broke out opposite her bedroom door on the second floor of her residence, cutting off attempts at rescue by the stairway. The firemen took her out through a window, down a ladder, though she resisted desperately, not willing to leave her bed.

Mauretania's New Record.

Queenstown, Feb. 9.—The Cunard line steamer Mauretania passed Daunt's Rock lightship at 5.10 p.m. yesterday, thus establishing a record for the long route. The passage was made in four days, 20 hours and 27 minutes.

Owing to high seas, no stop was made, and all passengers were carried on to Liverpool.

The best previous record was five days and five minutes. New propellors make the difference.

For Italian Relief.

Washington, Feb. 9.—When Queen Helena of Italy three weeks ago consented to superintend the distribution of The Christian Herald fund for the relief of the mother and baby sufferers of the earthquake disaster, The Christian Herald agreed to supply a thousand dollars a day toward this object. During the three weeks it has sent $75,000, and on Monday contributed another $25,000,000 to the same object.

Ontario's London Office.

London, Feb. 9.—The newest attraction to Londoners is the Ontario Government offices at 163 Strand. A fine display of bottled fruit in the window causes many enquiries as to where such can be purchased in London. Commissioner Colcock says the enquiries by intending emigrants averaged fifty per day.

Cheese Makers Fined.

Belleville, Feb. 9.—The proprietors of the Evergreen Cheese Factory, Prince Edward, were yesterday ordered by County Judge Fralick to reimburse Hodgson Bros.' commission dealers of Montreal, for four boxes of cheese sent last summer which failed to pass inspection.

Leaving the Land.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—The results of a census of occupations, taken in December, 1907, shows that the number of persons engaged in industry and trade was increased by 1,500,000 from 1895 to 1907, while the number engaged in agriculture was decreased by 500,000.

Fought Over a Dog.

Alexandria, La., Feb. 9.—Henry and Bud Barrington, father and son, fought Robert and Charles Weatherford, brothers, last Saturday, with pistols over a dead dog, and both Barringtons were killed and Robert Weatherford was mortally wounded.

A Minister Riddled.

Houston, Miss., Feb. 9.—The body of Rev. W. T. Hudson, pastor of the Baptist Church at this place, and one of the prominent ministers in this state, was found riddled with buckshot in a pond near Houston late Monday night.

Farmer Frozen to Death.

Wawanesa, Man., Feb. 9.—G. P. Henderson, a well-known farmer, was frozen to death while walking home Saturday night, half a mile from home. It is supposed he had heart failure, contributing to his death.

What The Kidneys Do.

WHAT BOOTH'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE DOING FOR MADOC, ONT., PEOPLE.

All the blood in the body passes through the Kidneys every three minutes.

They work night and day to daily remove about 500 grains of impure matter. If they fail some part of this impure matter is left in the blood, bringing on pain in the back, headache, dizziness, irregular heart, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gravel, dropsy, deposits in the urine. Booth's Kidney Pills make the filtering right and overcome Kidney trouble. Hundreds of Hastings County residents have found this out.

Mrs. J. Naylor of Francis St., Madoc, Ont., says: "Mr. Naylor speaks very highly of Booth's Kidney Pills and has found more actual results in a short treatment than he has in all other remedies previously tried. Booth's Kidney Pills have greatly strengthened his back and relieved him to a great extent of the severe pains caused from gravel stones. The pains which were sharp and at times almost unbearable have been relieved so that they have not been at all noticeable for some time. He is stronger and better generally, has gained in weight and his appetite has greatly improved. I believe Booth's Kidney Pills which we obtained at Alexander's Pharmacy the best of all remedies and could not hesitate to recommend them."

Do You Get Bilious?

This trouble arises from torpidity of the liver. Nothing acts so nicely as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They stir up the liver, rid the system of bile, tone the stomach, give appetite and sound digestion, if you feel drowsy and bad tempered, Dr. Hamilton's Pills will help you at once,—taken at night you're well by morning. Don't be afraid of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they are mild — don't gripe or nauseate. They just cure—that's all.

CHILDREN!

Vinol is the only preparation of Cod Liver Oil that children will take and which is easily assimilated by their delicate digestive organs. It builds up firm, healthy flesh, and makes little limbs round and plump. Delicate children thrive on it and love to take it.

The body-building and strengthening properties of Cod Liver Oil — but no oil — combined with peptonate of iron, makes Vinol the ideal tonic for delicate children. It tastes good and always does good.

GROWING CHILDREN play hard and work hard. They use up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that needs replacing. Give them Vinol regularly. It keeps them healthy, builds strong bones, sound flesh and muscle and pure rich blood.

SICKLY CHILDREN cannot digest ordinary Cod Liver Oil or Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil on account of their greasy nature and nasty taste. It upsets their delicate little stomachs. Vinol contains all the medicinal value they do and tastes good besides.

DELICATE GIRLS "My 9 year old daughter was weak, pale, and had no appetite. I gave her Vinol, and she began to thrive at once. She gained rapidly in weight, color and strength." — MRS. W. H. GILMORE, Durand, Mich.

"MY TWO CHILDREN, who were puny and ailing, rapidly gained flesh and strength when I began to give them Vinol. I proved that Vinol is a splendid tonic for delicate children." — MRS. C. ALLEN, New Bedford, Mass.

The Most Interesting Daily

There are the daily Home Pages—the daily instalment of a good story—the Social and Personal columns—the illustrated daily Fashion Hints.

But the "Star's" strongest appeal to the wide-awake woman is the unusually interesting way in which it presents the news of all the world, day by day.

There is not a dry line in it—yet it is not sensational or in any way "yellow." Just good, clean, wholesome, well-written accounts of everything that is going on that's worth reading about.

Jury on Melancthon Tragedy Recommends Closer Scrutiny.

Advises Consideration of Self-Supporting Refuges — Mrs. Spanhouse's Condition Has Improved and Other Victims of Assault Will Recover—Stewart In Jail Exhibits Signs of Madness—Attacks His Guards.

Shelburne, Ont., Feb. 9.—George Ernest Stewart, the crazed perpetrator of Sunday morning's atrocities in the northern part of Melancthon Township, yesterday was committed to the county jail at Orangeville by Magistrate Rutherford, and will appear for further hearing at 1 p.m. Thursday. Chief Constable Joseph Thompson and Special Constable Jeremiah Erundige escorted him to Orangeville. They drove instead of going by train as at first intended, and wisely had him heavily manacled. In spite of this he made a break for liberty on the street, knocking the constables aside, but was stopped by a spectator.

In the cells Sunday night Stewart gave very decided signs of lunacy in most of his actions. Manacled as he was, he made a desperate attempt to assault Chief Thompson and attempted to lay out Reeve Thomas Babe by kicking at him. His chief amusement during the night was in dancing his handcuffed hands up and down between the light and the wall and watching the shadows made thereby.

It transpires that Stewart had greatly alarmed the inmates of his father's home at Maple by his sleeplessness and strange actions. This accounts for the close watch his brother William was keeping on him the night before the tragedy.

The coroner's jury yesterday returned the following verdict:

"That the said John Spanhouse and James Spanhouse came to their deaths on Sunday, Feb. 7, 1909, at their own house, in the Township of Melancthon, from the effects of wounds inflicted by a heavy club or weapon, at the hands of George Ernest Stewart, who appeared at the time he killed the said John Spanhouse and Jas. Spanhouse, to be of unsound mind.

"We strongly and unanimously recommend that a closer scrutiny be kept upon all feeble-minded people in the Province of Ontario and that proper refuges be established, where they will be as far as possible self supporting, which, we believe, can be accomplished by a careful consideration of the questions involved."

Word from Maple Valley late last night indicates that William Wilson and Mrs. Gowan, two of the people who were attacked, are getting along all right and in no danger of serious results. Mrs. Spanhouse is alive and conscious, but very weak. George Beaumont, the hired man of E. J. Pound, who was very badly used up was in somewhat better condition yesterday, though not out of danger.

John Spanhouse, Sr., and his wife have had a family of ten children: James, Jr., Shrigley, aged 44, dead; William, Badgerow, aged 40, farmer; John, Reddickville, aged 25, farmer; Mrs. W. Phillips, Collingwood; Mrs A. Moat, Toronto; Mrs. W. T. Foggett, West Toronto; Mrs. C. Huggins, Shrigley; Mrs. W. McKenzie, Reddickville; Mrs. Hiram Slantenberry, Collingwood; Mrs. W. London, Shelburne.

Will Reveal Scott's Grave.

Winnipeg, Feb. 9.—Ambrose Lepine, lieutenant and adjutant-general of Louis Riel, president of the rebel government that held possession of Fort Garry during the winter of 1869-70, says that for a consideration he will point out the spot where the body of Thomas Scott, the murdered martyr of the Red River expedition, lies. Negotiations to this effect have been under way for several weeks.

The grave of Scott, who was shot before the stone gateway near where Main street and Broadway now intersect in Winnipeg, has never been discovered by his family, friends or his brethern of the Orange order, to which he belonged.

Hears Shot Over 'Phone.

New York, Feb. 9.—Calling over the 'phone to his bride of six months, to listen to the report of the revolver shot, Alberto Beliguadil, a young Spaniard, manager of the Universal Medical Institute, yesterday attempted suicide by firing a bullet into his left side. Beliguadil's home life is said to have been a troubled one, and less than four months after their wedding he and his bride agreed to live apart.

Beliguadil, according to his brother, gave his wife a weekly allowance of $25, which she thought inadequate.

Veterinary Bitten by a Cow.

London, Feb. 9.—Dr. Stanley Shaw, a veterinary of Thamesford, was sent to Pasteur Institute, Chicago, Saturday evening, to be treated for rabies. He was bitten by a cow that is supposed to have been suffering from the disease. The cow had been bitten by a dog which had rabies.

Second Coquelin Dead.

Paris, Feb. 9.—Ernest Alexandre Honore Coquelin, French actor, died here yesterday. He was a brother of Benoit Constant Coquelin, Coquelin Aine, who died on Jan. 27 last. During the siege of Paris he gained the military medal for bravery.

Denman Thompson Ill.

West Swansey, N.H., Feb. 9.—That Denman Thompson, the aged actor, who is ill at his home here, had had a very comfortable day, was the report given out last night. Mr. Thompson is suffering from a heavy cold.

Peas Choked Infant.

London, Feb. 9.—Herbert William Jolly, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jolly, recently out from England, choked to death Sunday night by swallowing a handful of peas with which he was playing.

Woman Stole From the Dead.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—For what the magistrate characterized as a ghoulish act, Adeline Boivin, a middle-aged woman, was sentenced to four months in jail.

The evidence showed that she had stolen the rings off the fingers of the deceased wife of Nicholas Norman, and also some jewelry to the value of $20, from under the dead woman's pillow.

Exciting Times In China.

London, Feb. 2.—A special despatch to The Times from Pekin declares that since the death of the Dowager Empress, it has become increasingly evident that the Government is in the hands of the Regent and the Manchus, and that the palace is becoming a hotbed of party faction.

Indigestion Ends

MISERY FROM YOUR DISORDERED STOMACH GOES IN FIVE MINUTES.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of a case of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will occasionally take a little Diapepsin after eating.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), billiousness, heartburn, waterbrash, pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapepsin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. Each triangule will digest all the food you can eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist and start taking today and by tomorrow you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which variably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Havner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlains Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Have You Stomach Trouble.

When you wake up with headache and bad taste in the mouth, something to settle the stomach is needed. That dull, heavy feeling must be lifted and appetite must be created. Get a tumbler of water, some sugar, and then pour in a stiff dose of Nerviline. You'll feel tip top in a few minutes. Nerviline invigoratates, braces, tones puts vim and snap into your movements. You'll be fitted for a hard day's work by taking Nerviline—nothing better. Large bottle, 25c. everywhere.

The Dominion Bank

PROCEEDINGS OF

The Thirty-Eighth Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders

THE THIRTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE DOMINION BANK was held at the Banking House of the Institution, Toronto, on Wednesday, 27th January, 1909.

Among those present were noticed:

Dr. Grasett, A. MacNanton, A. Foulds, J. H. Maclaren, Andrew Semple, Dr. J. F. Foy, W. E. Booth, E. R. Osler, C. W. Band, W. Crocker, R. M. Gray, Grier, F. J. Harris (Hamilton), Wm. Glenney (Oshawa), W. C. Lee, A. R. Boswell, G. N. Reynolds, Ira Standish, H. B. Hodgins, Harlow Cumberland, H. S. Harwood, Stewart Houston, Capt. Jessopp, J. T. Small, C. Walker, Wm. Ross (Port Perry), R. J. Christie, H. Gordon Mackenzie, Col. Sir H. M. Pellatt, Wm. Mulock, Jr., W. C. Crowther, Richard Foster (Bowmanville), Geo. D. Scott, Jacob E. Pinkie, W. R. Brock, W. D. Matthews, Temple Blackwood, A. W. Austin, J. J. Dixon, Dr. Andrew Smith, L. A. Hamilton, E. F. Langley, Thos. Walmsley, Robt. Mills (Hamilton), J. C. Eaton, Jas. Matthews, A. H. Campbell, Jr., W. H. Cawthra, J. G. Ramsey, Mrs. Adamson, James Scott, Richard Brown, David Smith, C. A. Bogert, H. J. Bethune and others.

It was moved by A. W. Austin, seconded by Dr. A. Smith, that Mr. E. B. Osler do take the chair, and that Mr. C. A. Bogert do act as Secretary. Messrs. A. R. Boswell and A. H. Campbell, Jr., were appointed Scrutineers.

The Secretary read the Report of the Directors to the Shareholders, and submitted the Annual Statement of the affairs of the Bank, which is as follows:

To the Shareholders:

The Directors beg to present the following Statement of the result of the business of the Bank for the year ending 31st December, 1908:

Balance of Profit and Loss Account, 31st December, 1907		$235,140 61
Profit for the year ending 31st December, 1908, after deducting charges of management, etc., and making provision for bad and doubtful debts		148,274 75
Making a total of		$1,024,733 47
Which has been disposed of as follows:
Dividend 3 per cent., paid 1st April, 1908	$116,502 81
Dividend 3 per cent., paid 2nd July, 1908	118,161 75
Dividend 3 per cent., paid 1st October, 1908	119,365 50
Dividend 3 per cent., payable 2nd January, 1909	119,432 58
	$473,462 64
Written off Bank Premises	100,000 00
Transferred to Reserve Fund	148,274 75
		721,737 39

RESERVE FUND.

Transferred from Profit and Loss Account	148,274 75
	$4,981,731 62

At the Annual Meeting in January, 1908, your Directors in their Report to the Shareholders made reference to the unusual financial conditions then prevailing and the policy which it was considered advisable to pursue in conducting the affairs of the Bank. Since then a marked change has taken place—there has been a steady contraction in the trade of the country, and the demand for banking accommodation has been limited, although we now find an improvement in this respect, and can confidently look for a gradual expansion in business. A crop somewhat above the average was harvested, and the proceeds distributed through the country, which has tended largely to increase deposits. From the causes just mentioned the Cash Reserves of the Bank have been particularly strong for some months, and the percentage of liquid assets is exceptionally high.

In January, 1908, we took over Branches of the Sovereign Bank at Baden, Linwood, Marmora, Mount Albert, New Dundee and Pefferlaw. The Pefferlaw office was subsequently closed.

Branches have also been established at the corner of King and Wentworth Streets, Hamilton, on Upper Sherbourne Street, Toronto, and at Wawota, Sask. It is our intention to shortly erect an office at the corner of St. Clair Avenue and Vaughan Road, Toronto, where a site has recently been purchased.

Further expenditures have been made at Avenue Road Branch, Toronto, at Fort William and Windsor, Ont., at the North End Branch, Winnipeg, at Selkirk and Deloraine, Man., and at Grenfell and Regina, Sask., to an extent fully warranted by the importance of the Bank's interests at these points.

In connection with the issue of $1,000,000 of new Capital Stock in 1907, it is worthy of note that the amount subscribed for has now been paid in full.

A Special Committee of your Directors has completed the customary verification of the General Balance Sheet of the Bank as on 31st December, 1908, including the certification of our funds in the hands of Foreign Agents. They have also examined and found correct the Cash Reserves, Investments and Securities as shown on the Statement presented.

E. B. OSLER,
President.

The Report was adopted.

The thanks of the shareholders were tendered to the President, Vice-President and Directors for their services during the year, and to the General Manager and other Officers of the Bank for the efficient performance of their respective duties.

The following gentlemen were duly elected Directors for the ensuing year: Messrs. A. W. Austin, W. R. Brock, James Carruthers, R. J. Christie, J. C. Eaton, J. J. Foy, K.C., M.L.A., W. D. Matthews, A. M. Nanton and E. B. Osler, M.P.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., was elected President, and Mr. W. D. Matthews Vice-President for the ensuing term.

Two Freeze In New York.

New York, Feb. 2.—Two deaths resulted from the cold yesterday. Jas. Kelly, aged 70, was found frozen to death at Irvington, and Malcolm Meyer, 54, a hack driver, was found dead in a stable at Rockaway Beach.

Two thousand applicants for food and coffee were lined up at the Bowery Mission during the night, which was the largest number fed at that place thus far this winter.

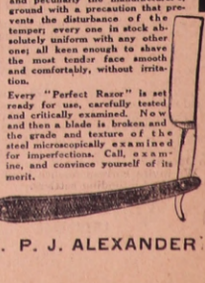

Employers to Blame.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The royal commission appointed by the Provincial Government to investigate the question of compensation to workmen injured in the course of their employment, places the responsibility for all kinds of accidents upon employers without regard to contributory negligence on the part of the workmen unless an injury has been due to wilful acts of his own.

THE "PERFECT RAZOR"

It is made of the finest grain steel; skillfully hammerhardened by hand; tempered by a process exclusively and peculiarly the manufacturer's; ground with a precaution that prevents the disturbance of the temper; every one in stock absolutely uniform with any other one; all keen enough to shave the most tender face smooth and comfortably, without irritation.

Every "Perfect Razor" is set ready for use, carefully tested and critically examined. Now and then a blade is broken and the grade and texture of the steel microscopically examined for imperfections. Call, examine, and convince yourself of its merit.

Guaranteed Dandruff Cure.

Beware of the druggist who tells you that any other hair tonic is just as good as Parisian Sage—he knows better.

W. P. J. Alexander is the agent for Parisian Sage, and he won't try to give you some-thing just as good, because he knows that Parisian Sage is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and cure all diseases of the scalp in two weeks, or money back.

He knows that Parisian Sage is highly recommended as the most pleasant and rejuvinating hair dressing known. It makes the hair fluffy and beautiful. 50c. a large bottle at W. P. J. Alexander's. He will guarantee it. Made in America only by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. and Fort Erie Ont.

Warm And Dry To Stay Well.

ADVICE OF NOTED AUTHORITY, ALSO GIVES A SIMPLE PRESCRIPTION.

Now is the time when the doctor gets busy, and the patent medicine manufacturer reaps the harvest, unless great care is taken to dress warmly and keep dry. This is the advice of an old eminent authority, who says that rheumatism and Kidney trouble weather is here, and also tells what to do in case of an attack.

Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take a teaspoon after meals and at bedtime.

Just try this simple home-made mixture at the first sign of Rheumatism or if your back aches or you feel that the kidneys are not acting just right. This is said to be a splendid kidney regulator, and almost certain remedy for all forms of Rheumatism, which is caused by uric acid in the blood, which the kidneys fail to filter out. Any one can easily prepare this at home and at small cost.

Druggists in this town and vicinity when shown the prescription, stated that they can either supply these ingredients, or, if our readers prefer, they will compound the mixture for them.

LUNATIC RUNS AMUCK

Farm Hand Kills Two and Wounds Four Near Shelburne.

George Stewart Slays John and James Spanhouse, Fatally Injures Mrs. Spanhouse and Wounds Three Others In Early Morning Frenzy of Homicidal Mania—Uses Revolver, Club and Rifle.

Shelburne, Feb. 8.—A terrible deed of blood in Shrigley, in the northern portion of Melancthon Township, 12 miles from here, was the result of an outburst of maniacal frenzy by George Ernest Stewart, a thresher of the township. Two persons were killed and four severely injured by the madman, who was armed with a revolver. The victims are:

Mrs. Spanhouse, wife of John Spanhouse, not expected to recover.

George Beaumont, hired man, recovery expected.

Mrs. Gowan, housekeeper, recovery expected.

William Wilson, farmer, struck over head.

Stewart, who is about 29 years of age, has shown signs of insanity for several years. After his murderous onslaught he returned to his father's house where the constable found him in a peaceful slumber. He offered no resistance when arrested by Constable Thompson of Shelburne.

Mrs. Mowat, 85 Marlboro avenue, Toronto, and Mrs. Foggett, 303 Dundas street, West Toronto, are daughters of Mr. Stanhouse, Sr.

Stewart had been spending the past couple of days at the home of his brother, William Stewart, whose farm is the west half of lot 28, concession 3, Township of Melancthon. He had passed a couple of sleepless nights, and Saturday night seemed specially restless. His brother William remained up with him till a late hour in an attempt to get him in a frame of mind that would induce sleep.

Finally George went to bed, but only took off his boots and socks. Noticing this, and doubtless fearing to some extent that he would attempt to go outside alone, William did not go to bed, but decided to spend the remainder of the night on a sofa, where any movement of his brother would awaken him.

About 5 o'clock yesterday morning, attired as he had laid down on the bed, with the exception that he had pulled one sock on, George went to get out. William asked him where he was going, and he said just outside. William attempted to follow him and was met by a blow from his fist that sent him flying. Again he attempted to prevent George making off, only to be met by blows that knocked him senseless.

It would appear that George had a revolver, although where he got it is not known. Armed with this and a heavy stake taken from a woodrack in his brother's yard, the crazed man made his way up the road to John Spanhouse's. The door he went to at Spanhouse's opened into the parlor, off of which was the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Spanhouse. Spanhouse, Sr., heard him at the door and got up and put on his trousers and went to investigate. Mrs. Spanhouse heard her husband open the door. Then there was shooting, and her husband's voice cried out: "Oh, I am shot." She crouched in the corner of the room at the foot of the bed. The murderer entered and attacked her.

James Spanhouse and the servant, Miss Grace Christian, who were sleeping upstairs, were aroused. The girl, crazed with fear, locked herself in her room, but the man ran downstairs into the parlor, grabbing an old military rifle on his way. As he entered the parlor it was wrested from him and the stock partly broken off and Stewart smashed his head into a pulp with the heavy wood stake. The old people were also battered by the stake.

Mrs. Spanhouse subsequently recovered consciousness sufficiently to tell her story of the affair, but is not expected to survive over to-day.

From Spanhouse's the murderer made his way towards his father's home at Maple Valley. He had discarded the heavy stake at Spanhouse's, taking in its place the old military rifle, less part of the wooden stock. Not far south of Maple Valley lives William Wilson. Wilson had just put on the fire when Stewart walked in. Stewart made some reference to the gun and then hit Mr. Wilson a crushing blow on the head with it.

Leaving the Wilson place he went across the road to E. J. Pound. Pound is away, but here he found the hired man, George Beaumont, and Mrs. Gowan, the housekeeper. Making some remark about the gun, the same as he had done at Wilson's, Stewart then attacked Beaumont, clubbing him so savagely that but slight hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mrs. Gowan attempted to escape into another part of the house and was also clubbed.

When Stewart left the house, however, she succeeded in dragging herself to the telephone and alarming W. D. Taylor, storekeeper at Maple Valley. Taylor started down the road to the rescue, met Stewart in front of the farm of his brother, Arthur Taylor. Stewart told him not to come near. Somewhat alarmed at the maniac's actions, Taylor started into his brother's place. Stewart followed to the fence, leveled the gun, and called to Taylor to throw up his hands. When Taylor called for assistance, Stewart snapped the weapon, and finding it would not explode, put off up the road again in a rage.

He was seen to go into his father's house, and here Constables Thompson and Wattam of Shelburne found him sleeping peacefully about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when they went to arrest him. He was brought to Shelburne about 6 o'clock and confined in the town jail, where, later in the evening, manacled as he was, he attempted to assault his jailer. He will be taken to the Dufferin County Jail at Orangeville to-day.

Stewart's awful work was certainly that of a madman, extending, as it did over a territory of more than three miles, and starting, as it did, with two or three nights of sleeplessness and winding up with the peaceful sleep as of a babe in his father's home after his carnival of blood and violence.

The murderer is a young man of rather heavy physique. He has been mentally unbalanced for some three years, a hereditary taint, doubtless, for two of his uncles died insane. Three years ago he got into some kind of trouble in Medicine Hat, Alberta, and was incarcerated in the barracks of the Northwest Mounted Police there. He was released on promise of his brother that he would be taken care of, and was brought to his father's home at Maple Valley.

Art Gallery Entered.

New York, Feb. 9.—Mystery surrounds the theft of "Mother and Child," a valuable painting by Antoine Emile Plassan, from the Robert L. Stuart gallery, in the Nenox branch of the New York Public Library, Fifth avenue and Seventieth street Friday.

The painting, which is a panel nine inches long and seven inches wide, was cut from its gold frame as it hung on the wall at the end of an alcove in the northeast wing of the building. In reporting the theft to the police, Wilberforce Eames, the librarian, said he believed the picture was stolen between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning Friday at a time when there was no attendant on duty in the gallery.

More Sugar For England.

London, Feb. 8.—British customs receipts from sugar rose from £4,478,700 in 1902-03 to £6,707,807 in 1907-08. With this increase in sugar there has been a large drop in excise receipts from intoxicants, from which it is deducted that many men are making up for less alcohol by increased sweets. This is particularly noticeable in the dinner and luncheon menus at restaurants and clubs and also in a new feature of London street life in the numerous vendors of chocolate and other sweet stuffs.

Bryan Hurt In Auto Accident.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 8.—While returning from Sutherland College, where he delivered a lecture Saturday evening, William J. Bryan came near losing his life. A big automobile in which he was riding threw a tire on a bridge and plunged into the trestlework, throwing the occupants out. Mr. Bryan was on the side next to that which struck the woodwork and was jammed against a rail and suffered considerable injury.

Murdered and Burned.

London, Feb. 8.—A special despatch from Santiago, Chile, says that the body of the chancellor of the German legation was recovered yesterday from the ruins of the burned legation building there. Investigation showed that the house apparently had been broken into. Medical experts declare that murder had been committed, as the official's skull was split open.

Wealthy Planter Poisoned Wife.

Union, S.C., Feb. 8.—W. T. Jones, a wealthy planter, who has been on trial here on the charge of murdering his wife by poison last July, was found guilty. A recommendation for clemency was appended to the verdict.

The jury had the case a little over 18 hours.

Militia For Coast Defence.

Sacramento, Feb. 8.—The governor has received from the War Department at Washington a request to organize sixteen militia companies to be held in reserve for coast defence, according to reliable information obtained yesterday.

Mean Swindler Sentenced.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Charged with having married and swindled fifty women of $50,000 in as many cities of the United States and Europe, Harry J. Bauman, alias Dr. Herman Brandt, was given an indeterminate prison sentence.

LEAGUE HOCKEY.

EVENT—League hockey game.

TIME—Wednesday evening.

PLACE—King Edward Rink, Madoc.

CONTESTANTS—Stirling and Madoc teams.

RESULT—6 to 4 in favor of Madoc.

The above briefly records, just as we go to press, the last scheduled League hockey game in Madoc, and refers to one of the fastest and cleanest exhibitions of this great winter sport ever seen here. The rink was crowded, and the Stirling team was accompanied by a large and most enthusiastic array of supporters. Referee Lynch, of Peterboro, gave the most absolute satisfaction.

Edmonton Overcome by Cobalt's Rushes.

Game Resulted 4-3 in Favor of "Nuggets." —Stellar Playing Throughout.

That fast aggregation known as the Edmonton Cow-punchers went down to defeat at the hands of the Cobalt "Nuggets" on Friday evening last after one of the fastest and most closely-contested games ever seen on the King Edward rink. A large aggregation of hockey enthusiats followed the band to the rink side to cheer for their favorites and were not disappointed with what they saw.

The game throughout was exceptionally clean, only about fourteen of the players being penalized. The teams were very evenly balanced,and showed good form, particularly after about forty minutes' steady play, when they wanted to form in line and leave the ice owing to lack of wind, with which they had not amply provided themselves.

It would prove a difficult task to pick out any of the players as a star. Suffice it to say that they all played gilt-edged hockey. On the Edmonton team, Robinson (a namesake of the historical Crusoe) made some exceptionally fine rushes ; Simmons—no relation of Fitz—slugged the puck to his heart's content ; West, who did his best work while shooting south, notched several of that team's goals, and Vansomeren at left wing made an excellent showing, keeping his hock to the ice like a shin-plaster pasted on a glass case. Givens at cover point received the cash like a veteran, and with his sturdy lifts deposited to his team's credit. J. Whytock at point and Barton in goal did some nice block work, slicing the "Nuggets" and bleeding them at every blow. So much for the Edmontonians. W. Whytock, who occupied right wing of the "Nuggets," looked the part of a veritable "Valentine," his face being somewhat marked. However, he was in the fight to the finish, and with the assistance of Lattimer (rover) handed out the best quality of hardware to their opponents. Charlie Whytock at centre was always on deck, when not on the fence, but he was the XXX brand when near the puck. Frank Smith on left steered through his opponents as though seated in his "Ford," and when run to the fence by the referee (which was often) he never said a thing but steered right back again. At cover point McKerracher was "pi" for the cow-punchers. Two brilliant stops were made by him because he could not get clear of the puck. Jack Robinson at point nailed everything that came his way. Hill, in goal for the Cobalters, seemed like a mountain to those who endeavored to find the nets, and his brilliant stops were highly appreciated by the spectators who kept profound silence so as not to create any excitement. After one hour and ten minute's solid play, the band opened out on a familiar strain, and the players decamped, many of them wiser but sadder men.

The following are the players :—

Four More Poor Children Rescued.

The Ontario says:—The agent for the Belleville and Hastings County Association for Dependent and Neglected Children returned on Saturday evening from North Hastings with four children. The boys aged 16 months, four years and seven years respectively ; and a little girl aged three years. They are now in the shelter with five other children, which overtaxes the accommodation, while other children are in need of our care.

The state in which the children were living can be realized by the fact that on Sunday morning, while the dinner was being prepared at the shelter, these children laid claim to the peelings which had been just taken from the potatoes and ravenously ate them before they were discovered, as if inthe habit of looking upon such as a treat.

Lest some might criticize, we wish to explain that while these children from the county are cared for by the Association, their maintenance is paid by the County of Hastings until such time as foster homes are secured for them.

Little Girl Meets with Terrible Death.

Mabel Blanche Bates, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bates, who reside in the village of Roslin, met with a horrible death on Friday last. The little one's mother had placed upon the floor a pail containing boiling water, and whilst her attention was diverted for a minute or two the little one accidentally fell into the pail and was terribly scalded about the body.

A few hours after the terrible event the child died.

Dead at 111.

Belleville, Feb. 13.—There passed away in the House of Refuge yesterday morning Julian Terrian, born in the city of Quebec 111 years ago, but who for the greater part of his life lived at Marmora village.

Up till his death he retained all his faculties. He never used glasses, was a great smoker and was a bachelor.

Mr. Haldane's scheme for an empire army is to prevent confusion should the need for joint action arise.

OBITUARY.

FEENEY.—It is with feelings of regret we record this week the demise of Mrs. William Feeney, which took place at her residence, Madoc township, last Wednesday, to the unexpressible grief of her family and a large circle of friends. The deceased lady, who had attained the age of close on seventy-six years, belonged to an old and respected family. Her husband predeceased her six years ago She was of a very generous disposition, exceedingly kind to all in trouble, who will have much reason to mourn her. A most ardent and exemplary Catholic she had the grace of a happy and peaceful death, and passed away fortified by the rites of Holy Church. On Friday her remains were conveyed to the Parish Church, Madoc, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated at half-past ten o'clock by her esteemed and beloved pastor, Rev. Father O'Riordan. The funeral was very large, as shown by the long line of sleighs extending over nearly a mile of the road, and indeed no more striking testimony of the esteem and respect in which the deceased and the members of her family were held could be given than this public demonstration of sympathy with them in their great trouble. After Mass all that was mortal of this good lady was consigned to Mother Earth in the Catholic cemetery, there to await, we trust, a glorious resurrection. The chief mourners were her sons, James, of Tweed, Fred and Charles of Madoc, her daughters, Mrs. George Cook, of Marmora, and Mrs. Adam Forrestal, of Madoc, and a number of grandchildren. Her two other living sons, William and John, are in British Columbia, and could not be present at the funeral. We extend to the bereaved family our deep sympathy in their great affliction.

According to the report of the Dominion Railway Commissioners one railway passenger out of every 2,459.-104 was killed by accident in 1907, and one out of every 91,299 was injured. The total number of passengers, employees and others killed on the railways during the year, including those killed on the tracks and in other ways, was 587. The number of passengers killed in 1908 was 64; employees, 240.

A Face.

There is a face,
Framed with a grace
Amid the silvered hair;
'Tis pure and sweet,
As though 'twere meet
To be an angel's fair.

It is so kind,
You scarce could find
Such good-will in another;
You question who?
I'll answer you—
The sweet face of a mother.

Tit For Tat.

The balances of the world are even, and the weights of the world are right. An ounce of scorn brings an ounce of anger; and a pound of meanness brings an equal proportion of contempt. Build a pair of scales for the world and be sure of one thing—men will weigh you in your own scales. It's "tit for tat" the world over.

"A baker living in a village not far from Quebec bought the butter he used from a neighboring farmer.

"One day he became suspicious that the butter was not of the right weight and for several days he weighed the butter and found that the rolls were gradually diminishing in weight, and had the farmer arrested for fraudulent dealing.

"At the trial the judge said to the farmer: 'I presume you have scales ?' 'Yes of course, your honor.' 'And weights, too, I presume ?' 'No, sir.' 'Then how do you manage to weigh the butter which you sell ?'

"'That's easily explained, your honor,' said the farmer. 'When the baker commenced buying his butter of me I thought I would get my bread of him, and it is the one-pound loaves I've been using as a weight for butter I sell. If the weight of butter is wrong he is to blame himself.'"

Weak Women
To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.
The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.
The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Covell's Joke

By WILLIAM MORRIS, JR.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

All Balmoral, with the exception of Dan Betterley and his sister, thought Colonel Covell's joke a good one. The Betterleys were excepted because the joke was on Dan and the talk across the bar of the Brindle Pup saloon was hushed on those rare occasions when Betterley favored the place with his company. At other times men slapped each other on the back and roared as Covell detailed the progress of events.

The joke had sprung from a careless remark made by Rob Henders when Julie Betterley had refused to marry Howard Wetton on the ground that she did not want to leave Ben alone to keep house in bachelor discomfort.

"Some one would do Wetton a personal favor by marrying off Ben," suggested Henders, and the rest of the crowd shouted with delight at the idea of the silent Benjamin marrying.

"But he wouldn't know how to ask a girl," suggested Colonel Covell. "Some one would have to pop the question for him. By John Rogers," he added, "I think I'll do it for him! I've a maiden aunt back east who's been crazy to get married for more years than I've lived. Her name's Adora Dedrick, and she must be about sixty now.

"She's got a little money, and she may think that he's marrying her for that, but she'll take him. We'll carry along the game until we've proposed for him, and then we'll let Ben get the answer or else we'll bring the old lady on and let him fight it out with her."

"That would be great," declared Henders approvingly. "Let her walk right up to him and put her arms around his neck and say 'Darling!' I'll bet that will scare him into talking."

"I'll be one to help pay the old lady's traveling expenses on this here excursion," broke in Denver Bill, who dealt bank. "What will it cost?"

"Say $400," suggested Covell as he took off his hat and threw in $20. In a few minutes more than the needed sum had been realized, and, calling for pens and paper, Covell wrote the first letter, while the rest of the crowd looked on.

Betterley was not disliked in Balmoral, but his taciturn ways and his refusal to make one of the crowd that nightly thronged the Brindle Pup marked him a man apart from the rest. Hence the crowd was willing to pay for the pleasure of seeing his amazement when his undesirable bride elect should appear.

Unmindful of all postal regulations, the postmaster agreed to let Covell have the letters addressed to Dan Betterley should any come from the little New England town where Miss Adora Dedrick lived. Presently it came, a heavy letter in which Miss Dedrick expressed a willingness to correspond with a man so well recommended by Cousin Covell.

"I guess she's forgotten you, Col," suggested Henders when this line was reached, but Covell merely grinned appreciatively and continued to read.

There was little to laugh at in the letter. Indeed, more than one in the crowd wished there was some one back east who would write letters like that to him, but Covell's vivid description of Miss Dedrick's overripe charms and the thought of what Dan would say when she arrived kept the joke alive during the correspondence that followed. Finally when Miss Dedrick wrote that she was sending her picture and the accompanying photograph proved to be that of a comely girl scarcely out of her teens Covell rolled on the floor in his delight.

"Cousin Adora was that old before they knew how to take pictures," he insisted. "She must have begged this of a photographer. I think that it's time to spring the joke now. We'll send her the money to come on with and ask her to start at once. Dan will see this picture, and when Cousin Adora comes I reckon he'll be some surprised."

Covell laboriously indited a lengthy letter, in which he declared Dan's inability to wait longer for his bride and begging her to come west at once.

A few days later a telegram telephoned from the railroad town to camp announced her start, and when they had learned the sense of the message the plotters allowed it to be delivered, while at the same time Miss Adora's last letter and her picture, inclosed in the original letter, were placed back in the postoffice and delivered to Dan that evening.

The Brindle Pup kept open until 4 o'clock in the morning that the earliest news might be learned, but Dan gave no sign that he was disturbed. A scout reported that his shack was in darkness.

"I don't think I'd lose sleep myself," admitted Henders with regret. "I suppose it took him rather sudden that some one's done his courting for him, but he's willing to make good for his unknown friend with the original of that photograph."

"Wait until he sees what he draws," reminded Covell. "He'll go some shy of sleep when Cousin Adora gets after him with all those letters. She'll never believe that he didn't write them."

The thought cheered the disappointed ones, and even when Dan went quietly to his claim on the morrow and did not even ask the postmaster about the letter they chuckled as they thought of the awakening that was in store for him.

Every man in the camp was on hand when the stage came over from Buxton three days later.

Far down the trail the driver waved his hat three times as a signal that the bride had arrived, and they were all lined up about the front of the hotel where they could watch Ben and his sister without being so near that he might suspect something.

There was a tense moment when the veiled figure descended from the interior of the stage, but a murmur of disappointment followed when it was seen that a heavy automobile veil was impenetrable.

Dan came forward, and the arrival turned to him. He led her up to his sister, and the three climbed into the Betterley buckboard and were off to Dan's shack before the camp fairly realized that it was being robbed of its fun.

"It's going to be curious when she takes off that there veil," said Henders, with a sigh, "but it's darned mean that we can't declare in on the deal. I sort of feel that I've been cheated."

"Same here," chimed another voice, and, though Covell urged that there still would be plenty of fun, he was decidedly unpopular for the moment.

In an effort to change the humor of the crowd he invited them over to the Brindle Pup, and they were still having drinks at his expense when Dan Betterley strode in and drew Covell to one side.

"Look here," he said quietly, but with a ring of determination in his voice, "Dora has been asking for 'Cousin Covell,' and I suppose that means you. If it does, you are at the bottom of this trick. I want to know what it all means."

"It was a sort of joke," explained Covell, who did not appear to be greatly enjoying the "joke." "Some of the boys thought that you ought to be married, so's Julie could marry Howard Wetton, and I remembered that I had a Cousin Adora back east who's been wanting to be married for the last fifty years, so I thought I'd make the whole lot of you happy and"—

"And you did the writing," concluded Dan. "From what Dora says I gather that there were a number of letters I never saw. I want them."

From the saloon safe Covell extracted the package of letters and silently turned them over to Betterley.

"I suppose you know what the punishment is for illegal use of the mails?" he asked, raising his voice. "The first hint from any one that reaches my wife's ears to the effect that she was the victim of a rotten practical joke will bring a postal inspector here who will see that you get what's coming to you!"

"Your wife!" gasped Covell. "You don't mean to say that you're going to marry that mummy!"

"Doesn't the fact that you are still alive argue that?" asked Betterley. "The joke appears to be on you, Covell. I fell in love with her photograph just as Dora did with mine, and I was well content to make the match you so amiably planned."

"She looks like that photograph?" asked Covell gaspingly.

"It doesn't half do her justice," declared Betterley fondly. "The Adora Dedrick that you have been corresponding with became Mrs. Henry Sprague some ten years ago. This Adora is her niece, her brother's child, named after her. She was the only Miss Adora Dedrick, and she received the letters. She wants to see her cousin, and if you dare hint anything when you come up I'll"—

"You won't have to," said Covell humbly. "I've acted like a hound puppy, Dan. You needn't be afraid. I'm only too glad the joke's been switched."

"Same here," said Betterley, more contentedly. "You fellows come up tonight. There's going to be a double wedding, for now Julia can marry Wetton. You're a pretty good joker, colonel!"

"I ain't no joker," declared Covell, with more emphasis than grammar. "I'm one of them pretty pink Cupids that they have on valentines—and I'm rather good at the job too."

The Poverty Ridden.

Was there ever a more heartbreaking problem than that of being poor and yet looking prosperous? Far better were a diet of potatoes and cabbage soup and a pair of leather breeches of the vintage of 1858. And that is one great reason why the country—be it in Galway or Cattaraugus or Posey county—is a better place to be poor in than the city. A man is a man there, even if blue drilling jumpers are his best.

Barring a condition of actual, gripping want—from which may God save all who were made in his image—there are no people in the world so fortunate as those who have made up their mind to be poor and happy together. Nor is there anywhere a man so cursed as he who can no longer live in the simple society in which he was born and yet yearns for it.—New York Mail.

The Beginning and the End.

The beginning is three or four weeks previous to election. Two aldermen get to talking politics over their beer, and one finally says:

"Well, Jim, I think I know the sentiment of the people, and I'm willing to bet my candidate will be elected."

"He doesn't stand an earthly show."

"Money talks."

"How much will you put up?"

"Five dollars."

"Done."

And two or three days after the election the daily paper informs its readers:

"Among those who had a clear insight into the temper of the electors throughout the country is Alderman Thomas, who backed his acumen with his money and is a winner to the extent of $30,000."—Baltimore American.

TIRING OUT THE STAG

A "Deer Take" In England's Oldest Deer Park.

HOUNDED UNTIL HE GASPS.

The Game Animal Is Mercilessly Driven Hither and Yon, Through Lake and Wood, Until He Falls Exhausted, Though Undaunted.

Parts of certain great parks in England, such as Eridge park, the oldest deer park in the kingdom, are kept practically wild in their original forest state, while near to the castle is the cultivated home park. Eridge park contains 3,000 acres and is the only estate in England, with one exception, where deer taking with hounds is still carried on. Eridge park once formed part of the royal chase. It still retains the wild beauty it then had, although there are more than seventy miles of lovely drives in it, not counting those of the home park.

Deer taking is entirely different from deer hunting. The object is to take the animals alive so that they may be transferred to the home park to be fattened and eventually turned into venison.

The sport is by no means as tame as it sounds. A seven to nine year old red deer is an awkward customer to tackle. He is powerful, agile and well armed with antlers and hoofs.

When there is to be a deer taking at Eridge park the meet is planned for 11 o'clock at the park keeper's house. The underkeepers, with fresh hounds, are scattered through the park to head off the stag should he come their way.

The underkeepers having spread themselves over the park, the park keeper, with the "field" (those following mounted and on foot) set off to find a deer which looks ready for fattening purposes. Having selected one, it is the work of the keeper to get him separated from the rest and then to slip his hound and set after him as hard as we can gallop. The pace, of course, is tremendous, and as rabbit holes abound the risk of a fall is even betting or, rather, a trifle of odds on the certainty of our "taking a toss." As our deer bounds away with his wonderfully easy, elastic movements he makes for the wildest part of the park, expecting to escape his pursuers.

In one place after another he is met with hidden keepers and fresh hounds, till with the instinct of his species he turns to what he thinks is his sanctuary—the lakes. With open mouth and tongue outhanging he plunges a good fifteen feet into the water and swims for the opposite bank. Gasping and tiring, he lands on what he hopes is freedom from his pursuers. But, alas, no! Yet another fresh hound is after him. What can he do? He is too pumped with his already hard burst to face the hill before him.

He turns around and tears down through the bracken with a hound on each side of him, ready to pull him down if they get but half a chance. It is a dingdong race, under trees, through bogs and bracken, up and down dells and breaks, smashing headlong through everything, anything, to reach the shelter of the friendly water once again. With a mighty spring he is in again. For a moment there is breathing space, for now the keepers and hounds, yet some way off, are making for the poor beast, which is in the middle of the lake. Away he swims with graceful movement of his noble head, glancing all around at his pursuers, but with his mind fixed on his line of retreat. He reaches the shore, and, with dripping sides, he is out upon the bank.

Again he makes an effort to baffle and leave behind those clinging hounds that would bear him down. And now two great hounds are stretching themselves out to their utmost pace. Side by side they race after their tiring quarry; in another minute they will have him. The stag, however, manages to make a spurt, though he is now stiffening rapidly, and just reaches some park palings surrounding the big lake.

In an instant he has turned on his pursuers, and with head down and upraised fore leg he is prepared to fight to the death. A hound rushes in, but in a twinkling he is on his back, hurled away like a piece of wood. This checks the other hound, which dodges and bays around the stag. Seeing that things are now getting a bit too warm for him, the stag suddenly turns round and, smashing the palings like match wood, finds himself again in the icy water of the big lake. Away and away he swims, up this long stretch, the water seeming to revive him, for he swims the eastern length, three-quarters of a mile, and then lands at the far end while we follow on the shore. He swims till his feet touch the ground and stands facing us.

All we can do now is to end the situation as speedily as possible. A keeper deftly throws a rope with a loose knot over the stag's antlers. In a moment four burly keepers are hauling him out by the ropes. It is now a slow march to his feeding ground in the home park. Slowly the procession moves, never a slackening of the rope or the hold on the antlers. Through the gate dividing the parks he is brought, an unwilling prisoner, though undaunted. This ends the deer taking.—Town and Country.

Does no Harm, But Much Good.

RECIPE EASILY PREPARED AT SMALL COST, AND MANY SWEAR BY IT.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggist.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming backache, bladder weakness and urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should try mixing this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

Worth its weight in gold.

MI-O-NA HAS REACHED A GOLD STANDARD, SAYS HARRY ELLIS OF FERGUS, FOR STOMACH TROUBLE.

Harry Ellis of Fergus, Ont., says: "I believe that Mi-o-na for the cure of stomach trouble, is worth its weight in gold. It cures me from a stomach difficulty that seemed to puzzle all other prescriptions and remedies. I was unable to eat, the food would ferment and form gas and make a serious pressure on my heart. There were terrible pains in the pit of my stomach. I became weak, drousy, discouraged and later I got nervous and could not sleep or rest. This disease makes one feel like not wanting to see any human being and produces melancholy and forebodings. I was told to try Mi-o-na, and when I commenced on the first box I had hardly any faith in it, but the first two days' treatment made the pain in my stomach cease, and to make a long story short, the upshot of my using Mi-o-na was that it cured me wholly, and I now can eat what I like and when I am hungry. I am an ardent advocate of the use of Mi-o-na."

The Old Egg.

"New York is no longer young and unsophisticated," said a man who has visited all the old world capitals. "She has now all the weariness and vice of Paris, London and Rome. They who still speak of New York as young, childish, innocent, remind me of Lord Exe of the Carlton.

"Lord Exe, at seventy, tried to lead the life of a youth of twenty-five. He dyed his hair, wore a corset and frequented the music halls, Piccadilly circus and the Burlington arcade. One afternoon as he drove from the Carlton in his brougham a member said, smiling:

"'There goes Exe. He told me over a whisky and soda just now that he felt as fresh as a two-year-old.'

"Another member sneered.

"'He probably meant a two-year-old egg,' he murmured."

Hugo and Merimee.

It is probable that with the exception of Byron no great literary genius ever was greeted with such a storm of vilification and abuse as Victor Hugo when he published "Les Miserables." While the book took the public literally off their feet, almost all Hugo's rivals united in condemning it and its author.

Prosper Merimee wrote in reference to a dinner given to Hugo at Brussels:

"Have you read Victor Hugo's speech at the dinner given to him by Belgian librarians and other scoundrels of Brussels? His statements were without depth, solidity or common sense. He is a man who intoxicates himself with words and does not take the trouble to think."

UPSET FROM CUTTER.

Two Men Are Thrown Into Snow Bank and One Suffocated.

Brockville, Feb. 15.—A fatality occurred yesterday in the Township of Kitley near Jasper. The victim was Michael O'Connell, aged 61, a prosperous farmer of that township.

He spent the evening in Jasper, leaving for home about 10 o'clock in the company of Henry Roswell. They were driving a single horse attached to a cutter and it is thought the horse shied, upsetting the cutter. Both men were thrown out, O'Connell being pushed face downwards into the snow, which at that point is quite deep, and the other man was lying on top of him. This is the supposition, for when Wm. Ferguson, a young man returning home from a party, discovered the mishap, such were the positions of the bodies. The horse was found lying in the ditch uninjured.

It was found that Roswell was asleep and O'Connell was dead. An examination of the body by Dr. Anderson, coroner of the district, showed that O'Connell had died of suffocation. There was no evidence of foul play and an inquest was deemed unnecessary. In the pockets of the deceased was found $41 in cash, a gold watch and a revolver. He lived alone and owned one of the best farms in Kitley.

A New Deep Channel.

Washington, Feb. 15.—A deep water channel from Chicago to Buffalo via the Soo, is in contemplation. In a few days a measure will be introduced in Congress providing, in brief, for the complete survey and perhaps for the construction of such a waterway.

Behind the project are practically all of the shipping, manufacturing and laboring interests on the great lakes.

Contracts already have been let for the construction of a lock at the "Soo," which will accommodate three of the largest vessels on the lakes at one time. The depth of water over the sills of the new lock will be 26 feet and the cost of the project will be approximately $7,000,000.

Hon. Mr. Templeman Busy.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 15.—Hon. Wm. Templeman, who returned yesterday from Prince Rupert, declared that public improvements in the north would be taken up without delay.

After obtaining the views of Canadians in the fishing industry, he stated that he was quite alive to the necessity of a more adequate fisheries protection in northern waters. He promised his hearty support to any scheme tending to make Vancouver one of the best and safest ports on the Pacific, and urges the sending of a deputation to Ottawa. He advocates the establishment of harbor commission.

'Quakes to Continue Two Years.

Reggio, Feb. 15.—Earth shocks, more or less severe, have been experienced here throughout the day.

Saturday evening Prof. Alfani, the director of the Florence observatory, while just about to step into a train for Naples was thrown violently to the ground by what seemed to be an unusually severe shock. Peasants rushed to assist him to his feet and they anxiously enquired concerning the dangers of further earthquakes, and he replied:

"Be calm, my children, that was a 'quake of the fifth degree. You must not be frightened by these shocks, for we will have them for two years more."

Censor For Phonographs.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 15.—The censorship in Russia has been extended to phonograph records, which must be submitted for examination before being placed on sale.

The step was entailed by the importation of a large number of records bearing the prohibited Russian revolutionary funeral hymn and other seditious songs and speeches, many being prepared in America. These, the police discovered, were being plaeyd generally in the lower class beer and tea halls, most of which have instruments for the entertainment of their patrons.

Another 'Quake In Italy.

Messina, Feb. 15.—A severe earth shock, lasting six seconds, was felt here Saturday morning. It was preceded by loud subterranean roaring, causing the people to flee from their huts and houses. The panic was accentuated by falling walls of previously wrecked houses.

The shock was felt throughout eastern Sicily and along the northern coast, including Palermo.

Undertaker Spoils Suicide.

The undertaker received a note from Stevenson to call for the body, and when he reached the apartment the salesman was found unconscious lying in bed with a gas tube in his mouth. Stevenson was taken to the hospital, where it was said he may recover.

A Vice-President's Suicide.

Paris, Feb. 15.—Confirmation has been obtained of the death of Dr. Luis De Estevez, one time vice-president of Cuba, which occurred here a week ago and was self-inflicted.

Dr. Estevez never recovered from the shock caused by the death of his wife, to whom he was passionately devoted.

In Icy Waters Three Hours.

New York, Feb. 15.—Three stewards of the steamship Kron Prinzessin Cecilie were arrested and locked up yesterday at Hoboken and more than $2,000 worth of opium and cocaine were seized and put in the custom house vaults.

TRINITY BACKS THORNLOE.

He Is Candidate of Old College For Vacant Bishopric.

Toronto, Feb. 16.—The episcopal election which will commence tomorrow for a successor to the late Archbishop Sweatman as bishop of Toronto, may be a prolonged contest, as the Trinity men are now making an open campaign for the appointment of Bishop Thornloe, and it is said are prepared to force a deadlock rather than permit a Wycliffe man to receive the position.

Should the wave which appears to be rapidly rising to a commanding height threaten to swallow up the Thornloe boom, the Trinity men may attempt to avert annihilation by utilizing the well-earned popularity of Rev. Canon Welch. But the rector of St. James' Cathedral is noted for the firm adherence which he maintains to carefully consider decisions. Had he been available, he would have undoubtedly been Trinity's first choice.

Provost Macklem's circular to the Trinity graduates says:

"Among the qualifications which make Bishop Thornloe so well fitted for the important work to which he may shortly be called by the Holy Spirit, are his Canadian education and varied Canadian experiences, his fair mindedness and sense of justice, which accords sympathetic and kindly treatment to high, low and broad alike, his personal characteristics of devotion and self-sacrifice, coupled with the vision of a prophet and the strength of a disciplined worker. To this may be added his long experience in country work; he knows country conditions through and through, and his sympathies are with the church in the country parts.

M'CARTHY UNDECIDED.

Does Not Know Whether He Will Lead Alberta Conservatives.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—M. S. McCarthy, M.P., who has been tendered the leadership of the Conservative party in Alberta, has not yet decided as to whether or not he will accept.

It is pointed out that there is a legal objection in the way, inasmuch as a member cannot resign from the Dominion House while there is a protest against his election, such as there happens to be in his case.

The Calgary Conservatives platform, adopted Saturday, includes: Government ownership of railways, but in the meantime guarantee of bonds for roads urgently needed with control of the rates and option of purchase; liquor laws—a plebiscite, and if 60 per cent. vote yes, then the party is pledged to prohibition; the initiative, referendum and recall; resolution condemning the five-year term of the Legislature; policy of reforestration; management of telephone system by commission outside of political control, the farmer to have free connection with market town; cooperative meat packing establishments; loans to settlers and workers with a view to close settlement along lines in vogue in Australia and New Zealand; construction of national highways between important points; Government construction of elevators; condemnation of the autonomy bill.

Schooners End Race.

Boston, Feb. 16.—A race of fifteen thousand miles between two schooners, which began in Nova Scotia June 14, ended yesterday in Boston, when both made port, one about six hours ahead of the other. The winner is the B. F. Poole. The other schooner is the A. M. Davenport. The Poole reached Boston at 10 o'clock a.m.

The two vessels left Halifax at the same hour, both bound for Rio de Janeiro, with orders to touch West Indian ports on the way back. The boats were built twenty years ago, and both were wrecked on the first trip out. There has been all sorts of rivalry between them ever since, which culminated in the long distance race.

To Preach Own Funeral Service.

New York, Feb. 16.—A special from Fairfield, Ill., says:

Rev. Daniel Bassett Leach, an aged clergyman of Bane Gap, was told on Sunday that he was going to die. He asked that his graphophone be brought to his bedside. Into the machine the venerable pastor talked. Beside an address he spoke some prayers and a benediction.

When Mr. Leach had finished he had the records repeated. Then he asked that they be used at his funeral.

Vinol Cures Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.

AFTER OTHER REMEDIES FAIL.

"I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottes, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 733-8th Avenue, Minnapolis, Minn.

S. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St., St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis.

Vinol is sold in Madoc by W. P. J. Alexander, druggist.

Mrs. Elizabeth Courchesne, of Montreal, died of fright when a stone was hurled through the window of her house.

It is reported at Montreal that the C.P.R. will build the Peterboro-Coldwater branch during the coming summer.

Threatening feverishness with children is quickly and safely calmed by Preventics. These little Candy Cold Cure Tablets should always be at hand—for promptness is all-important. Preventics contain no quinine, nothing harsh or sickening. They are indeed, "the stitch in time." Carried in pocket, or purse. Preventics are a genuine safeguard against colds. 25c. Sold by all dealers.

Get the Best

A HAND FORGED RAZOR is becoming an art of the past. The present method of manufacturing razors and the desire to compete in prices, has compelled the manufacturer to forge, grind, polish and hone by machine, a method whereby the cost is greatly reduced at the expense of efficiency.

A perfect razor is the creation of skilled labor of the highest class. From forge to finish, through twenty operations, none but practical workmen put a hand to it. If the steel is not just right, or if the work is neglected in any stage of the manufacture, the faults will be many and annoyingly manifest. No amount of after honing can put a perfect, keen, smooth cutlery edge on an imperfectly made razor—yet nothing is easier than taking care of a good blade.

The best razor is as perfect as human skill can produce. It is made of the finest grain steel; hammer-hardened by hand; ground with a precaution that prevents the temper being disturbed; every one in stock uniform with every other one; all keen enough to shave the most tender face smooth and comfortably, without irritation. But call, examine, and convince yourself that our claims are borne out by facts.

THE REVIEW

—A Hamilton man, 104 years of age, was arrested the other day on complaint of his relatives, disputing over his keep. For such heartless people Lynch law would be a decided improvement over the ordinary Canadian statutes.

—The Ontario Legislature was formally opened at Toronto on Tuesday. Our Legislators are off in good company,—the British Parliament was opened the same day by the King in person, and our own Canadian House of Commons is also in session.

—The good work has been commenced. The Railway Commissioners have ordered the Grand Trunk to erect gates at the Grimsby crossing where five people were killed recently, and the village and township will bear 20 per cent. of the cost of maintenance between them.

—The brute instinct of that noble (?) animal, man, was again demonstrated at the theatre fire in Mexico, when over 200 people, mostly women and children, were burned to death. Survivors say men fought like demons, striking down women and children in their efforts to escape.

—The C. P. R. construction programme for this year is again interesting the people of Madoc, who are still looking forward in hopes of the road being built through this section. A despatch says the work this year will comprise a stretch on the new short line from Victoria Harbor to Peterboro, and a 40-mile piece of double track east of Peterboro. We may get it yet.

—Rumor has been pointing for some years to probable trouble between Japan and the United States, particularly over the action of the State of California in excluding Japanese children from the public schools. The authorities in both countries are publicly making light of the affair, but the recent action of the U. S. Senate in providing by amendment to the naval bill that one-half the navy shall be kept in Pacific waters, looks ominous.

—British authorities have at last had their confidence restored in American canned meat products. The correspondent of the Daily News says that the War Office has accorded to Armour & Co., of Chicago, a contract for canned corn beef extending for three years and running into large figures. The initial delivery, amounting to between 500,000 and 1,000,000 pounds, will be made next summer. The goods will be put up under the supervision of British army officers.

Our Dominion's Mineral Wealth.

In twenty years the mineral production of Canada has gone up from $10,000,000 to $83,000,000. The increase is steady, widespread, and includes permanent development in the production of a wide range of minerals between coal and gold The development of the Cobalt region has brought Canada up to the fourth place in the world's list of silver-producing countries. Germany has been passed in the race, and now this country is moving up rapidly upon Australia, which holds the third place. The second place is held by Mexico, and the first by the United States.—Monetary Times.

Sacredness of Money.

Money is powerful because it represents so much. What a tremendous investment has been made in order to produce a dollar—time, thought, effort, toil, conflict and high nerved endeavor. Therefore take care of money; it is the most costly thing in the world. A recent exchange remarks: "One of Gen. Robert E. Lee's distinguishing traits of character was his extraordinary carefulness in money matters. While generous to a fault, in business transactions he was scrupulously exact. While President of Washington and Lee University he was often heard to say to the young men who came there from all parts of the South: 'Do not waste your money; it costs somebody hard labor, and is sacred.' His advice is worthy of being written in letters of gold upon the walls of every schoolroom and college in the land.

How to Gain in Weight.

You know you are too thin—you eat and eat, but never get an ounce fatter. Nerves are weak, color is bad strength seems exhausted. It's not hard to get fat. You must eat more, digest more, exercise more. Try Ferrozone and watch your appetite grow. It turns all you eat into nutriment and building material—fills your veins with rich red blood—gives you ambition and vigor. For a tissue builder, a fattening tonic, one that restores permanently, there is nothing to compare with Ferrozone. Try it and see 50cts. at all dealers.

Farm Comforts Are Increasing.

Rural Life in Many Parts of the Country is Improved.

Most encouraging reports of the growing prosperity of the Ontario farmer through the intelligent development of various branches of agriculture were brought by the delegates to the Ontario Fairs and Exhibitions Association, which met at Toronto last week. They also told of a remarkable change in the character of farm life within the last few years, and of increasing comforts and conveniences that make rural life in many parts of the country very little, if any, less desirable than life in the larger towns and cities.

Referring to the changes in farm life in late years, some of the speakers gave interesting experience. Said one:—"the farmers in our district used to raise a lot of wheat and other grain to sell. Now there is scarcely a bushel goes off the farm. Everybody has gone into stock raising and dairying, particularly the latter."

"Rural life has entirely changed since I was a boy." said another. "There was no telephones in the farm houses in those days, and you would never see a daily paper out in the country, while now we have both, and there is talk of rural mail delivery. We don't realize what a transformation this is from the old conditions, and what a difference it makes to the comforts and enjoyments of life on a farm."

THE OTHER SIDE.

Less social enjoyment, was bewailed by another speaker. He said, "I doubt if the farmers enjoy themselves the way they used to. I remember when we would pass around the word to gather at a certain house with our baskets on an evening, surprise the farmer and his family, and have a fine time together. But they don't do that now. Parties are held all by invitation, and there are social distinctions creeping in and some people think they are a little better than the others. This spoils the good feeling that used to exist between all the people of the district and make one wish for the good old times."

Save Money by Buying Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

You will pay just as much for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as for any of the other cough medicines, but you save money in buying it. The saving is in what you get, not what you pay. The sure-to-cure-you quality is in every bottle of this remedy and you get good results when you take it. Neglected colds often develop serious conditions and when you buy a cough medicine you want to be sure you are getting one that will cure your cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always cures. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle. For sale by all druggists.

LEGISLATURE OPENING

Lieut.-Gov. Gibson Reads Speech From Throne This Afternoon.

References Will Probably Be Made to Power Lines, Mining Industry, and Immigration and Will Foreshadow Law Reform Measure—Members Being Sworn In—Municipalities Want Many Bills.

Toronto, Feb. 16.—His Honor Lieut.-Governor Gibson will open the 12th Legislature of Ontario at 3 o'clock this afternoon. This important function revolves around one event, the speech from the throne, in which His Gracious Majesty King Edward communicates his view through his right trusty and well-beloved John Morrison Gibson on the government of Ontario. A distinct impression prevails in circles frequently well-informed that Sir James P. Whitney and his colleages give reliable tips to his honor about what he ought to say.

At all events it is understood that the speech this afternoon will refer to the fact that the transmission line for electric power has been contracted for and that thirty-five municipalities have sought power from the commission. This matter may be dwelt upon by his honor as the finest feather in the Government's cap.

The activity of the mining industry is another matter of first importance which ought to be touched upon, and the success of the T. & N.O. Railway in this connection.

The efforts of the Government to bring a better class of immigrants from Great Britain is a question of policy on which stress may be laid.

Among the measures to be foreshadowed are the measures for law reform and a number of revised acts, which are the result of the labors of the statute revision commission.

The payment of the Soo loan calls for mention, together with the fact that the additional capital is likely to be invested in the enterprise at the Soo.

Announcement has already been made that the Government intends to change the fiscal year to Oct. 30.

The celebration of the Quebec Tercentenary and the nationalization of the battlefields of Quebec is likely to be commented upon and its success, which was due in large part to the efforts of the Governor-General.

Reference will doubtless be made to the pleasure felt by his honor in meeting the Legislature with which he was in years gone by so long associated.

Swearing in of members was proceeded with yesterday. Premier Whitney headed the list and all the other resident Ministers followed, leaving Hon. Adam Beck and Hon. J. S. Hendrie to sign to-day. "I do swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to His Majesty King Edward VII." is the form of the oath.

Applications for new bills were presented by several municipalities yesterday.

Middlesex County has a debenture debt of $48,260 maturing now, and legislation is asked to consolidate and renew the debentures.

Hamilton City Council asks power to issue debentures to provide the cost of railway spur lines for manufacturing industries.

St. Catharines applies to validate the elections held on Jan. 4 last.

Clinton Township, in Lincoln County, wants to be divided into two townships, north and south.

Brantford seeks power to use the Waterous old property for city hall and government buildings, or a market square.

Washington Conference.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The gathering of representatives of three nations—Canada, Mexico and the United States—here this week, to discuss conservation of the natural resources of North America, will bring to Washington some of the most prominent men of the United States. Three of the four biggest, whom President Roosevelt invited to the first governors' conference last March, are expected to be present, namely, Jas. J. Hill, Andrew Carnegie and John Mitchell; the fourth will not attend.

J. H. Hammond, Gustav Schwab, president of the National Council of Commerce, and President Charles R. Vanhise of the University of Wisconsin also are expected.

Beresford's Future.

London, Feb. 16.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, who it was announced Sunday night, will vacate the post of commander-in-chief of the channel fleet on March 24, was seen yesterday regarding this statement, but he declined to discuss the action of the Admiralty. "It is my business to obey orders," he said.

Lord Beresford's friends believe that he has been forced out of the navy by the faction that follows Sir John Fisher, First Lord of the Admiralty, with whom he recently has waged a constant strife. If this turns out to be the case, the discussion of naval matters in Parliament is likely to be renewed in an even more heated manner than before.

Church Burned.

Bedford, Que., Feb. 16.—Fire destroyed St. Damien's Catholic Church Sunday night. Only a few statues and ornaments were saved. Loss $40,000. Insurance $7,000, and there is a debt of $7,000. At one time the whole town was threatened.

Chinese Walked Across Ice.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., Feb. 16.—Eight Chinamen were captured here yesterday, having walked across the St. Lawrence river on the ice from Canada. They arrived at the border from Montreal on the midnight train and were piloted here by an Indian.

Same Old Story.

NEW LISKEARD, Feb. 15th, 1909.

MR. J. R. ORR,
Editor REVIEW.

DEAR SIR,—Please find enclosed the sum of one dollar to pay for your most valuable paper for the year 1909. We take several other papers but THE REVIEW is the first to be read each week.

Yours truly,
ALBERT DUGGAN,
New Liskeard, Ont.

The Belleville Armouries.

The new Armouries at Belleville, which cost the Dominion Government over $100,000, will be formally opened on Tuesday evening next, 23rd of February, by Colonel W. D. Gordon, D. O. C., Eastern Ontario Command, Kingston, and staff. Invitations are being sent out by Lieut.-Col. Stewart and officers of the Fifteenth Regiment to the Reception and Promenade Concert from 7.30 to 9.30 p. m., and afterwards at officers' Smoker at 10. It is expected to be the greatest military event ever held in Belleville. Lieut.-Col. Orr and officers of the 49th Hastings Rifles are among the specially invited ones.

Western Growth.

Writing to THE REVIEW a couple of weeks ago, Mr. W. C. Caverly, of Caverly & Son, lumbermen, Bowsman River, Man., says:—

"Last night while reading THE REVIEW, I read your article on the rapid growth of towns in the west, particularly that of Outlook, Sask. We put into Outlook last fall 250,000 feet of dressed lumber to one firm. Our first cars went in via construction train, and no doubt the first lumber on that wheat field was produced by our firm. Our saw-mill here is running night and day, with a smaller mill also doing double shift."

Stirling Fire Brigade.

The village of Stirling purchased a new steam fire engine a few weeks ago, and have since organized a volunteer fire brigade, with some of their leading citizens at the head, viz: Major T. H. McKee, chief; Major H. H. Alger, deputy chief; Geo. Whitty, captain; W. E. Laycock, secretary. THE REVIEW has been asked to publish the following:—

STIRLING, Feb. 10, 1909.

To the Editor of THE REVIEW.

The Stirling Fire Brigade intends holding a monster celebration and Old Boys' Reunion in Stirling on May 24. Preparations are already begun to make the day the greatest that Hastings county has ever seen. The athletic organizations of all the surrounding towns are to be invited to co-operate and a record-breaking event is anticipated. Special rates on all trains are being obtained. Special music has been procured and a grand concert is to be held in the evening.

Personal Mention

Mrs. D. V. Sinclair, of Belleville, was in town for a few days this week.

Miss Sadie Wellington, of Toronto, returned to her home here last week.

Dr. Carl Wilson, of Montreal, was home to Madoc for a few days this week.

Harry Ellis of Fergus, Ont., says: "I believe that Mi-o-na for the cure of stomach trouble, is worth its weight in gold. It cures me from a stomach difficulty that seemed to puzzle all other prescriptions and remedies. I was unable to eat, the food would ferment and form gas and make a serious pressure on my heart. There were terrible pains in the pit of my stomach. I became weak, drousy, discouraged and later I got nervous and could not sleep or rest. This disease makes one feel like not wanting to see any human being and produces melancholy and forebodings. I was told to try Mi-o-na, and when I commenced on the first box I had hardly any faith in it, but the first two days' treatment made the pain in my stomach cease, and to make a long story short, the upshot of my using Mi-o-na was that it cured me wholly, and I now can eat what I like and when I am hungry. I am an ardent advocate of the use of Mi-o-na."

W. P. J. Alexander sell Mi-o-na Tablets, the dyspepsia remedy that is making such surprising cures through out Canada, for 50 cents a box, guarantees them to cure, or money back.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which variably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Havner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlains Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Cure in One Day.

COUGHS AND COLDS DISAPPEAR LIKE MAGIC WHEN HYOMEI IS USED.

If the thousands of people who suffer from hacking coughs and agonizing colds would arouse themselves sufficiently to follow this advice, they would cease to complain within 24 hours.

Here is the advice, if you take it and you are afterwards sorry that you did, it won't cost you a penny.

Go to W. P. J. Alexander the druggist, and purchase from him a Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) outfit. It will only cost you $1.00. Take it home; use it according to directions and if it does not cure your cough or cold, take it back and W. P. J. Alexander will refund the purchase price.

Mrs. I. Coon, of John Street, Acton, Ont., says: "I had a swelling come which was caused by near my eyes and I had to the catarrhal condition. cough up the bad impurities that dropped into my throat, and it felt as if a hard cold had attacked me, right in my head, nose and glands near. A week's treatment of Hyomei overcame my trouble. I am glad to endorse Hyomei."

When you use Hyomei you don't swallow nauseating drugs. You simply breathe in the soothing, pleasant and antiseptic Hyomei air through the little pocket inhaler that comes with each outfit. As this medicated air passes over the inflamed parts, relief comes almost at once and cure follows.

BERESFORD STEPS OUT

Lord Charles Is Retired From Channel Command.

Announcement Issued by Admiralty Office Means His Exit From Naval Affairs — Winston Churchill Is Said to Desire the Governor-Generalship of South Africa—Duke of Connaught to Go to Ireland.

London, Feb. 15.—An interesting announcement was issued by the Admiralty last night.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, commander-in-chief of the channel fleet, will vacate this command March 24, when this fleet will disappear as the chief fighting unit of the first line of Great Britain's naval force. Henceforth the most important vessels of the channel fleet, under the command of Vice-Admiral Archibald Berkeley Milne, who is now second in command in the channel fleet, will form the second division of the main fleet under supreme command of Vice-Admiral Sir Wm. H. May, second sea lord of the Admiralty.

It is understood that this means the practical retirement of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, and that he will be placed on half-pay. Lord Charles would have held the channel command for another year, retiring under the age limit in 1911, but the Government desired to group all the newest and best ships under Vice-Admiral May's command for home defence.

The most interesting rumor current on the eve of the session credits Winston Spencer Churchill with an eager desire to become the first Governor-General of the new federation in South Africa. If he succeeds Lord Selborne he will have a lucrative and showy office while the Liberal party is recruiting its exhausted energies against the Opposition benches. A war correspondent who escaped from a Boer prison will be a picturesque figure as the Governor-General of Confederated South Africa under the British crown. Those close to the Prime Minister assert that the appointment will probably be made in due time.

King Edward, after opening Parliament, is not likely to remain in England more than three weeks. A visit to Biarritz will be followed by a cruise in the Mediterranean.

Connaught For Ireland?

Dublin, Feb. 15.—The appointment of the Duke of Connaught to the Lord Lieutenancy of Ireland is the latest rumor in political circles. The Government is considering the advisability of this step, and it is known that the duke has intimated his willingness to accept the office if it is tendered him.

Up to now the office has been considered a political one, carrying with it a seat in the Cabinet, but it is urged that there is no sound reason why this policy should be continued and why it should not be on the same footing as the Governor-Generals of the self-governing colonies.

The Duke of Connaught has a considerable knowledge of Ireland and its affairs, having been commander-in-chief there for some years. Should the step be taken the Chief Secretary for Ireland would act as the chief representative in political affairs and the duties of the Lord Lieutenant would be almost entirely remodelled, being made purely of a formal and ceremonial character.

In addition the step would be a satisfactory one from the point of view of settling the vexed question of what to do with the duke. His position in the army as commander of Malta is one that the King does not think entirely befitting his brother, and in this view the duke himself joins.

Washerwoman's Estate Nearly $6,000.

New York, Feb. 15.—Rose Fitzpatrick, plain washerwoman, came from Canada about twenty years ago, and kept steadily at the washtub until she died last fall. The public administrator has just appraised her estate at $5,680.69, and distributed it to her heirs.

Militarism In the Colonies.

London, Feb. 15.—Lord Lucas declares the colonies, hearing of the splendid outburst of enthusiasm in London, are considering the advisability of initiating a scheme akin to that of the territorial force.

Washington, Feb. 15.—This city is to have the first aeronautic supply house in the world, which has been organized here under the name of the National Aeronautical Development Co., Limited.

Mr. Fielding Arrives.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—Hon. W. S. Fielding reached Halifax from Europe yesterday. He will probably not be in Ottawa until Wednesday.

KING MANUEL'S BRIDE.

King Edward's Niece May Marry the Portuguese Ruler.

Villa Viscosa, Portugal, Feb. 15.—The visit of King Alfonso of Spain to King Manuel came to a close yesterday afternoon. The only incident to mar the pleasant stay was the precautionary arrest by the police of two suspects, to which, however, no importance attaches.

Before his departure King Alfonso conferred upon King Manuel the order of Charles III. He received in turn from his host the collar of the order of the Tower and Sword.

Although not yet conferred in official quarters, the entire press of Portugal states that the royal interview between King Alfonso and King Manuel related chiefly to the projected marriage of King Manuel to Princess Beatrice, daughter of the late Duke of Edinburgh and niece of King Edward. Such a marriage is favorably commented upon by the whole country, the opinion being that it would greatly strengthen the bonds of friendship between Great Britain and Portugal and consolidate British influence in the whole peninsula.

Great interest has been aroused in the banquet and ball to be given on Feb. 17, by Sir Francis H. Villiers, the British Minister to Portugal, in honor of King Manuel.

Max Brower, a peddler, of Toronto has instituted a suit for $5,000 damages against Magistrate Breault and the chief of police of Sandwich, for alleged false arrest and imprisonment.

Premier McBride has promised a Victoria deputation to introduce a bill appointing the principals of Dalhousie, McGill and Toronto universities a commission to select a university site.

While train No. 7 of the G.T.R. was running from Seaforth to Clinton a revolver bullet crashed through the rear passenger coach close to the smoking compartment. The bullet struck the opposite side of the coach, narrowly missing the heads of two passengers.

Another Storm Coming.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—The storm yesterday came from the southwest. It originated in New Mexico, passed eastward from Arizona on Saturday over the middle States and entered Canada at Lake Erie. The wind increased in violence during the day, and made unfortunate pedestrians feel the stinging lash of ice crystals. Snow was general throughout Ontario, and at a late hour was extending into Quebec.

The weather man reports that another storm is developing, and will closely follow this one. It will likely be a gale. Some warnings are being shown from Sault Ste. Marie to the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Accepts Call to Woodstock.

Woodstock, Feb. 15.—Rev. C. W. McLeod of Chicago University has accepted an invitation to be the new pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city.

Mr. McLeod came originally from the Maritime Provinces, but has been attending Chicago University for some years. He will start his new duties on April 1.

Burglars entered Geo. Kirk's feed store and smashing open the cash register secured $1.90 and an I.O.U. for $10. Entrance was affected by breaking a pane of glass in the fanlight over the back door.

Got Drunk on Lemon Sour.

Lindsay, Feb. 15.—A well-known temperance house proprietor in a nearby village appeared before County Magistrate Moore Saturday on a charge of selling liquor without a license on Jan. 15. The information was laid by License Inspector Thornbury. Only three witnesses were sworn, and two of them swore that they received lemon sour, and that it made them partly intoxicated. The other witness swore that he asked for lemon sour, but received cider. All three swore positively that they did not receive any liquor.

Passed as a Boy For Five Years.

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 15.—After traveling around the country five years posing as a boy, the sex of Mabel Davis, aged 18, was discovered here yesterday, after she was arrested, charged with burglary and larceny. She says she knows nothing of her parentage, that she was adopted by a family near Waverly, N.Y., when a child, and that she worked in the fields near there and wore boy's clothes. Five years ago she ran away dressed as a boy, and kept up the disguise.

Engagement a Fact.

New York, Feb. 15.—Matthew Astor Wilks was asked to comment upon the declaration by Mrs. Betty Green that she had not given her consent to the engagement to him of her daughter, but refused to do so.

Mr. Wilks, however, was emphatic in his assertion that the engagement was an actual fact.

"I am engaged to Miss Green," said he, "and I hope to marry her."

Cat Upset the Lamp.

Petrolea, Feb. 15.—Saturday night about 10 o'clock fire broke out in the upper part of the Webster Building, occupied by James Fisher and family, the occupants losing all. The lower part was rented by Wm. Gillespie as a grocery store. It is reported that a cat upstairs upset the lamp on a table.

FORESTRY A DUTY

Governor-General's Address to Delegates at Banquet.

IS MATTER OF MORALITY

Children Should Be Taught Their Obligation to Preserve the Forest Heritage of Canadians Not as a Question of Profit, But of Right —Convention Will Send Memorials to Governments.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Two hundred guests applauded Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, at the National Club last evening as His Excellency dwelt with great earnestness on the importance of forest preservation. The banquet was given by the Toronto Board of Trade to delegates of the Canadian Forestry Association, J. P. Watson presided.

The addresses at the convention just concluded had, said His Excellency, demonstrated that the permanent prosperity of the nation was dependent upon the conservation of the forests at the head waters of the rivers. As Hon. Mr. Fisher had pointed out, a neglect of this might shake the position of Montreal as the chief commercial port.

In the United States the forest destruction is three and one-half times greater than its growth. The loss to the farmers of that country aggregates a thousand million dollars per annum as a direct and indirect loss. Wanton and criminal neglect of the forests meant the transforming of a heaven into a hell.

When the relative per capita wealth of Canada in undeveloped resources is made known the people of the whole United States would want to come to make their home in the Dominion to have a share in the vast unspent fortune.

"What we have to do—I have been so long among you that I say we—(Applause.) "We," he repeated, "have a great duty, to teach the children to have a patriotic regard for the resources of Canada. It is difficult to make people brought up on farms in an atmosphere where the tree has been regarded as an enemy, to make them feel that a tree is their best friend."

He entirely agreed with the association that forestry was not only an economic but also a moral question. This made it necessary to teach the children that they share a duty to others as well as to themselves.

A certain class of Canadians were said to be animated by the thought of "what can Canada do for me?" while the true ideal was what could they do for Canada? It is because of this great principle that forestry was a moral question. He trusted the gentlemen of influence present would do their utmost to co-operate with the Forestry Association in their efforts for the conservation of Canada's magnificent national heritage.

W. J. Gage proposed the toast to Hon. J. M. Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, to which his honor made a short response.

R. S. Gourlay proposed the toast of Canada, to which Sir James P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario, replied.

The convention of the Canadian Forestry Association was concluded yesterday afternoon, when a resolution was passed asking that the various Provincial Governments withdraw all lands from settlement unsuitable for farming and reserve from settlement all lands with less than 50 per cent. fit for agriculture.

The association suggested the publication of farmers' bulletins, also for the instruction of city and rural school pupils, the publication of forestry text-books for the high schools, and the preparation of plans and lantern slides for lectures.

The association expressed satisfaction at the improvements in the fire protection services and approved the appointment of a special committee by the Dominion Parliament, but urged upon the Government the importance of appointing a royal commission to investigate the whole question of forestry.

The Dominion and Provincial Governments were urged to restore all forest lands at head waters.

Wharfage Rates Go Up.

Montreal, Feb. 13.—It was announced yesterday morning that wharfage rates for the Montreal Harbor are to be raised from 100 to 250 per cent., bringing them practically back to the schedule of 1896. Staple articles, including coal, coke, grain, and apples, are exempt.

The chief changes is in foodstuffs. The car charges are increased from $2 to $2.50.

Killed by Unknown Autoist.

New York, Feb. 13.—The police of Manhattan are bending every effort to ascertain the identity of the party of automobilists, who are believed to have run down and killed Mrs. Edwin Stanton McCook, 69 years old, of Chicago, the widow of Gen. Edwin E. McCook of the famous "Fighting McCook" family, at some point between West 68th street and West 75th street.

Trainmen Go to Trial.

Guelph, Feb. 13.—On the charge of manslaughter arising out of the fatal collision near Harriston on Jan. 14, Conrad Kennedy and Matthew Fleming were yesterday committed for trial by Magistrate Saunders.

They will now appear at the Spring Assizes opening on the 22nd of the present month. The men were released on bail.

Against the Repeal.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 13.—A memorial to Congress, praying against the repeal of the Asiatic Exclusion Act, was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Norton, who moved that it be referred to the committee on labor.

NIAGARA IS IN BONDS

Ice Jum Holds Back the Water Above the Falls.

Phenomenon Seen Only Twice In History Is Repeated and American Cataract Has Almost Disappeared —Horseshoe Fall Is Greatly Diminished, the Gorge Is Choked Up, and Whirlpool Is Stagnant.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Feb. 15.—Only a tiny rivulet, not deep nor swift enough to carry a pulp log over the brink, is flowing over the American side of Niagara Falls. A strong northeast wind which has blown since Friday has held back the water and allowed the ice to gain a foothold. Two employes of the American reservation walked from Prospect Point nearly to Bath Island yesterday morning. They did not complete the trip merely because they did not care to get their feet wet, a stream at one place being a few inches above the tops of their boots.

A great wall of ice runs from the head of Goat Island to the American mainland, through which only tiny streams are able to trickle. This wall has even encroached on the Canadian channel, extending out some 200 feet beyond the third Sister Island, and greatly diminishing the flow over the horseshoe. Only the very apex of the Canadian Falls is left, and that is robbed of half its flow.

The gorge below is choked and the rapids have lost their fury, while the whirlpool is barely in motion.

This is only the third time that this combination of wind and ice has thus affected the falls since the white man came here. The other occasions were March 29, 1848, and March 22, 1903.

Chinamen Hidden In Car.

Windsor, Feb. 15.—Workmen in the Grand Trunk yards discovered two Chinamen in a bonded car, attention being drawn to the fact that the seal was broken. The celestials were arrested and appeared in court on a charge of entering the car. They were allowed to go on suspended sentence, after paying $14 costs. United States immigration officers and local authorities declare this discovery proves that Windsor smugglers are in collusion with a band around Niagara Falls and Fort Erie. Certain it is, that a well organized gang is directing the operations of the "underground railway" at present.

Carrie Nation's Hope.

London, Feb. 15.—Before she shakes the dust of London from her elastic-sided boots, Mrs. Carrie Nation is going to try to see the Lord Mayor and she wants to visit Holloway Prison, though how that is to assist her in her campaign against whisky and cigarettes is hard to see. She has a great desire to see the King, but if she means by that a personal interview her wish is not likely to be gratified.

When she announces that she is going "to have a try at the House of Lords."

Family's Misfortunes.

Port Arthur, Feb. 15.—Alfred Stohr left his home on Dawson road on Jan. 3 with three days' provisions to explore for land and has not been seen since. It is believed he became lost in the woods and perished.

Stohr was a highly educated Frenchman, having once been professor in a French college, and was fluent in five languages. Misfortune followed him from the time of the San Francisco earthquake, in which he lost practically all his means. He leaves a wife and three children destitute.

To Banquet Old-Timers.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—The sixth annual banquet of the Canadian Club will be given in honor of surviving Senators and members of the first Parliament of the Dominion, including Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Edward Blake, Sir John Carling, Hon. John Costigan, Hon. Senator William Miller, Hon. Senator William Ross, Hon. A. R. McClellan, Hon. James Young and Sir James Grant.

Enthuses Women.

London, Feb. 15.—One outcome of the play "An Englishman's Home," which all London is discussing, is an attempt to form a corps of territorial nurses. It is suggested that young society women tear a few hours away from bridge, learn the elements of nursing and form themselves into companies as part of a volunteer corps to be manned by their brothers and sweethearts. The idea is meeting with considerable encouragement.

Passes Are Barred.

Brockville, Feb. 15.—The Conservative Association of the Township of Lansdowne has placed itself on record as being opposed to delegates to political conventions accepting railway passes or having any of their expenses paid.

As far as the Lansdowne Association is concerned delegates to conventions in future who are known to be offenders in this respect will be disqualified from voting.

After Welsh Immigrants.

Brockville, Feb. 15.—From the Dominion Government Wm. Griffiths of Brockville has received the appointment of immigration agent in Wales, where he resided before coming to this country a few years ago.

Divide White From Black.

Bismarck, N.D., Feb. 15.—In the Legislature on Saturday the House passed the Senate bill prohibiting under heavy penalty the intermarriage of whites and blacks or sexual relations between the races. The governor will sign the bill.

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW HE TREATS RHEUMATIC PATIENTS

A Distinguished Specialist Gives Valuable Advice.

In the first place I always impress upon my patients the importance of careful living and regular habits. Moderation in eating, keeping the feet dry, and wearing plenty of warm clothing are some of the precautions.

No amount of medicine will cure, or even help, unless attention is paid to these few simple rules.

Fluid Extract Cascara.....	½ oz.
Carriana Compound	1 oz.
Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla	6 oz.

A prominent local merchant who has tried this treatment states that it relieves backache, bladder trouble, and urinary troubles almost immediately and has a gentle but thorough action on the kidneys. ●

We advise all our readers to keep this prescription. The instructions are valuable.

POWER BILL DISCUSSED

Mr. Conmee's Measure Rouses Big Debate in House.

Ontario-Michigan Proposition Raises Storm of Disapproval and Premier Refuses to Commit Himself Until He Hears From the Provinces—Power Resources Must Be Conserved For the People, Says Borden.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—The Ontario & Michigan Power Co. bill, which was rejected by the Senate last session, on the ground that it invaded the sphere of jurisdiction of the Provincial Government, was given its second reading in the House yesterday afternoon, though both Mr. Graham and Sir Wilfrid Laurier declined to commit themselves to the principle involved. They desired to give the provinces the opportunity to present their case.

Sir Wilfrid claimed that on the facts as presented, the Federal Parliament had jurisdiction; "but," he added, "as to the matter of policy I am seriously in doubt if we can pass this bill."

Mr. Conmee claimed that the Nepigon river was a navigable and international stream, and therefore under the jurisdiction of the Federal Parliament, while he held the Pigeon river to be a navigable stream and an international boundary. What was there in the bill to interfere with provincial rights? he asked.

Dr. Sproule said the bill would take away the rights of the Province of Ontario in the valuable water powers on the Nepigon river. A. C. Boyce observed that the Ontario Government claimed jurisdiction over the river.

"I'm quite aware," returned Mr. Conmee, "that the Ontario Government objects to all bills of this character."

"On what ground was it that the Senate rejected it last year?" asked Mr. Borden.

"Some of them didn't take the trouble to understand it," replied Mr. Conmee.

Mr. Haggart asked if the Government gave the company the right to expropriate from the Ontario Government.

"The hon. gentleman," replied Mr. Conmee, "has been a member of the Dominion Parliament for 25 years, and he has voted for such as this time and again. He had better look up his own record."

Mr. McGrath (Alberta) declared that the bill contained a vicious principle, namely, allowing power to be exported to the United States, until we ascertained that we had power sufficient for our own development for all time to come.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson argued that the bill should go to committee.

R. L. Borden pointed out that the bill did not give power to dam the rivers; the company would have to get the consent of the Public Works Department. So far as international waters were concerned, it was plain that the company must come to this Parliament, and with reference to the other stream there was the question of interference with navigation.

He also dealt with the conservation of the water powers and asked why we should not look to the future by seizing all the available water powers for the benefit of the people.

Hon. Mr. Graham had always been careful to protect the provinces in their sphere, "but on the other hand we must not give up any of our rights," he added. It was debatable whether we should refrain from developing power because a part of it would have to be exported to secure a market.

Drops Dead of Fright.

Montreal, Feb. 16.—Madame Elizabeth Courchesne, 59 years old, of 159 Chambly street, dropped dead Sunday night from fright. She had been pestered with boys rapping at the windows and being of a nervous disposition, she armed herself with a revolver. She warned the boys she would shoot. As she left the window there was a sudden crash of a stone, and the old lady collapsed, expiring in a few minutes from heart failure due to fright.

Coroner McMahon expressed regret he could not commit those who were responsible for the woman's death.

New Manitoba Judges.

Winnipeg, Feb. 16.—A delegation from the benchers of the Law Society met the Attorney-General and other members of the Government yesterday to request that two new judgeships of the King's Bench Court be created, also that the Appeal Court judges be not empowered to act as trial judges with a jury.

The Government decided that only one new judgeship would be created, and that no change would be made in the jurisdiction of the Court of Appeal at present.

Bondsmen Liable For $50,000.

Albuquerque, N.M., Feb. 16.—A special from Taos, New Mexico, says that Albert Twining, former bank president of Asbury Park, N.J., sentenced to six years' imprisonment for speculating with the bank's funds in mining properties, has disappeared and that his bondsmen are liable for $50,000. The case has been in the courts for five years, and last Tuesday the Supreme Court ordered Twining to commence serving his sentence.

Fast Train Hits Rock on Track.

Philadelphia, Feb. 16.—The Pennsylvania special, the 18-hour flyer from Chicago to New York, struck a rock at Newton-Hamilton, N.J., miles west of Harrisburg, shortly after 6 a.m., wrecking the train. Beyond a severe shaking up no one was severely injured.

Art Treasure Stolen.

Madrid, Feb. 16.—It is announced that a most valuable painting on wood by Domenico Theotocopuli, perhaps better known as "El Greco" has been stolen from the Prado Museum, frame and all.

HOLOCAUST IN THEATRE.

Between 250 and 300 Mexicans Perish In Flames.

Mexico City, Feb. 16.—Between 250 and 300 people were burned to death and many were injured in a fire which destroyed the Flores Theatre in the city of Acapulca Sunday night.

The news of the disaster reached this capital yesterday afternoon, telegraphic communication with Acapulca having been destroyed Sunday night owing to the fact that the telegraph office adjoining the theatre was burned and all wires put out of commission.

The Flores Theatre was a wooden structure, and Sunday night over 1,000 people crowded into it to witness a special performance given in honor of Governor Damian Flores, of the State of Guerrera, who was visiting the host at the time.

One of the numbers on the program consisted of a series of moving pictures. While the operator was exhibiting these a film caught fire and a blaze was quickly communicated to some bunting which had been used for decorative purposes.

In an incredibly short time the flames spread to all parts of the structure.

There were but three narrow exits, and the panic-stricken audience rushed to them, many falling, to be trushed to death, their bodies choking the way of escape to others.

The screams of those imprisoned were terrifying owing to the rapidity with which the fire spread, and its intense heat, it was impossible to attempt rescue work, and those imprisoned were literally roasted alive as the fire burned with little smoke and few were suffocated.

A STRANGE EPIDEMIC.

Laprairie, Que., Is Stricken by a Mysterious Disease.

Montreal, Feb. 16.—An unknown disease of a nature to baffle the local physicians has the town of Laprairie, Que., in its grip. Two deaths have resulted, another sufferer is dying and one hundred more are afflicted, or nearly ten per cent. of the town's population of 1,100.

The disease has some of the features of typhoid fever and la grippe, but has other characteristics that stamp it as a malady apart. The fever is very low, five degrees above normal being the highest recorded. An outstanding symptom is a black or dark brown covering of the tongue and with which, though removed by acid espraying, returns in two hours. Red, almost purple, patches on face and body come and go without apparent cause. Swollen tongue and lips and other symptoms.

Doctors Cannot Say.

Toronto, Feb. 16.—Supt. Brown of the General Hospital said he was unable to offer a theory as to the disease. Dr. Alex. McPhedran, specialist, said the only way to solve the problem would be by a post-mortem to reveal the condition of the blood, and that the general secretions should be examined very carefully.

MAYOR DROPS DEAD.

Chief Executive of Aylmer Takes Stroke at Social.

Aylmer, Ont., Feb. 16.—While delivering an address at the anniversary service in the Methodist Church last night Mayor W. E. Stevens was suddenly seized with an attack of apoplexy and, falling back into his chair unconscious, died in a few minutes.

The gathering in the church was in the nature of a social function and was largely attended. Following supper, Mayor Stevens, who was a prominent member of the church, was called upon. He collapsed soon after he had begun his speech. Doctors were summoned at once, but could give no aid.

Mr. Stevens, who was about 55 years of age, was a prominent barrister and Liberal. It was his first year as mayor and he was very popular and highly respected. Some time ago he had a slight attack of apoplexy while at a meeting of Oddfellows, to which order he belonged. He leaves a widow, two step-sons and a daughter.

Ice Jam Affects Power.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 16.—In an effort to break the ice round their intakes the power companies were yesterday blasting the ice with dynamite, and maintained their services with some difficulty.

It is estimated that there is little more than one-third the normal flow in the Canadian channel, and the water in the forebays is very low. The American fall is still nearly dry.

Hold-Up Story a Fake.

Hamilton, Feb. 16.—J. B. Sponenberg, the barber who said he was held up and robbed, Saturday night made the following signed statement to the police yesterday: "I, J. B. Sponenberg, do solemnly declare that I was not robbed on Saturday night and that the whole story was a fake concocted by me. I spent $25, the property of the barbers' union, the full amount of which I owe the union."

Newspaper Prices Go Up.

Trenton, N.J., Feb. 16.—Beginning yesterday the price of the Trenton daily newspapers increased from one to two cents a copy, the publishers having found that it was impracticable to continue one cent papers in face of the great increase in the cost of production, particularly the increased price of white paper.

How Brakeman Was Killed.

North Bay, Feb. 16.—An unfortunate mistake in the C.P.R. yards at Missiable on Sunday caused an incoming freight train to pitch into another freight train standing on the yard and Brakeman H. B. Wilson, an unmerried man of Chapleau, was killed. A van and one car were burned.

Thirty Lives Lost.

Algiers, Feb. 16.—Thirty lives were lost when an unknown sailing vessel rammed the Belgian steamer Australie during a storm on Feb. 12, near Alboran Island, in the Mediterranean, 100 miles from Gibraltar, and both vessels foundered.

ALL RECORDS BEATEN

Immigration Blue Book Shows Unparalleled Figures.

More Than One-Sixth of Population of the Dominion Has Arrived During the Past Ten Years—Proportion of British Arrivals Has Vastly Increased — Incoming Americans Averaged In Wealth $1,000 Each.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—That Canada has established a world's record in immigration is the boast made in the official bluebook of the Department of Interior for the year ended March 31.

During the twelve months, 262,469 immigrants arrived, an increase of 39,767. During the decade ending 1907-8, the total number was 1,166,126, of which 819,213 came from Great Britain, Ireland, and the United States, and 356,913 from other countries.

"This tremendous movement of people," says the report, "is more than one-sixth the total population of Canada."

During the past twelve years, there arrived in Canada English, Scotch, Irish and Welsh immigrants to the number of 487,720, one quarter of whom arrived last year. "It will thus be seen," comments the Deputy Minister, "that in so far as the quantity of this particular class of immigration is conceived, it has now assumed sufficiently large proportions to satisfy the widely expressed desire on the part of Canadians throughout the old and new provinces that for obvious reasons we should receive a fair share of British subjects emigrating from the old land.

"As to undesirables, some otherwise deserving immigrants who had not, on entering Canada, the necessary means to become at once self-supporting, may have been induced to come through the injudicious zeal of philanthropic societies engaged in this class of work."

It is regarded as highly satisfactory that of the total exclusions of 1,002 at various ports last year, only one-ninth were British, although the British arrivals were nearly one-half of the total immigration.

The 58,312 people who arrived from the United States during 1908, brought in money and effects to the value of about $52,000,000. The Hudson Bay Co., and the railway companies, sold 341,072 acres of land for $2,985,992, as against 1,277,759 for $7,697,930 in 1907. The average price, however, increased from $6.02 to $8.78 per acre. In 1903, the average price was $3.46 per acre. The total number of homestead entries was 30,424, a decrease of 7,364. The acreage taken up last year was 4,867,840 acres.

It is remarked that at the present rate of settlements it will soon be necessary to direct the incoming settler to the northern part of Alberta, and Saskatchewan, "where it will probably be found that the agricultural possibilities are in no way inferior to those of the regions more to the south."

Of the 30,424 entries granted last year, 7,417 were made by Canadians, 7,518 by Americans, 4,840 by English, 1,026 by Scotch, 339 by Irish, and 510 by Canadians returned from the United States, or 21,950 in all, representing a population of about 52,000 souls, leaving 8,524 entries by other nationalities, representing a population of 21,000 souls. Of the Canadians who homesteaded 3,696 were from Ontario, and 494 from Quebec. Austria-Hungarians to the number of 2,472.

The gross cash revenue for Dominion lands for the year was $1,098,219, a decrease of $127,738; from school lands $708,065, a decrease of $121,836; from export tax on gold, the revenue was $70,504, a falling off of $58,026.

The total area sold by the Government in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta during the year was 114,712 acres for $1,192,615, or an average of $10.40 per acre.

Cutting Through Wall.

Toronto, Feb. 16.—Four men, Chas. Brown, John McLeod, Ed. Scanlon and Patrick Kelly, were taken through the city yesterday on their way to Kingston penitentiary to serve a two years' sentence for an attempt to break jail at Sault Ste. Marie Wednesday last. They were awaiting removal to the Central Prison to serve seven months for robbery, and with a pair of scissors had all but driven a two-foot hole through a 16-inch brick wall when they were discovered.

The Waterways Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Senator Smith of Michigan was given a hearing yesterday by the Senate committee on foreign relations in opposition to the Canadian boundary waterways treaty. He spoke in favor of more adequate protection of territorial rights in the waters of the St. Mary's river, but did not conclude.

Another meeting of the committee will be held Wednesday, when it is expected that Senator Nelson will suggest some amendments.

Congress Knocked Knox.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The House of Representatives yesterday rejected the Senate bill removing the constitutional bar to Senator Knox serving as Secretary of State.

The bill which reduces the salary of the Secretary of States from $12,000 to $8,000, its former figure, was the first business to command the attention of the House yesterday.

Those opposing the bill said it was simply an effort to override the constitution by a statute.

Winnipeg Fire Rate.

Winnipeg, Feb. 16.—The new schedule defining fire insurance rates in Winnipeg was made public yesterday morning. The reduction amounts to about 25 per cent. The basis is about the same as Toronto's new schedule.

Ends Life With Laudanum.

Brandon, Man., Feb. 16.—After penciling a few words in farewell to his brother, George H. Milne, committed suicide by drinking laudanum. A letter was addressed to his brother, David Milne of Port Parry, Ont.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited hot springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, patches of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, or if you like this testimonial as you wish. W. H. Stomach Distress.

AND ALL MISERY FROM INDIGESTION VANISHES FIVE MINUTES LATER.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take one triangle after supper tonight. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fulness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once and see! Sold by all dealers.

COLLEGE NICKNAMES.

Some Popular With the Students—Objection Made to Others.

Some of the colleges have a great dislike to the way in which they are referred to commonly in connection with athletics. For instance, Wesleyan men don't like to be called "the Methodists," as they appear sometimes.

At the Naval academy there is a strong prejudice against being called "Annapolis." The navy men aren't particularly fond of "midshipmen." They believe the proper name for their institution is "the navy."

Columbia has a great distaste for the name of "Columbians" for their representatives in athletics or other public appearances. At the University of Chicago there is a dislike of the name "Chicago university," sometimes applied.

Although not so strongly opposed to it, students at Pennsylvania do not like the full title "University of Pennsylvania" as well as plain "Pennsylvania." "Penn" is preferred to either.

"Maroons" for Chicago men, "Gophers" for Minnesota, "Badgers" for Wisconsin students, "Cornhuskers" for Nebraska, "Wolverenes" for Michigan, "Illini" for the men of Illinois—all are names that are popular at those colleges and are used by the men there in speaking of their own teams. Indeed, to a man unacquainted with nicknames the average statement regarding a conference college is puzzling because of the almost entire lack of straightout names.

THE DOCTORS.

Tribute to the Nobility of the Medical Profession.

To enter the medical profession is to find oneself in most noble company. When Dante was led by Virgil into the presence of "the master of them that know" he saw Aristotle surrounded by a group of the sages of antiquity. Look at them as they are introduced one by one, and you will see that a fourth of them bear names illustrious in medicine. To take note of but one—Hippocrates is there. The student will not turn to his pages now to learn what has to be taught in modern text books or class rooms. Yet he will do well to lay to heart the spirit that guided "the father of medicine" in drawing up the oath imposed on the students of the Hippocratic school. "With purity and with holiness," the candidate was made to swear, "I will pass my life and practice my art. Into whatever houses I enter I will go into them for the benefit of the sick, will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption."

In the long succession of those who have enlarged the bounds of his science the student will meet with a great army of men who have kept the spirit of that oath under higher sanctions than were open to the pioneers whom the mediæval poet consigns to a place in his inferno because, though blameless of sin, they had not been baptized.—Sir Alexander Simpson in London Quiver.

TREATY NOW CERTAIN.

French Senate Committee Is Again Considering Agreement.

Paris, Feb. 9.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Customs Committee of the Senate resumed consideration of the revised French-Canadian treaty yesterday. M. Vigor, ex-Minister of Agriculture, and M. Trouillot, who is also an ex-Minister, reported on the latest Ministerial statements with reference to the treaty, dealing especially with the supplementary convention signed on Jan. 26, which set up a special tariff on imports of cattle from Canada. The Ministers of Foreign Affairs, Commerce and Agriculture then addressed the committee, replying to questions received through the president of the committee. M. Pichon, Foreign Minister, insisted strongly in the name of the whole Cabinet that the committee should examine the treaty as completed by the supplementary convention of Jan. 26, with out delay, and should come to a prompt decision. The committee will meet again on Friday and decide as to its action according to the opinion of the members. The ratification of the treaty may be regarded as certain.

TRAGEDY OF THE NORTH

Edmonton Man Makes Ghastly Discovery—Brothers Who Had Found a Gold Mine Near Nahanna River Were Slain and Marks Cut on Trees Telling of Their Mine Were Obliterated—Police Investigating.

Edmonton, Feb. 15.—Charles McLeod, an Edmonton man, who, while guiding a party of prospectors through the northern wilds in the vicinity of Nahanna River, accidentally stumbled over the skeletons of two murdered brothers, has arrived here.

McLeod one evening after making camp discovered beside him trees under which were the remains of another campfire. Curious as to who might have preceded him, he scraped away the ashes and discovered an inscription on the tree, finding the date May, '05, and the initials of his own two brothers. Later on one of the party cut his foot, and the rest pushed on a few miles to make camp. When the injured man's wounds were dressed he pushed on and reported that in the brush under a large tree he had found the skeletons of two men.

McLeod, his fears aroused, hastened back, and in an hour came on the remains. Investigation revealed the fact that the heads of the two men had been cut off and removed to some unknown point. The clothing was completely rotted away, bones only being left. In the vicinity where the campfire had been he found his brother's watch and ring, which belonged to Frank McLeod. On looking over the camp he found another blazed tree, on which a very little carving was legible, but it showed that the men were killed at least three years ago. One of the skeletons had the breastbone shattered, appearances indicating that the man was shot with a rifle while reclining on a pile of blankets.

Near the base of the tree were carved words which would mean a fortune if deciphered. These words related to the location of valuables, but the murderers not only had taken care to remove every article from the victims' clothes, but also felled and blazed the trees in such a manner as to make most of the carving unintelligible. Near to the point where he had been working McLeod found a small shaft, from which Indians of late had taken gold. The Indians, however, claimed that they had opened this themselves. Weir, the companion of the two men, is still unaccounted for.

Mounted police will be sent north to investigate.

Chauffeur Surrenders.

New York, Feb. 15.—The mystery surrounding the accident in which Mrs. Edwin S. McCook, wife of Gen. Edwin McCook, was knocked down by an automobile and fatally hurt, was cleared up when Walter Schurman, a chauffeur, surrendered himself to the police.

He declared he had accidentally run down Mrs. McCook, who had stepped in front of the machine. He had taken her to the home of Gen. McCook, and gave himself up when he learned of the seriousness of the accident.

Murder In Chili; Trial In Germany.

Santiago, Chile, Feb. 15.—The feeling against Chancellor Beckert of the German legation, who was arrested at Chilian on the charge of murdering a servant of the legation and afterwards setting fire to the building to hide the crime, is intense in Santiago, and an attempt may be made to lynch him.

Baron Von Bodeman, the German Minister, may exercise the right of sending Beckert to Germany for trial on the ground that the alleged crime was committed on German territory.

Situation In Liberia.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 15.—The State Department is considering the question of despatching an American war vessel to Liberia, where alarm is felt for the safety of British and French citizens employed in the customs service of the republic.

Already the British Government has despatched a war vessel to Monrovia and also a company of soldiers.

The present situation, according to official advices, may result in the passing of its 40,000 miles of territory into alien hands.

Moral Plays In England.

London, Feb. 15.—A noteworthy dramatic movement seems under way in villages and towns in England.

In a number of instances village folk and even country rustics have taken in hand the production of moral or Shakespearean plays. The inspiration of the movement probably is found in numerous pageants which have become the vogue.

Blew His Head Off.

Edmonton, Alba., Feb. 15.—Turning down the blankets of the bed, which he had been using and substituting his own, also, his own pillow, Alfred Edward Batliff, well dressed man about fifty-six years of age, placed the muzzle of a revolver in his mouth, and blew his head completely off.

A Marquis and His Bride.

London, Feb. 15.—The Marquis of Douro, the heir of the Duke of Wellington, has picked for his bride Miss Maud Coats, the daughter of a self-made Scottish artisan, George Coats, now one of the principal proprietors of the Coats Thread Co., with a net income of over $10,000,000 a year.

Fishermen's Close Call.

Buffalo, Feb. 15.—A score of fishermen and their dogs were carried out into Lake Erie yesterday morning when the ice field was set in motion by a shift in the wind. All were rescued except Joseph Stalusky.

Toronto Junction Live Stock.

TORONTO JUNCTION, Feb. 15.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards for Monday were 51 carloads, consisting of 1107 cattle, 41 hogs, 113 sheep and lambs, 10 calves and 90 horses.

Exporters.

Not many choice heavyweight shipping cattle were on sale and what few were offered sold at from $5.20 to $5.30, and $5.35. Some lighter cattle, around 1200 lbs., were bought for Montreal market, and sold at lower prices.

Butchers.

Loads of good cattle, 1100 to 1200 lbs., equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.85 to $5.15; loads of good butchers', 1000 to 1100 lbs., each, sold at $4.70 to $4.85; medium to good butchers, 900 to 1000 lbs., sold at $4 to $4.60; common, light butchers, $3.50 to $4; cows, $3 to $4.25 per cwt.; canners, $1.50 to $2.50.

Hogs.

Gunns, Limited, quoted hogs, fed and watered at the market, at $6.50, and $6.35 f.o.b. cars at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Feb. 13 were 2722 cattle, 434 sheep and lambs, 3342 hogs and 196 calves. The supply on the market this morning for local consumption consisted of 1150 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 2414 hogs and 60 calves.

In spite of the stormy weather, the manager of the above stock yards had everything in first-class condition, consequently the dealers had no difficulty in displaying their stock to advantage, and, as buyers were present in large numbers, an active trade was done. A feature was the stronger undertone to the market for the cattle, and prices, as compared with those of a week ago, show an advance of ¼c per lb. This was attributed to the fact that the supply was comparatively small, and especially so of good, useful beasts for the butcher trade, for which there was a good demand from both local and outside buyers, but the trade in common and inferior stock was rather slow on account of the higher prices demanded. Cable advices from Liverpool and Glasgow were more encouraging than a week ago and in consequence the demand from exporters was fair, and several loads of good cattle were bought at $5 to $5.15 per 100 lbs. A few choice steers, weighing 1200 lbs. sold at 5¾c, and lighter weights at 5½c; good at 5c to 5c; fair at 4½c to 4¾c; medium at 4c to 4¼c; common at 3¾c to 3¾c, and inferior at 2½c to 3c per lb.

Owing to the continued very limited supplies of sheep coming forward, a stronger feeling has developed in the market, and prices have scored a further advance of ½c to ¾c per lb., and sheep are ¾c per lb. higher. The demand is good, as fresh-killed stock is preferred by most butchers, but, as the offerings are away short of the requirements of the trade, frozen lamb and mutton are meeting with a more active demand at present. Choice lots of lambs sold this morning at 6½c to 7c, and good at 5¾c to 6¼c per lb. Sheep brought 4¼c to 4½c for choice stock, and 2½c to 4c for culls, per lb. The market for calves is strong, and prices are steadily tending upward, owing to the scarcity and good demand, and sales were made at 5c to 7c per lb., live weight.

A weak feeling developed in the market for hogs this morning, and prices brought 25c to 27½c per 100 lbs., as compared with 27½c paid last Wednesday, which makes a net decline since this day week of 40c to 67½c. This was due to the extra heavy run, there being over 2400 head on the market, and, as packers were by no means short of stock, it proved to be in excess of the requirements, and as sellers in many cases would not accept the reduction in values, they ordered their stock to be slaughtered and put in cold storage, with expectations of receiving better prices later on. Another depressing factor in the situation was the weak cable advices on Canadian bacon, which in some cases noted a decline of 4s to 5s per cwt. Sales of selected lots of hogs were made at $7.25 to $7.35 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Feb. 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 2400 head; active and steady; prime steers, $6.25 to $6.75; shipping, $5.50 to $6.25; butchers', $5 to $6; heifers, $4.25 to $5.25; cows, $3.50 to $5.25; bulls, $3.25 to $5.25; fresh cows and springers in good demand and steady, $35 to $65.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,000 head; active and 5c to 25c lower; heavy, $6.80 to $6.90; mixed, $6.75 to $6.85; yorkers, $6.65 to $6.85; pigs, $6.50 to $6.65; roughs, $5.50 to $5.90; stags, $4.50 to $5; dairies, $6.60 to $6.80.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 23,000 head; steady; heavy sheep and lambs slow; lambs, $6 to $7.75; yearlings, $6.25 to $6.75; wethers $5 to $6; ewes, $5 to $5.35; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $5.25.

OBITUARY.

LUMMISS.—A very sad event took place on Friday last, in the home of Mr. Daniel Lummiss, of Glanmire, in the very sudden death of his father, Mr. James Lummiss, at the age of 78 years, 11 months and 2 days.

Mr. Lummiss was born in Laxfield, in the County of Suffolk, England, on the 17th of March, 1831. He came to Canada in 1873. He was a miller by trade and was in business with D. J. Breeze, of Bridgewater, for some years. Afterwards he removed to a farm on the Hastings road, in the Township of Lake. He was predeceased by the partner of his life some twelve years ago and for the last ten years he has lived with his eldest son, Daniel.

The friends of the surrounding country showed their respect in their large attendance to the funeral, which took place at the home of his son, Daniel, on Sunday, Feb. 21st. The bearers were his six grandsons, Harry, Charles and Thomas, sons of Daniel Lummiss, and Willard, Allan and Lindsay, sons of Frank Lummiss. The remains were taken to St. Margaret's church, Glanmire, where service was held. The service was conducted by Rev. S. B. G. Wright and Mr. Morion. Rev. Mr. Wright also expressed his deep sympathy to the bereaved by a most pathetic sermon, in which he spoke well of the deceased and expressed his sorrow for the loss of a faithful old parishioner.

Mr. Lummiss leaves two sons, Daniel and Frank, of Glanmire, and four daughters, Mrs. Broadworth, of Madoc, Mrs. Gallinger, of Toronto, Mrs. Spencer and Miss Nellie, of Saskatchewan.

Many will be Helped by It.

TELLS HOW TO PREPARE A SIMPLE MIXTURE TO OVERCOME DISEASE.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes rheumatism.

As rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious kidney or urinary disorders or rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly.

BANK MANAGER FELL DEAD,

WAS ON HIS WAY TO OFFICE AND APPARENTLY IN GOOD HEALTH.

Montreal, Feb. 23.—Charles August Tiroux, second vice-president and local manager of the Banque de Hochelaga, dropped dead this morning on the way to his office. He was about 50 years of age and in good health.

Ask Yourself the Question.

Why not use Chamberlain's Pain Balm when you have rheumatism? We feel sure that the result will be prompt and satisfactory. One application relieves the pain, and many have been permanently cured by its use. 25 and 50 cent sizes. For sale by all druggists.

MISSIONARY INSTITUTE.

AT BELLEVILLE MARCH 1ST, 2ND AND 3RD.

The great wave of awakening Missionary interest, which is just now sweeping over our country, is dependent for its depth and permanence upon a revival of widespread missionary intelligence.

The Missionary Boards and Societies of all denominations, are seeking to promote this educational work, especially in the young life of the churches.

The Young People's Missionary movement, an international and interdenominational agency for providing educational facilities and training leaders, has been called into being to assist the Mission Bands in this all important work.

The Canadian Council of this movement has planned a series of mid-winter Missionary Institutes for the purpose of extending this educational and inspirational influence.

One of these institutes is to be held in Belleville, in Bridge street church Sunday school rooms, March 1st, 2nd and 3rd, 1909. There will be a missionary exhibit, missionary study classes, open conferences and an exhibition of moving and still pictures, illustrating both home and foreign work. All pastors, leaders and members of Young People's Societies, officers and workers in Sunday schools and others interested in missionary work are cordially invited to be present. There will be no registration fee charged, and the people of Belleville will provide accommodation for those coming from outside places. Circulars have been sent to all the surrounding churches and a large delegation may be expected.

Scotchmen Banquet Belleville and Campbellford Brethren.

Gala Time Spent on Thursday Evening Last —Clans will Gather Here in August.

On Thursday last Mackay camp, Sons of Scotland, received a fraternal visit from members of Rob Roy Camp, Belleville, and Gordon Camp, Campbellford, in their lodge-room here, and a very lively and enthusiastic meeting was held. The main question of the evening before the gathering was whether Madoc should have the gathering of the clans here or not. After much discussion it was decided to have them assemble here in August, when one of the best day's program will be put on that has ever been given here.

Mackay Camp has had the honor of first instituting this day, and so successful were they in their venture that both Gordon and Rob Roy have each in turn had a day that has proven even more successful than the one preceding. With the promise of a hearty support from each of these camps Mackey camp will be cheered on in their endeavor to furnish one of the best day's program imaginable.

This and the routine business of the lodge completed, the members accompanied by their visiting brethren marched to the "skirl o' the pipes" to Moon's hotel where Mine Host Blue provided an excellent spread to which about fifty did ample justice.

The supper over a lengthy program was put on of toasts, songs, and bagpipe numbers by Mr. Wm. McIntosh, of Belleville. Worthy Chief A. MacGregor occupied the chair and as each number of the pleasant program was called it was heartily responded to. Among the visiting brethren were Bros. Wm. and John McIntosh, Chief Alex. Morrice, Peter MacGregor, Captain Brown and Lieut. Wilson, of Belleville and Bros. Fred Wood, Thos. Oulton, John Shaw, B. M. Fredrick, Doxsee and Harper Shaw, of Campbellford.

Is Your Chest "Wheezy?"

Tightness and wheezing means your trouble is deep-seated. To delay is dangerous. Inflammation must be drawn out at once. Rub throat and chest with Nerviline, and put on a Nerviline Porous Plaser. Relief comes in an hour. The counterirritant effect of the plaster relieves the tightness and strain, draws out the soreness, eases the pain. The penetrating qualities of Nerviline enables it to soak to the very core of the trouble, and you experience a feeling of warmth and relief that proves the danger is past. For weak chest, sore throat and tendency to colds, the Nerviline Treatment beats all others, try it.

Orange Grand Master at Queensboro.

NEW LODGE ROOM DEDICATED AND PUBLIC HALL OPENED.

To Queensboro and the members of L.O.L. No. 437 belongs the honor of having their new hall and lodge-room opened under very auspicious circumstances. Even on such occasions it is not easy to secure the presence of the Sovereign Grand Master of British America, whose time is always in demand and whose parliamentary duties keep the present occupant of this position particularly busy during the session of the House at Ottawa. Therefore, it was a marked compliment to the Orange Association of this part of the County of Hastings to have Grand Master Sproule attend the opening ceremonies at Queensboro on Friday evening last, and his presence will no doubt have the effect of stimulating the Order in that section to even greater enthusiasm than heretofore.

The heavy rain during the afternoon and evening kept many away, but as it was the spacious new hall was comfortably filled. The dinner served by the lady friends of the Lodge left nothing to be desired, either in quantity or quality, and was done ample justice to by all. At the public meeting afterwards the speakers were Dr. Sproule, Grand Master, and Bros. Rev. E. A. Saunderson, of Madoc, and Ralph Fulcher, of Marmora. It is needless to say that the addresses were able and interesting. Rarely, indeed, have the public, and even the brethren, an opportunity of hearing a more masterly exposition of the aims and objects, the principles, and the duties of Orangeism and Orangemen. Hearty votes of thanks were tendered the speakers. The Worshipful Master of No. 437, Mr. Alex. Glover, presided as Chairman, and the choir gave an excellent programme of music, with solos by Miss Howe and Mr. Davis.

The lodge room was afterwards dedicated by the Grand Master, assisted by several of the brethren. "God Save the King" brought a highly successful fuaction to a close.

The Gingerbread Tree.

There is a species of palm, growing to a height of from twenty-five to thirty feet, in Egypt, Arabia, Abyssinia and Nubia which produces its fruit in long clusters, each containing from 100 to 200. These fruits are of an irregular form, of a rich yellowish brown color and are beautifully polished. In upper Egypt they form part of the food of the poorer classes of inhabitants, the part eaten being the fibrous, mealy husk, which tastes almost exactly like gingerbread, whence the popular name of gingerbread tree in Egypt. Hyphoene thebaica is the botanical name of this palm.

How It Struck Him.

It was 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in a crowded Brooklyn trolley car, and above the noise arose the wails of a leather lunged baby protesting against everything. After two miles of this din the mother left with her child, when a young man in the front end of the car thus expressed his sentiments:

Gee whiz! I'm glad I'm free!
No wedding bells for me.

Women and Ships.

"But, Mr. Mainbrace, why do they always call a ship 'she?'"

"Lor', miss, you wouldn't ask that ef you'd ever tried to steer one."

Eighty Years Old.

JOSEPH BANKSON, A PROMINENT INSURANCE MAN AND MUCH ESTEEMED CITIZEN OF BETHANY, ILL., STRONGLY RECOMMENDS

VINOL FOR OLD PEOPLE.

"I am past eighty years of age and for some time I had been losing strength and suffering from a chronic cold and lung trouble, until I was seriously ill and could not go out of doors. My son sent me some Vinol. I commenced to take it and it has simply worked wonders for me. I feel better and stronger than I have for years, and my cough is all gone. There is no other medicine equal to Vinol to build up health and strength for elderly people." Joseph Bankson, Bethany, Ill.

This is because Vinol is the best cod liver and iron tonic in the world. It creates a hearty appetite, strengthens the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood and replaces weakness with strength. The beneficial effect of Vinol in cases of feeble old people is simply remarkable.

We invite all old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, convalescents, or those suffering from chronic colds, coughs or bronchitis in this vicinity to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it does no good. We make this offer to show our faith in Vinol. W. P. J. Alexander, Druggist, Madoc.

Winnipeg Anarchists are becoming active. They have secured Mrs. Parsons of Chicago for a series of lectures.

For That Terrible Itching.

Eczema, tetter and salt rheum keep their victims in perpetual torment. The application of Chamberlain's Salve will instantly allay this itching, and many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by all druggists.

President Plumber of the Steel Company and President Ross of the Coal Company confirm the report that overtures for a peaceful settlement have been made.

Are You Subject To Colds?

Then don't load your stomach with cough syrups. Send healing medication through the nostrils—send it into the passages that are subject to colds and catarrh. Easy to do this with Catarrhozone, which cures a cold in ten minutes. Even to the lungs goes the healing vapor of Catarrhozone—all through the bronchial tubes, nostrils and air passages—every where a trace of disease remains will Catarrhozone follow. You'll not have colds nor will you suffer from sniffles, bronchitis or throat trouble if Catarrhozone is used. Get it to-day. 25 cts. and $1.00 at all dealers.

Herman Beare and Thomas Howard were assessed $40.95 in the Police Court at Woodstock for sowing rye in a field of wheat belonging to William Forman. They were then allowed to go on suspendended sentence.

—Thomas Jackson, a former citizen of Trenton, but now residing at Bayside met with a terrible accident in his portable saw mill on Friday last. His right arm got caught in the carrier which takes away the saw dust, and before it could be removed the arm and part of his side were torn away. Death ensued from the injuries.

Days of Dizziness

COME TO MANY MADOC PEOPLE.

There are days of dizziness, spells of drowsiness, headache, sideache, backache.

Sometimes rheumatic pain after urinary trouble.

Booth's kidney pills cure all kidney ills.

Mrs. D. McGillivray, of Madoc, Ont., says: "I was run down and my general health was gradually becoming so affected as to alarm me. I became weak through constant suffering with my back, excruciating pains centering in the kidney region, extending into my sides and, under the shoulder blades. I could not stoop nor straighten up nor could I get up from a chair without supporting myself with both hands. I was restless and nervous and would lie awake most of the night. I would usually get up with a headache and feeling faint and dizzy. Doctors had failed to relieve me but Booth's Kidney Pills procured at Alexander's Pharmacy cured me. I am well and strong and will gladly recommend them as an ideal remedy for long standing cases of kidney trouble."

SHIP'S CARGO ON FIRE

Seamer Sokoto at Halifax Reports Thrilling Time.

Flames From Burning Sisal In Her Hold Leaped Over the Top of the Vessel's Funnels — Steam Forced Into Cargo to Smother the Flames —Men Dragged Out of Gas-Filled Hold With Chain Hooks.

Halifax, Feb. 23.—The Elder-Dempster liner Sokoto, Capt. Pierce, arrived from Mexico yesterday morning, with four passenger and a full cargo, including 5,000 bales of sisal. When the Sokoto was off the coast of Florida and three days' sail from Newport News, the sisal in No. 3 hold was discovered to be on fire. The hatches were battened down and steam was injected into the hold to smother the blaze. For three days the crew fought the fire, and when they arrived at Newport News it was still raging. Four fire-boats were alongside as soon as the steamer dropped anchor, and the hold was flooded. The fire was put out and the sisal was removed to pump out the water. Outside of the deck being slightly buckled there was no damage done the ship. The crew had a thrilling experience fighting the flames, which at one time were leaping over the top of the steamer's funnels. When the flames were subdued it was found that the hold in which was the refrigerator containing the food supplies was filled was gas. Two stewards and the chief engineer were overcome trying to get food out, and had not use been made of the electric fan, which was kept going in the face of a man lowered into the hold to ward off the gas, the crew and passengers would have fared badly. The gas was so overpowering that the men who went into the hold had to be dragged out with chain hooks.

Haven't Considered Merger.

Sydney, N.S., Feb. 23.—J. H. Plummer of the Dominion Iron & Steel Co. says that the present agreement with the Coal company expires in March and discussion of a new one will take place immediately.

Asked as to a possible merger, he said that the present was no time to discuss future action along that line.

He answered that the matter had not been considered, neither had a merger with the Coal company, but he did not consider that it was wise for the Steel company to carry on coal mining as a commercial proposition.

Doesn't Want Colonies.

New York, Feb. 23.—"In case of emergency, Great Britain would not spend $5 to hold Canada and Australia as her colonies," said Dean I. W. Russell of the University Law School, in a speech before the People's Institute.

"As a matter of fact, England has found the United States a much more profitable friend of hers as a separate nation than as a vassal, and she might not be unwilling to lose the Dominion and the Antipodes on the same ground."

Looking For Bomb Makers.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 23.—B. Klein Singh, an educated Hindu in the service of the Imperial Government at Simla, recently visited Vancouver and adjacent cities for the purpose of investigating the alleged manufacture of bombs by East Indians for use in the revolutionary movement in India.

He proceeded from here to Seattle and thence to San Francisco. He is now in Honolulu.

Was Holland Going West?

Winnipeg, Feb. 23.—It is believed that Chris. M. Holland, alias David Newhall, arrested in Philadelphia on a charge of forgery on an extensive scale, was about to visit Winnipeg. Two letters await a Geo. F. Newhall at the Royal Alexandra, one from Philadelphia, evidently written in a feminine hand marked "To be called for," and the other from the War Department at Washington.

Pullman Rates Too High.

Kingston, Feb. 23.—The price charged for day service on the Grand Trunk Pullman is $1 from Toronto to Montreal.

Kingstonians are asked to pay 75 cents to Toronto, and 90 cents to Montreal. It is considered unfair and the Board of Trade will seek to have the old rate of 50 cents a seat restored.

Insurance Men's Views.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—Messrs. J. K. Macdonald of the Confederation Life and Thomas Bradshaw of the Imperial Life, who presented the views of the life insurance companies last session, in regard to the proposed amendments in the Dominion Insurance Act, are in the city to-day in connection with the same subject.

Tornado In Kansas.

Wichita, Kans., Feb. 23.—The Missouri Pacific depot and four buildings at Reece, Kans., a village 40 miles east of Wichita, were destroyed by a wind storm yesterday. No one was killed and no one was seriously injured.

The property loss in the district northwest of Reece will be heavy.

Consecration March 25.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—The new bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Toronto, Ven. Archdeacon Sweeny, will be consecrated in his new position on March 25 next.

This is the decision of the Bishop of Ottawa, senior bishop, whose duty is to decide this.

Six Crushed to Death.

Tula, Russia, Feb. 23.—Six persons were crushed to death and 30 were seriously injured here yesterday during a fire panic in a moving picture theatre.

SMALLPOX AT PORT HOPE.

Attempt to Conceal Disease Has Disastrous Result.

Port Hope, Feb. 20.—Port Hope and surrounding district has been for some time in the grip of a smallpox opidemic, and that the local Board of Health and the physicians of the town have been neglectful in the handling of the trouble is an opinion heard on all sides.

When the disease first made its appearance some months ago, instead of the patients being isolated and one physician delegated to confine his entire attention to such cases, each local physician undertook to attend to his own patients. It is no whispered story that considerable political jealousy exists among the medical fraternity of Port Hope over a recent change in the appointment of a new medical advisor to Trinity school, and so each medical practitioner refuses to give up smallpox cases amongst his patients, except when eventually forced to do so by the progress of the disease.

Certain doctors, it is stated, deliberately walked from houses where they were in attendance upon the smallpox patients, to give medical attention to other patients.

In Port Hope town, two hotels and many private houses are under quarantine—in fact, up to the present no less than 30 cases have been reported, in spite of denials of town officials, who assign as their reason for denying the existence of so many cases a great desire to save the town all the expense possible.

The citizens of the town forced the local board's hand, public meetings being called in order to do so, although the report of the local Board of Health officer tended to minimize the seriousness of the situation.

Compulsory vaccination and houses quarantined have been the local measures employed. One constable was assigned to watch all the houses, and during his absence the inmates were free to go and come as they pleased. No attempts has been made to isolate patients. A provincial official is absolutely necessary to look over the situation in this district.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

With a rude hole in the sand cut for his final resting, and a piece of sacking for his shroud, the remains of a negro are buried at Pearl River. The mangled corpse was found on the track literally cut to pieces and was interred by section hands.

Another devotee of the long-distance walking craze has reached Port Arthur en route east. According to his story he has already covered the distance from Revelstoke, B.C., and will make Hamilton, Ont., his destination. His name is Charles Anderson.

Outlines Staff Scheme.

London, Feb. 20.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The text of the scheme for an imperial general staff has been issued in a Parliamentary paper. The following are the points:

1. All forces of Empire to be organized for war on the same principles by a general staff, which must be an entity throughout the Empire.

2. Uniformity of training officers for general staff to be secured by recognizing the staff college at Chamberley for some years to come as a central school for military education for the Empire, and sending its graduates to over sea dominions. There will be uniformity in officers' curriculums and examinations.

3. Uniformity in carrying out staff duties to be attained by encouraging graduates of staff colleges to undergo further training in England or India, and systematically interchanging with Imperial general staff officers throughout the Empire.

De Castellane Appeals.

Paris, Feb. 20.—Count Boni de Castellane has appealed from the decision of the French court, handed down Dec. 3, that his three sons remain in the custody of their mother, the present Princess de Sagan, who before she married De Castellane, from whom she secured a divorce, was Miss Anna Gould of New York. It is said that the count's purpose in trying to reopen this issue is to compel the De Sagans to come to a private settlement. The De Sagans are at present living quietly here. They say they are "saving money to pay De Castellane's debts."

His New Title.

Ottawa, Feb. 20.—John Douglas McLean, secretary of the Department of Indian Affairs, has been appointed Assistant Deputy Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Branch Lines Co. will apply to Parliament this session for authority to build a line from Regina to Moosejaw, 45 miles.

The Canadian Medical Association will apply this session for an act of incorporation.

More Eager Than Britain.

London, Feb. 20.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In the fiscal debate in the Commons yesterday, the Rt. Hon. Geo. Wyndham said as to our Imperial market there was a case for adopting a preference policy of tariffs. "All great powers brought into contact with Canada were deliberately designed to bring pressure on Canada to join with them before we were in a position to let Canada join us."

Castro Leaves Berlin.

CENTENNIAL BANQUET

Quebec Celebrates Founding of Board of Trade.

Big Gathering of Distinguished Canadians Present at Hundredth Anniversary of Organization of Body Designed to Protect Canada Against U. S.—Hon. Messrs. Lemieux and Fitzpatrick Speak.

Quebec, Feb. 22.—The centenary of the organization of the new Quebec Board of Trade was observed Saturday night by a banquet, attended by many prominent men, and by delegates from Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and other Boards of Trade.

Among the speakers were Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Premier Gouin, Hon. S. N. Parent and Sir C. A. Pelletier.

Major Hotherington, chairman of the board, outlined the history of the Quebec Board, which was organized at the request of the Halifax Trade Committee, in 1809 for the object of protecting Canada's trade with the West Indies against the United States, and its progress ever since.

Hon. R. Lemieux, in response to the toast to Canada, eulogized the growth and independence of the Dominion under English protection during the past one hundred years, likewise the country's vast resources and future prospects.

Sir Charles Fitzpatrick spoke of the drawbacks Quebec had to contend with in the past that retarded its progress, and pointed out that it was not until 1878 that the city obtained communication with the rest of Canada by the building of railroads, and only from this date did the prosperity of Quebec begin. He also referred to the G.T.P. and the building of the Quebec bridge, which was to benefit Quebec, and exhorted the Quebec Board of Trade if the city of Quebec were getting ready to meet the demand that those transportation interests would involve by the construction of terminals and docks to accommodate the shipping, etc. Not until how the people of Port Arthur were getting ready, and said Quebec should emulate their example if they desired to benefit by the Grand Trunk Pacific and Quebec bridge when completed.

ANGLIN IS PROMOTED.

Ontario Judge Goes to Supreme Court of Canada.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—Mr. Justice F. A. Anglin of the Exchequer Division of the Ontario High Court has been appointed to the vacancy on the Bench of the Supreme Court of Canada caused by the retirement on superannuation of Hon. Jas. Maclennan. In making the appointment the Minister of Justice had adhered to the policy of promotion from the Provincial High Court followed in making the recent Supreme Court appointments. It is understood that promotion was first offered to Mr. Justice Osler, but the latter again decided not to leave Toronto. The vacancy on the Ontario High Court Bench thus caused will probably not be filled for some weeks.

Judge Anglin, who is the son of the late Hon. Timothy Anglin, at one time Speaker of the Commons, was appointed to the High Court Bench in March, 1904. He brought to the duties of his high office "an infinite capacity for taking pains," which is an admirable trait in a judge.

Castro Suspended.

Caracas, Feb. 22.—Cipriano Castro has lost his title as President of Venezuela, the high court having rendered a decision that sufficient evidence had been presented in the suit brought against him by the Attorney-General at the instance of Senor Alcantara, Minister of the Interior, on the charge of having attempted to bring about the assassination of Juan Vicente Gomez, the acting President.

In its decision the High Federal Court transfers the suit to the Criminal Court and declares that Castro in consequence of this disclosures, is constitutionally suspended from the Presidency.

Body Is Cut In Two.

St. Thomas, Feb. 22.—Jas. Dickey, a yard employe, aged 42, was instantly killed in the local M.C.R. yards on Saturday morning. He was assisting to change engines on the express train and had just finished a coupling and stepped back on the opposite track, to be instantly knocked down by the uncoupled engine, which was backing up. Dickey's body was cut in tow. Dickey came from Corinth, Ont., six years ago, and had been on the railroad two years. Two sons and two daughters survive.

Roosevelt and the Catholics.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Rev. A. P. Doyle, rector of the apostolic mission house, called at the White House on Saturday and introduced to the President 25 young Catholic priests from all parts of the country, who are members of the class of 1909.

The object of the visit was to personally thank the President for what he had done for the Catholics of the country during his administration and the "square deal" they had received.

To Visit Dying Wife.

Winnipeg, Feb. 22.—Charles Rover, a Belgian workman, has arrived here, on a desperate tramp across Canada in the heart of winter, in the forlorn hope of working his way back to Europe to see his dying wife, who is a victim of consumption, and is appealing to him to come home and see her before she dies. He has no money, but is determined to comply with her wish, nevertheless, or perish in the attempt.

Graft Prosecution Fails.

Indianapolis, Feb. 22.—Henry W. Marshall of the Western Construction Co. of this city and former Speaker of the Indiana House of Representatives was acquitted by a jury in the Marion County Criminal Court here on Saturday of the charge of defrauding the city by excessive charges for asphalt paving repairs.

STOP SWEARING.

It Is Nothing But a Habit and Is Very Easily Cured.

"Don't swear or you'll catch no fish," was a remark made the other day by a venerable inhabitant to a much younger man who was emphasizing his talk by the use of some rather strong expletives. No one was engaged in fishing at the time, nor was a piscatorial excursion being thought of. The suggestion was made in the back room of a cigar store, where three or four men were talking over current events, and the utterance made by the aged citizen was intended, as he afterwards said, to show his abhorrence of the nonsensical use of "cuss words." Then he felt called upon to deliver a little homily to his companions, all of whom, like himself, are well-known residents of Washington.

"Men incur habits," he said, "that are really useless, and, in my opinion, swearing is one of the worst of them. One can see why, in moments of passion or great excitement, a person may indulge in swearing, but that some men, and I know several of them, should break out with a series of oaths in ordinary everyday conversation strikes me as beyond reason.

"I presume we have all met men who regard themselves and are so considered as gentlemen who rarely express a sentence without swearing. More than that, they seem rather proud of their proficiency in this direction. I tell you that swearing is a habit that a little determination will easily overcome."

The sermon, coming from the lips of a man whose hair and long beard were as white as snow, had a good effect. The cigar merchant was so impressed that he declared he would hang up a sign in his back room which should read, "Gentlemen Are Requested Not to Swear on These Premises." Whether they allowed themselves the privilege of "cussing" elsewhere, he said, was no affair of his.

HOLLAND IS IDENTIFIED

Toronto Man Planned Big Swindle in Philadelphia.

Missing Cashier Has Been Shown to Be the Man Who Is Posing as a Member of Big Engineering Firm—Had Arranged Huge Forgery Fraud Involving $80,000 on Toronto Banks —Faces Several Other Charges.

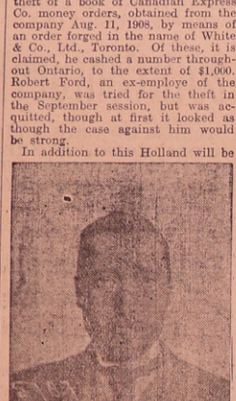

Toronto, Feb. 22.—Christopher M. Holland, arrested in Philadelphia by Supt. Walsh of the Canadian Detective Agency on Thursday, has been positively identified as the man posing as David Newhall of the Geo. M. Newhall Engineering Co., Ltd., of Philadelphia, who in two days laid what looks like the foundation for an $80,000 forgery swindle on a number of Toronto banks, and who got away with a marked check for $5,000 from the Imperial Bank branch at Queen and Yonge streets.

Holland will also be charged with theft of a book of Canadian Express Co. money orders, obtained from the company Aug. 11, 1908, by means of an order forged in the name of White & Co., Ltd., Toronto. Of these, it is claimed, he cashed a number throughout Ontario, to the extent of $1,000. Robert Ford, an ex-employe of the company, was tried for the theft in the September session, but was acquitted, though at first it looked as though the case against him would be strong.

In addition to this Holland will be charged with obtaining at St. Thomas on Aug. 7, 1908, a book of Dominion Express Co. money orders on a forged order purporting to be signed by Thomas Bros., Ltd., of that city. Of these, $2,500 worth were forged and cashed in different parts of Ontario.

Inspector Duncan said Saturday: "All credit for this arrest belongs to Supt. Welsh. He did good work."

Holland is well known in Toronto. He was a prominent resident of Parkdale until some three years ago it came out that he was an embezzler from the firm for which he was accountant. He was arrested in England.

He was brought back and sentenced to the Central Prison. A week ago, a writ was issued by him here claiming $10,000 damages from a bank manager in British Columbia, alleging alienation of his wife's affections. Holland saw service in South Africa.

It appears that Holland, passing as an engineer of large mining interests, came to the city Feb. 11 and stayed at the King Edward. He brought letters of introduction, forged and genuine, from bankers and prominent legal firms in Philadelphia, Buffalo and other large American cities. He used the name of Newhall.

At the Imperial Bank, Queen and Yonge streets, he deposited a check for $10,000, drawn to his own credit on the First National Bank of Philadelphia, a forgery; another for $5,000 was deposited later in the day from another American bank, and still another for $5,000 on the Imperial Bank of this city to which was forged the name of Cassells, and the acceptance marking of the bank. He then obtained a marked check for $5,000, which he drew against this account. That was Friday, the 12th, and he left the city for Philadelphia at 3.45 that afternoon. He had made similar deposits with nearly all the city banks, but nowhere else, as far as is known, made any effort to draw any money.

The letter with which Holland introduced himself to Joseph Henderson, manager of the Bank of Toronto, and to whom it was addressed, is typewritten on the letter paper of Messrs. Bartlett, Chamberlain and Smith, a prominent firm of attorneys in Buffalo. It is signed in the name of the firm and reads:

"As we have had some very satisfactory dealings through your bank, we take pleasure in introducing to you Mr. David Newhall of the George M. Newhall Engineering Co., Ltd., of Philadelphia—a very good client of ours. Mr. Newhall is going to Toronto and thence north to the new silver district of Gowgaada in the interests of himself, his brother, George M. Newhall, Senator Boice Penrose of Philadelphia, Jacob C. Dold, Edward L. Hengerer and others of Buffalo."

Historic Building Gutted.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 22.—Fire gutted historic old McDowell Hall, the central building of the group, composing St. John's College, and about which cluster many of the most revered traditions of that ancient seat of learning. While the interior was completely destroyed, the massive walls, three feet thick and built of bricks brought from England, withstood the flames.

London and Fort William are asking Sunday cars of the Legislature. London also wants a New Year election day.

A fine healthy boy, about five days old, was found in a confessional box in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, New York.

Starting from Kingston across the ice for his home, Michael Coley of Lockport, aged 55, lost his way and perished. His body was found on Club Island.

The natural gas pocket struck on the Kinleith Paper Co.'s property on the canal bank at St. Catharines, has petered out. The drillers are down 500 feet, but no more gas has been found.

After selecting the cloth for the dress she was to wear at her graduation from a school of elocution, Flora Fullerton Heath, aged 20, of Moriah, N.Y., hanged herself from a door in her room at Boston.

Osteopaths seek recognition in Ontario by the establishment of a college, graduates of which may be permitted to practice their art. An act of incorporation has been applied for from the Legislature.

Indian Runs Amuck.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 23.—With an ear-splitting warhoop, a Navajo Indian war chief ran amuck in the Union Station on Sunday and fatally stabbed and cut Mrs. Anna Devord of Huntington, W.Va., and Max Meyers of Cincinnati, and seriously wounded Joseph W. Gordon of Cambridge, Ills. The Navajo with four Sioux chiefs from Kansas alighted from a crowded Chesapeake & Ohio train As the passengers stepped from the train the Indian, with a yell, drew a long knife and started through the crowd slashing right and left.

The Indian, who had been to Washington to see the Secretary of the Interior, was sullen while in the train, passengers say, but he evinced no signs of frenzy, until the passengers were leaving the train.

Work of Bells at Sea.

New York, Feb. 23.—Fifty naval and shipping men were witnesses yesterday of experiments off Sandy Hook to demonstrate how a submarine signal bell can assist vessels to make port safely in foggy weather or to avoid collisions under like conditions. Although blindfolded at the wheel of a sea-going tug, a pilot brought the boat close up to the Ambrose channel lightship from three miles out at sea guided only by the tinkle of the lightship's bell. He had the receiver of this bell at his ear the whole three miles and he gave the order "stop her" to the tug's engine crew less than 100 yards from the lightship.

Seven Killed In Wreck.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 23.—Seven men were killed or burned to death early yesterday in a head-on collision between an express train and two locomotives on the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Delmar, 100 miles south of this city. Two passengers were injured. Princess Trixie, the educated horse, was burned to death. She had been exhibited and appeared three times before King Edward, each time receiving a handsome present from His Majesty, the last one being a magnificent headpiece.

How Waters Have Receded.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 23.—Workmen employed in digging a 15-foot cutting through a hill in Hastings Townsite on Rupert road, south of the Great Northern tracks, came across a layer of soft stone entirely composed of the petrified remains of sea worms and clam shells.

This discovery goes to show that Hastings townsite, which is now at a fair elevation, must at one time have been buried under the sea.

Jeweler Becomes Millionaire.

Glace Bay, N.S., Feb. 23.—J. W. Brown, jeweler, here, received a letter Saturday from a sister in London, England, informing him of the death of his mother, and that as one of her three heirs he was entitled to a fortune. His share is estimated at $1,500,000. A few years ago he worked for Henry Birks & Son of Montreal.

Premier Scott's Departure.

Regina, Sask., Feb. 23.—Premier Scott's return from the east and almost immediate departure for the east Sunday night, revived rumors that he will take the vacant place on the Railway Commission. He, however, has left for Jamaica and the Bermudas, where he will spend the balance of the winter months.

Gold at Sturgeon Lake.

Montreal, Feb. 23.—A gold discovery was announced at the office of the G.T.P. It is at Sturgeon Lake, and there will be a rush into the country as soon as the snow is off the ground to permit traveling.

Manitoba's 'Phones.

Winnipeg, Feb. 23.—The statement of the result of the first year's operations of the Government telephone system will be made public this week, probably to-day, by Hon. Robert Rogers. A substantial reduction in prices will likely be announced.

Girl Drowned.

Coboconk, Feb. 23.—The eight-year-old daughter of Henry Bradford went down to the river to get a pail of water, when she slipped on the ice and fell into the hole and was drowned. Her body was found half a mile down the river under the ice.

Dessler May Recover.

Olean, N.Y., Feb. 23.—Nelson Dessler, who killed Police Capt. Hassett Sunday morning, rallied well after an operation at the General Hospital Sunday night, and the doctors say he will recover unless gangrene sets in.

TELEGRAM EXPLAINED

Man Who Altered Borden's Message Confessed to Bishop.

Leader of Opposition Presents Statement In the House Which Ends Charges of Liberals — Lancaster Tells Why Senate Should Be Abolished — Its Usefulness Has Gone, He Says—Postal Banks.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—The last word has been said in connection with the alteration of the now famous telegram which R. L. Borden sent to The Victoria Colonist, assuring the people of the Pacific Province that he believed in "a white British Columbia," and to which the words were surreptitiously added, "and the absolute exclusion of Asiatics."

Rising in the House yesterday to a question of privilege, Mr. Borden said the following document had been sent to him by the management of The Colonist, to whom apparently it had been delivered by the Bishop of British Columbia:

To whom it may concern:

"After hearing a full statement in the nature of a confession from a man who altered a telegram sent to this city by Mr. R. L. Borden, so that the telegram was read to the public and published on a basis of untruth, I have been requested by this man to make public the fact that this telegram was handed to him by the telegraph editor of The Colonist, to be delivered at a public meeting.

"That instead of going directly to the meeting he went into an office, copied out the telegram as altered by him and destroyed the original and had this altered telegram sent to the meeting, passed on to the platform, before it came into the hands of those in charge of the meeting, and was read to the public and published.

"The man guilty of the act had no confederate or confident. No one knew of his act or had any reason for suspecting him, and the only reason for making this public is to remove all suspicion from the management of The Colonist newspaper and from members of the executive of the Conservative party, at whose meeting the telegram was read.

"It was an individual act arising from misguided political zeal, and not due to any incitement or persuasion.

(Signed) "W. W. Columbia."

Feb. 5, 1909.

E. A. Lancaster's Senate abolition resolution had the right of way after the preliminaries in the House. He presented some excellent arguments, but his proposal was generally considered too drastic. Reform, not abolition, seems to be favored.

E. A. LANCASTER.

Mr. Lancaster desired that the question be discussed in a non-party spirit. It was a wrong thing that the Senate should be in a position to refuse supplies to the Government and if there was no other reason for abolition that would be sufficient. Even the Senators themselves agreed that the Senate was not working well, and as it appeared there could be no agreement as to the best way to bring about reform, the best thing to do was to remove the institution altogether.

It would be no good to reduce the number of Senators. Why should you give fewer men the veto power over 221 commoners who are responsible to the people? The veto power would still be in the King, through his representative.

The cost of the Senate was about $318,000 a year and this amount would go a long way to establish free rural mail delivery, cheap rural telephones, or to abolish level crossings.

E. W. Nesbitt (N. Oxford) defended the Senate, declaring it to be a necessary and useful body. There were measures rushed through the Commons which should properly be stopped and if the Senate was not doing the work it should do, Sir Wilfrid Laurier could be relied on to bring about reforms. The Senate included some of the ablest men in Canada, and if a board of directors were required for a great corporation, it could be better furnished from the Senate than from the House of Commons.

Mr. Turgeon (Gloucester, N.B.) strongly opposed abolition and suggestions of reform did not meet with his approval. He preferred an appointive to an elective Senate.

Dr. Sproule thought what the Senate required was reform, not abolition. The Senate had been debased by the character of the political appointments made by the present Government.

County Judge to Investigate.

Woodstock, Feb. 23.—The special committee appointed by the County Council to investigate charges of graft in connection with the building of roads in Oxford reported yesterday. They have got a lot of information, and this they want to be repeated in the forth of evidence under oath. The county judge will investigate.

AUDITORS' REPORT

OF THE UNITED TOWNSHIPS OF

Elzevir & Grimsthorpe

FOR THE YEAR 1908.

We, the undersigned Auditors, have examined the Treasurer's book of accounts and vouchers, and have found them correct.

Leaving Overdraft on Bank of	$2004 58

We have examined the bonds of the Collector and Treasurer, and have found them satisfactory.

On comparing the Treasurer's bank book with the cash book, we have found that the Collector has not made any returns to the Treasurer since Dec. 15, 1908, while he has deposited in the bank the sum of $625.92. We would respectfully recommend that the Council call the Collector's attention to the fact that he is not making returns every two weeks as called for by statute. We also find that there is an item of interest of $25.65 charged in the bank against the township, which has not been presented for payment, and would urge that the bank present their account of interest previous to the December meeting.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Example of Charles Dudley Warner's Infinite Painstaking.

The extraordinary pains and patience with which Charles Dudley Warner did his literary work are shown in an account given by a writer in the New Amstel magazine of the strenuous way in which Mr. Warner produced an obituary notice some years ago.

Professor Edward L. Youmans was a close personal friend of Mr. Warner, and on that account when Mrs. Youmans died the editor of a daily paper asked Mr. Warner to write a sort of personal appreciation of her. This he consented to do.

He was left alone from 10 a. m. until half past 12, when he went to lunch. Returning at 2 o'clock, he worked without interruption until 4 o'clock, when he turned over to the editor what he had written.

Yet the work was not complete. Mr. Warner read the first proof and in succession three revised sheets.

Each time he made change after change in phraseology, seeking out the one right word, while even in the nicety of paragraphing he seemed to make clearer what he desired to express. Nor did the close revision end with the marking of the last proof.

After the paper had gone to press and the first sheets had been brought up to the composing room for an O. K. Mr. Warner looked wistfully at the editor and observed:

"Would you object to lifting the form? I see a sentence in the last paragraph that might be somewhat changed. She was too good, you know, to have a slovenly tribute paid to her."

Even the printers refused to get angry over the delay, and forthwith the form was sent up and changes went on for an hour. At last, though publication was delayed fully two hours, the editor, but not Mr. Warner, had the supreme satisfaction of knowing that the work was as nearly perfect as human art could make it, and the edition was sent out.

FIRST NIGHTS.

The Way They Affected Some Famous French Playwrights.

The first night with authors is viewed with different feelings. This is how it affected some famous French playwrights. Sardou's nervousness was well known. Dumas fils was never able to preserve his sangfroid. As soon as the curtain rose Dumas pere would betake himself to a restaurant and dine from as many courses as his new piece had acts. His son reported on the success of the piece. At the first representation of "Toussaint Louverture" Lamartine found his work so tedious that he went to a cafe and read the papers. Balzac when he produced "Ressources de Quinola" spent the day in selling tickets at a rate higher than at the box office and reaped a fine return.

Paul de Kock, seated in the orchestra, we also read, protested against his piece and made so much noise that his neighbors demanded silence. Casmir Delavigne remained at home. Alexandre Soumet went to be shaved when "Jeanne d'Arc" was produced. The barber had finished one cheek when the author cried: "Stop! Here are 30 sous. Go round to the theater and see if they hiss or applaud the piece." The barber returned, saying: "It is a success, monsieur. They applaud." "Since it is a success," replied the author, "shave the other." Scribe appeared in the best of spirits and encouraged the actors, but at the end he became nervous and tore his handkerchief with his teeth. Rossini walked about the back of the stage with his cane in his hand. Auber was never present on the first night of his works, and Bayard on reaching the stage is reported to have said that he experienced sudden illness.

Smoothed the Sea.

"We have a very smooth sea this morning. It is like a sheet of glass. You don't always have it like this?"

"No, sir," was the answer, "but, you see, they knowed as how you were coming today, so the authorities at Southport telephoned to the corporation at Blackpool, and they at once ordered out the steam roller and rolled the sea down for the occasion. That is why it is so smooth."—London Tit-Bits.

The "Spotting" Method.

Considerable interest is being manifested throughout the Province in the methods being employed by the Provincial Secretary's department at Toronto in coralling the hotelkeepers who furnish intoxicants to minors—or as has been proven in some of the recent cases—to parties who would be taken by the average citizen to be several years in advance of a minor. It will be remembered by our readers that several hotelkeepers appeared before a local magistrate only a few weeks ago, and in nearly every instance convictions were made. In each of these instances the one who was used as a decoy was a young man who posed as a youth of 17—which in all probability he may have been—but to the casual observer he had the appearance of having seen 22 summers, and weighed about 150 pounds. Two of our leading physicians had no hesitancy in swearing that this youth was, to all appearance, over twenty-one years of age. Now the question arises, "How is the average bartender or hotelman to ascertain the positive age of such a personage who to all appearances is a fully developed man and is taken by the public as such. This was clearly proven in the recent Frankford liquor trials at Belleville, when Magistrate Masson dismissed the cases after the boy swearing he was seventeen years of age, yet eleven witnesses, called in behalf of the defence, stated that in their opinion the young man was 22 years of age. The Magistrate dismissed the case, holding that it was not a question of his age entirely, but a question of his apparent age, as plainly stated in the statute.

The "spotting" method is getting to be a very unpopular one, and men who are engaged in this decoy work are given a wide berth by the majority of citizens in whose community he endeavors to operate.

The Mother and the Church.

In one of the Toronto churches last week there was a woman's social meeting, and the pastor, in announcing the affair from the pulpit, said that he hoped no woman in the congregation would remain away because she could not leave home on account of the baby.

"Don't leave the baby," he said. "Bring the baby. We want mothers here with their babies—the more of them the better. The other women will not object, and if any of them should it will make no difference.

This was very well, and many heard the announcement with approval. But in a Roman Catholic church in Philadelphia on the same day the priest announced a woman's meeting in terms that went even further.

"To this meeting," he said, "no woman will be admitted without a baby. It will constitute her ticket of admission."

There is something about these two announcements that brings the Church and the home into harmony. It is as it there had been cancelled an unjust penalty that has too long attached to those women who are the joyful and contented mothers of the race.

What figures ever seen in a place of worship look more fitting, more in accord with the religious atmosphere than a group of mothers bearing their infants to the baptismal font?

—Moses performed quite a feat when he led the people of Israel across the Red Sea on foot and without wetting their feet. The men who walked from the shore to Luna Island on the bottom of the Niagara River the other day have also made a record.

—The Coal Company, on having a verdict of $20,000,000 given against it by the Privy Council, may find comfort in the news that seven negro householders in Atlanta, charged with not keeping their premises clean, were each fined $30,000,000 by a magistrate, but were finally allowed to settle on paying $1 and costs in cash.

—Mr. Henry Farman, perhaps the most noted aviator, next to the Wrights, says: "By reason of its development as a sport, the aeroplane is bound to have a very serious influence on the automobile. Certainly, long-distance touring, with costly, high-powered cars will fall off in popularity at a very early date."

And now the farmer is beginning to wonder which his horses will "scare" most at, the automobile or the aeroplane.

Reasons Why

In adding a Special Order department to this business and meeting the certain demand for clothing-to-measure, we urge the following reasons why our system of custom tailoring is in advance of anything previously attempted :

FIRST—
We affiliate with the largest and finest tailoring organization in Canada, and send all orders to where they have every facility for doing things right.

SECOND—
This establishment controls the very best tailoring skill, the best designers and cutters naturally preferring regular employment at high wages to the uncertain income of a small town.

THIRD—
The range of fabrics is much larger and more exclusive than we could possibly afford in the ordinary way, and allows the best possible selection at no greater expense.

FOURTH—
Each particular garment is tailored by a specialist, insuring absolute perfection in fit and finish, and such concentration of effect as is only possible where they have experts for each line.

FIFTH—
We give an absolute guarantee with every Custom-Tailored Suit and Overcoat, and such measure of satisfaction as will bring you again, and encourage you to send us your friends.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once and see! Sold by all dealers.

—During the present year the Ontario Government will proceed upon a large scale with the projected colonization scheme which, it is expected, will result in the settling of large areas of the land now lying idle in the province. The province's new office in London, England, has been opened and a vigorous policy will be pursued in order to interest a desirable class of immigrants to come here.

—General Manager Hays says that $50,000,000 would be required to eliminate the three thousand level crossings on the Grand Trunk railway. But that is no reason why the process of their removal should not begin forthwith. The burden should be so distributed that reasonable proportions thereof will fall upon the railways, the municipalities, the Provinces and the Dominion.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablets—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—cause blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, through safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain always is. It's simply Common Sense.

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets

"ALL DEALERS"

The Sheriff and the Chauffeur.

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

The farm gate creaked loudly, and Annie Jane hopped out of bed and ran to the window. Two triangular patches of light on the driveway, followed by a dark bulk, betrayed the arrival of an automobile. The voices of men raised in angry altercation floated through the open window.

"Oh, dear! He's caught another one," wailed Annie Jane sleepily as she lighted a candle and proceeded to brush her pretty brown hair.

The mirror reflected a lovely face, full of sweetness and modesty, with soft curves and enchanting dimples. "If mother was only at home to take turns with me"—

"Coming, father," yawned Annie Jane, buttoning herself into a little pink frock she had worn that afternoon.

When she entered the kitchen her father was sitting on a corner of the table fussing with an old fashioned revolver. Beside him was a shotgun.

Every separate snowy whisker of the sheriff bristled with hostility when he glanced toward the lawbreaker whom he had captured.

The unhappy prisoner was lounging, his chair tilted back against the wall. He was also smoking a cigarette and eyeing his warlike captor with good natured tolerance. He jumped to his feet when he saw Annie Jane, and the cigarette performed a parabola into the coal scuttle.

"Sit down!" roared Peter Lamson. "I reckon you don't realize you're a prisoner, young man! Now, Annie Jane," he added, turning to the girl, "I'm going over to get the justice and have him"—

"You better let me take you over in my car," interrupted the prisoner eagerly.

The sheriff glared at him wrathfully. "Yes, and when you get me out in the road you'll run away with me just as a chawfer did with a sheriff down Scougog way! As I said, Annie Jane," he continued, turning his broad back on the prisoner and addressing his daughter, "I'm going to ride over to Justice Wainwright's and get him to come over. If he ain't to home, I'll get Smith. But I wanted Wainwright to know I'm looking after things on the Willow road."

"Oh, I say, sheriff," said the prisoner, withdrawing his glance from Annie Jane's dowcast face, "I"—

"You keep still, young feller!" thundered Peter Lamson, unbending his figure to its full height. "Now, you understand that whatever you say will be used agin you! Do you march into that pantry, double quick!"

The chauffeur measured the sheriff with a calculating eye. At the end of a minute his gaze encountered Annie Jane's appealing glance. Then he bowed his head and disappeared within the dark pantry.

The sheriff slammed the door, locked it and hung the key on a convenient nail. Then he opened a sliding door in the wall of the pantry.

"Now, Annie Jane, you set here in front of the little door, and if that chawfer tries to get out do you use this weepon on him! Better aim for his feet. That'll stop him quicker'n anything else." He thrust the revolver into his daughter's reluctant grasp.

Peter Lamson bent his head until his white whiskers brushed Annie Jane's pink ear. "It ain't loaded," he whispered hoarsely. Then, with an elaborate wink at the girl, he left the room.

Five minutes later Annie Jane, crouched in the Boston rocker, facing the pantry, heard the rattle of wheels as her father rode out of the gate. Just then a tall clock in the corner chimed 12.

"Put the revolver on the table if you are afraid of it; I won't try to escape," said a reassuring voice from the pantry. Framed in the opening was the good looking face of the prisoner.

"If you'll promise," said Annie Jane relievedly. She placed the weapon on the table and resumed her seat.

"Father is very—very conscientious," she murmured apologetically.

There was a distinct chuckle from the pantry. "I have noticed that," remarked the chauffeur dryly.

"Father has only been a sheriff since the first of the month," she further explained. "You know there is a signboard down the road which says that motorists must slow down to ten miles and—"

"I'm aware of it. That's what happened to me!"

"It happens to so many of them," sighed Annie Jane. "And then father catches them and they are so rude. Some of them offer money to let them go again. They offer bribes."

"What did father say when you tried to bribe him?" she asked demurely.

"He said—he said he was the only sheriff in the county that couldn't be bought," said the prisoner soberly.

Annie Jane nodded. "Father is like that," she said simply. "He sought the appointment because he believed that he had the moral courage to refuse a bribe. Our new justice, Mr. Wainwright, says the lives of the people in this community shall not be endangered by the reckless driving of autoists. He says they shall observe the law! We have never seen Mr. Wainwright, but father says he's the right man in the right place."

The prisoner smiled somewhat grimly. "Of course you look at it from another point of view," said Annie Jane courteously. "I hope your employer will—will pay the fine."

"Thank you," said the prisoner gently.

There was a long silence after that, broken now and then by the dropping of a coal into the grate of the cooking stove. Annie Jane was observing the leathern cap and goggles and huge fur coat flung across a chair. Somehow the prisoner in the pantry did not seem to be like the majority of motorists whom the conscientious sheriff captured in the night watches.

As a rule, the prisoners were dusty and grimy, with oily hands blackened and discolored. They were of every nationality and temperament, but one and all concurred in that they were unjustly detained.

This young man, however, had a clean cut, clever face, with a determined jaw and keen blue eyes. He was an American; his hands were brown and strong and well kept. Annie Jane liked good hands.

"Nonsense! I'm not going to have you frightened to death," retorted the prisoner authoritatively.

"I am afraid of it—but I promised to keep you locked up. I cannot break my word," murmured Annie Jane, with an attempt at valor.

Once when she was a little child a rat had bitten her hand, and since then the mere sight of one would send her into hysterics.

The chauffeur looked at her face, from which every trace of color had fled, and, with a muttered exclmation, he turned away from the little opening.

A minute later came the sound of a window being raised, and presently the prisoner walked into the room through the back door. Without a word he seized a poker. There was a rush of steps, a sharp squeak and then silence. The door opened and closed.

The chauffeur washed his hands at the sink. "I shall return to the pantry now," he began, when the outer door opened again and the harsh voice of the sheriff boomed through the house.

"He's locked in the pantry, justice, and Annie Jane's been a-watching him!" said Peter Lamson triumphantly.

Mr. Justice Smith, stout, rosy and jovial, withal he had been aroused from his bed, entered the room in advance of the sheriff, and his genial glance alighted on the prisoner, who was calmly drying his hands on the roller towel.

"Hello, Wainwright!" he cried. "So you got here after all, Lamson says he went over to your place, but your servants said you were out in the machine—chasing scorchers, I suppose! Now, Miss Annie Jane, have out the prisoner, and we'll each land him a heavy fine, eh, Wainwright?"

Justice Wainwright swept the room in a keen glance that noted Peter Lamson's chagrined face and the pitiful entreaty in Annie Jane's eyes.

"Sorry, sheriff. It's all my fault, but your prisoner has escaped," he said carelessly.

"Shucks!" exploded Peter Lamson, with sincere relief.

When the discomfited sheriff had preceded Smith down the cellar stairs, the late prisoner approached Annie Jane, who stood disconsolately before the stove.

"You were very kind, indeed, Mr. Wainwright," she stammered with embarrassment. "I know father will be hurt and mortified to realize he has made such a blunder—that he treated you so unkindly."

"You were very kind to the prisoner, Miss Annie Jane," said the justice, with a tender note in his pleasant voice. "Under those circumstances it was very strange that he should try to escape, wasn't it?"

Annie Jane's eyes dropped before the warmth in his gaze, but she made no reply.

"I don't believe—he escaped, after all," mused Wainwright thoughtfully.

And subsequently it was proved that he did not.

Sarcastic.

Hubert Henry Davies, the playwright who spent much time in London, told of an amusing interview between the owner of a publication in the British capital, whereof George Bernard Shaw had been the dramatic critic, and Max Beerbohm on the occasion of the latter's assumption of the duties laid down by G. B. S.

"Being comparatively inexperienced, you, Mr. Beerbohm, cannot, of course, expect so much."

"Oh, yes, I shall!" hastily interposed Max. "Indeed, I shall expect more. Shaw knows the drama so thoroughly that it is an easy matter for him to write it, whereas I, knowing nothing whatever about it, shall find it dreadfully hard work."—Harper's Weekly.

HALDANE'S PLAN.

War Secretary's Scheme For Territorial Force In the Colonies.

London, Feb. 22.—Speaking at Newcastle Saturday morning on the subject of the proposed imperial general staff for the army, Secretary of War Haldane gave a general outline of the strength of the overseas forces as contemplated under the imperial scheme.

Canada, he said, could easily raise five or six territorial divisions, Australia five, New Zealand one, and South Africa four or five.

These, in addition to the existing 14 divisions of the territorial forces of the United Kingdom, would give a total of 30 divisions for home defence. With the 16 divisions of regulars ready for overseas service, it was thus hoped to attain an imperial army of 46 divisions, equivalent to 23 army corps.

This was just the strength of the German army, Mr. Haldane said, and no other army in the world had such a great organization.

Canada, added Mr. Haldane, had cabled warmly accepting the imperial general staff scheme. (Cheers.) Mr. Haldane hoped the other colonies would speedily follow suit.

ITALIAN STABBED.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—Stabbed five times in the left shoulder, and three times in the middle of the back, two of his ribs broken, a cut on the back of his head, administered with a stick, a great contusion on his forehead, raised by repeated blows with a stove lifter, and, bleeding profusely, Liberato Pignotti, an Italian, was able to walk to No. 2 police station when arrested with two other Italians by P. C. Davidson at the conclusion of a Sunday evening game of cards.

The former declares that Pignotti attempted to murder him with a revolver which was discharged once in the melee and that he and his wife and brother-in-law used the knife and cudgels on him in self-defence. Pignotti, however, says he was attacked by the trio first and that he caught up the revolver from a table and fired it to protect himself.

Board Nailed to Face.

Buffalo, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Catherine Cooley of 202 Elk street was brought to the Emergency Hospital with a two-foot board nailed to her face. It took the surgeons nearly an hour to remove the nail, which was three inches long and very crooked.

The police are looking for Mrs. Kate O'Day of 47 Moore street. According to Mrs. Cooley she had words with Mrs. O'Day over family affairs. In a scuffle which followed, it is alleged, Mrs. O'Day picked up the board and struck Mrs. Cooley a powerful blow across the left side of the face. A nail in the end of the board pierced Mrs. Cooley's lower jaw. A doctor who was called found it impossible to remove it and called an ambulance.

Another Boundary Dispute Looms.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 22.—The fishing interests of Puget Sound will carry to the State Department in Washington a protest against the reported seizure by the Canadian Government of Hecate Strait under Dixon entrance. This action is said to be an attempt to extend Canadian jurisdiction within the three mile limit. If the Canadian contention be granted, the halibut trade of Tacoma and Seattle will be seriously crippled, it is alleged.

Canadians accuse Americans of crossing the three-mile-limit repeatedly and of violating other regulations. Capt. Newcombe of the British cruiser Kestrel accuses Americans of stealing 1,500 pounds of halibut this month.

New Lumber Association.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 22.—Every branch of the timber industry is represented in a new organization, The British Columbia Lumber Logging and Forestry Association, which absorbs the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce and Forestry. The new organization's chief objects are promotion of mutual interests, and obtaining legislation for all branches, including a recent request for a law giving preference of title to the present 21-year timber licenses, and the conservation of the forests of British Columbia, which have the largest quantities of marketable timber in the world.

Mother Charged With Abduction.

Brantford, Feb. 22.—William Symons, a well-to-do resident, returned here yesterday with his three children, Edward, Annie and May, all under 14 years of age, who were sent to Detroit prior to an intended elopement which his wife was alleged to have been about to make with John McDonald until prevented by the local police. The woman is at present in jail awaiting trial on the charge of abduction.

A Way They Have.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 22.—After calling for tenders to construct 30 miles of the south end of the Kootenay Central from a point between Nelson and Cranbrooke to a point north of Fort Steele, the C.P.R. have secured two years extension from Parliament, and have shelved the project indefinitely without assigning a reason.

Trade With the Indies.

London, Feb. 22.—The terms in reference to the royal commission, announced by Lord Cheswe on Friday, include the whole question of the promotion and extension of trade relations between Canada and the West Indies, including an improved steamship communication.

Wife a Murderess.

Lethbridge, Alba., Feb. 22.—Richard Vadnais, a French-Canadian rancher near Cardston, whose wife sometime since ended a domestic quarrel by shooting him with a revolver, is dead. Mrs. Vadnais will have to face a murder charge.

TAFT CHOOSES CABINET.

President-Elect's Executive Staff Is Now Almost Complete.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 22.—J. M. Dickinson of Tennessee will be Secretary of War in the Taft Cabinet.

Chas. Nagel of St. Louis will be Mr. Taft's Secretary of Commerce and Labor; R. A. Ballinger will be Secretary of the Interior.

This statement is not made upon the announcement of Mr. Taft but its correctness may be accepted without question.

Mr. Dickinson is a Tennessecan, although temporarily residing in Chicago, where his duties as general solicitor of the Illinois Central Railway system required his presence. He is a Democrat, although always having opposed Bryan.

Mr. Taft admits he is making headway in the selection of a Secretary of the Treasury, but maintains that the place is not yet filled. Franklin MacVeagh and Byron T. Herrick are two of the men under consideration.

With this exception the Taft Cabinet is complete, and when officially promulgated shortly before his inauguration the other members will be found to be as follows:

Postmaster-General, Frank H. Hitchcock of Massachusetts.

Secretary of Agriculture, Jas. Wilson of Iowa.

In this list are five lawyers, of whom Mr. Taft believes, there are none better in the country.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The Princess Hotel Co., Limited, at Winnipeg has been incorporated, and will erect a big modern hotel there.

On account of a strike at Lethbridge, the C.P.R. have granted a years extension of time to the Walkerville Bridge Co. on the big bridge there.

Another 20,000 acre block of timber, 200 miles north of the city of Vancouver has passed into the hands of the R. Appleton, H. S. Gilkie and American Timber Co.

Michael C. Smith, a well-known rancher of Pincher Creek, Alberta, was killed between Hosmer and Fernie. He fell from a train, his arms and legs were cut off.

The police have knowledge of an organized gang for smuggling Chinese into the United States from Canada. Canada gets the head tax, United States the Chinamen.

The Senate of the territorial Legislature tabled the bill prohibiting aliens fishing in Hawaiian waters. The measure as introduced would have affected most directly many Japanese fishermen.

Rev. D. B. Harkness, M.A., of Winnipeg, has been appointed superintendent of Baptist missions in western Canada, in succession to Rev. W. T. Stackhouse, M.A., who becomes secretary of the Baptist Laymen's Missionary Movement, with headquarters in Toronto.

He Bought the Woman.

New Westminster, Feb. 22.—Representing that he could not get possession of a comely young woman whom he had purchased from her husband for $20, a man named Barker applied to the city police for assistance.

The sale of the young woman took place while she was in the maternity cottage at the Royal Columbian Hospital, she being, it is alleged, a party to the deal. The husband has since left town.

The trouble arose because the purchaser wished the woman to enter his home at once, she insisting on delay. The woman has been placed in the care of a female relative. All the parties are white.

Home Again.

Fort Monroe, Va., Feb. 22.—The returning United States battleship fleet reached the southern drill grounds, 50 miles off the Virginia Capes early, and left at 5 o'clock this morning, reaching the Capes by 10 o'clock, passing the Mayflower in good time. The despatch boat Yankton, which slipped in last Wednesday, returned from Washington yesterday, a veritable treasure ship. In her strong room last night were golden eagles, double eagles and half eagles to the amount of $800,000 to be used in paying off the officers and men upon their arrival.

Quebec Opposition United.

Montreal, Feb. 22.—The town of St. Laurent, the chief town of the county of Jacques Cartier, witnessed the welding together of the several factions composing the Opposition in Quebec.

On the one hand were Bourassa and Lavergne, while the straight Conservatives were represented by Coudreau and Patenaude from Jacques Cartier and Laprairie.

Bourassa made a speech in which he said he was willing to work with all patriots and as the other two filled the bill the union was made complete.

Statue of Champlain.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—There was placed for exhibition in the main entrance of the Parliament building Saturday afternoon the cast of a statue (heroic size) of Samuel de Champlain, to be erected in bronze in St. John, N.B. Hamilton McCarthy is the sculptor and the cost of the finished work will be $10,000. The bronze figure will be cast in New York.

Roosevelt's Nephew Killed.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 22.—Stewart Douglas Robinson, 19 years of age, a nephew of President Roosevelt, and a sophomore of Harvard College, fell from a six-storey window of Hampton Hall, a dormitory on Massachusetts avenue, yesterday, and was killed.

Will Go Into Perk.

Among them is a $50,000 initial grant for establishing a Government packing industry.

MADOC, ONT.

SLAYS POLICE OFFICER

Nelson Dessler Caught In Act of Robbing an Office at Olean, N.Y., Slays Policeman, and In Fight With Second Officer Is Mortally Wounded—Was Black Sheep of an Ontario Family—Has Been In Jail.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—Nelson Dessler of Berlin, Ont., discovered in the act of burglary, shot and killed a police officer at Olean, N.Y., early Sunday morning and was himself fatally shot, it is believed, in a revolver duel with another policeman. He escaped, but was found practically dying in his room in a hotel during the afternoon.

"In a hand to hand pistol duel with Nelson Dessler of Berlin, Ont., whom he caught in the act of burglarizing the office of the Droney Lumber Co. in the Masonic Temple yesterday, Police Captain Thomas Hassett was shot through the head and instantly killed. Dessler was shot four times. He escaped, but was caught yesterday afternoon in his room in the Olean House, where he registered yesterday from Pittsburg. He will probably die before morning.

"A night telephone operator in the telephone exchange which is located in the Masonic Temple, heard some one in the lumber company's office early to-day and called police headquarters. Capt. Hassett responded. As he entered the lumber company's office Dessler stepped from behind a door and grappled with him. Both men went to the floor and they struggled for supremacy for fully five minutes. Then shots were heard and Dessler came dashing down the stairs. He was met in the corridor by Patrolman Vollmer who had been summoned by the telephone operator. Dessler and Vollmer exchanged pistol shots, but the burglar eluded the officer and got away.

"Capt. Hassett was found on the floor with a bullet wound in his head. He had been instantly killed. Dessler escaped for the time, but was found at the hotel this afternoon. He had two bullet wounds in the abdomen, one in the arm and one in the leg."

In the circular issued by the Toronto police in 1905 Dessler is described as "alias Geo. McDonald," 30 years old, 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighing 175 pounds, with auburn hair and sandy complexion.

Dessler is 33 years of age. His parents are respectable residents of Berlin, but Nelson is given the reputation of having always been regarded as a "bad boy." Six years ago he was convicted of burglarizing a jewelry store and stealing some rings, and was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary at Kingston. He was released on parole after serving two years and came to Toronto on Dec. 20, 1905, and while employed at the Mason & Risch piano factory, a warrant was sworn out for him for the theft of a suit of clothes and an overcoat from Emil Niepage, a tailor at 95 Shaw street. He disappeared, and although Chief O'Neill of Berlin kept a keen lookout, it being thought he would turn up there, no trace was found of him.

Nelson, after leaving school, worked five years in the furniture factory. Although the police gave his age as about 38, it is said he is perhaps five years younger.

Twenty Lives Lost.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 22.—The Argentine steamer Presidente Roca from southern ports, according to reports received here, has been wrecked and sunk between Puerto de San Antoine and Puerto Madrin on the east coast. The steamer caught fire and it is reported that twenty lives were lost, 350 passengers and members of the crew being saved.

The Presidente Roca belonged to the Hamburg-South American line. She was the largest steamer trading regularly between Buenos Ayres and the southern ports of the republic.

No New Cardinals In 1909.

Rome, Feb. 22.—The correspondent of The Sun is reliably informed that the Pope has determined not to appoint any cardinals before the end of the year, hence there will be no consistory at Easter. Pius X. is reported to have said that the condition of the Vatican finances would not allow the creation of any new cardinals.

Besides, he consider that fifty-four cardinals will suffice for the government of the church.

Prince as Savage Member.

London, Feb. 22.—The true London Bohemianism was never better exemplified than at the Savage Club last night, with the Prince of Wales in the chair at the usual weekly dinner. The prince as an ordinary Savage showed himself to be of like passion as his brother Savages and there was an evening of unlimited fun.

The only speech of the evening was the prince's regulation announcement to his brother Savages: "You may smoke."

This Real Estate Pays.

Rome, Feb. 22.—Six months ago a Neapolitan bought for $2,000 a plot of land four miles outside of Rome, which was to be devoted to the growing of artichokes. While digging recently he discovered a large marble fountain six feet high and six feet in diameter with a frieze of dancing girls in bas relief around it, evidently the product of a Greek chisel. They are valued at $100,000.

Seven Killed Near Nipegou.

An explosion of dynamite was the cause.

A CROSS ON HIS BACK.

It Was Made With Chalk, but Was Too Heavy to Carry.

There is a story of an envious tailor current with the French peasantry. He fancied that his neighbor, who received a pension for the loss of an arm incurred while fighting for his country, was better off than himself. Both men went to pay their rent on the same day.

"That's a lucky man," said the tailor to the landlord. "He gets well paid for his arm."

"But who would be willing to part with an arm, even if he were paid for it?" said the landlord.

"I would," declared the tailor.

"You!" cried the landlord. "Why, man, you wouldn't be willing to bear anything of the sort, no matter how much you were paid for it."

"I wish some one would try me."

"Now, see here," said the landlord, who had studied human nature, "I'll tell you what—if you'll wear even so much as a chalk mark on your back I'll remit your rent as long as you wear it on your coat so it can be seen, the condition being that you tell no one why it is there."

"Agreed," said the tailor eagerly. "That's an easy way to pay rent."

So the chalk mark in the form of a cross was made on the back of his coat, and the delighted tailor sallied forth upon the street.

Strangers and acquaintances hailed him to tell him of the mark on his back. Jokes were made at his expense, children laughed and pointed at him, and his wife annoyed him with questions and with conjugal familiarity told him he was a fool. The usually amiable man grew surly and morose; he shunned men, women and children and frequented back streets. Before the week was up the tailor found himself embroiled in a quarrel with his best friend, his wife had threatened to leave his house, and he considered himself miserable and ill used.

Finally one night he took off his coat and rubbed out the chalk mark and said: "There! I would not wear that cross on my back another week, no, not if I could have all the money there is in Paris!"

ROBIN HOOD NOT A MYTH.

Hero of Sherwood Forest Had a Court Place Under King Edward II.

Many famous men have their names linked with Sherwood—King John, the three Edwards, Richard III., Cardinal Wolsey and Charles I.—but the hero of the place, the "genius loci," is Robin Hood.

Some think that the famous outlaw of the ballads was a myth, a mere poetic conception and a creature of the popular mind, but Mr. Hunter in his research into the person and period of Robin Hood holds that he was born between 1285 and 1295, living through the reign of the second Edward and into the early years of the third. He was of a family of some station seated near Wakefield and supported the Earl of Lancaster in his rebellion against the government. When the earl fell and his followers were proscribed Robin Hood took to the woods and supported himself by slaying the wild animals found in the forest and by levying a species of blackmail on passengers along the great road which united London and Berwick. This continued for about twenty months, from April, 1322, to December, 1323, when he fell into the king's power, who for some unknown reason not only pardoned him, but gave him a place at court. Anyhow, a man of the name of Robyn Hode was a "varlet" of the king in 1324.

Dr. Spencer T. Hall says that Robyn was created Earl of Huntington by a London ballad writer hard up for a word to rhyme to Little John. Be this as it may, Robin Hood will always be the hero of romance, and those who love romance will refuse to believe that he never existed.—London Globe.

Mansfield's Lonely Meals.

There were two meals which Mansfield always ate alone—breakfast and the light repast of broth and oysters late in the afternoon. An empty stomach attacked his nerves and set his temper on edge. In the morning he was in no convenient mood until he had the invariable coffee and bacon. After a somewhat rigid abstinence during the balance of the day and evening the fatigue of a performance edged his nerves till his midnight supper, which, with a troop of friends about him, warmed him into the sunniest humor of the day. A book or play was the companion of his solitary meals.—Paul Wilstach in Scribner's.

The Very First One.

The visitors in the historical museum gazed curiously at a small feather pillow which nestled in a glass case.

"I don't see anything unusual about that pillow," remarked one of the visitors, turning to the guide.

A Zoological Question.

The director of the zoological gardens was on his vacation. He received a note from his chief assistant, which closed thusly: "The chimpanzee seems to be pining for a companion. What shall we do until you return?"

Two Words.

"There are two words that I feel sorry for."

"And they are?"

These were the only three lots that reached $5.40 and over, the rest selling at $5.35 down to $5 for medium light exporters. Bulls sold at $4 to $4.65, the bulk selling at $4 to $4.25.

Butchers.

Prime picked heifers and steers, 1050 to 1150 lbs., were quoted as being worth $4.85 to $5.10; loads of good, $4.50 to $4.85; medium light cattle, $4 to $4.40; common, $3.60 to $4; cows, $3 to $4.25, with a very few good enough to export at $4.40; canners and common cows, $1.50 to $2.75; bulls, $3 to $4.

Milkers and Springers.

A limited number sold at $35 to $52 each, and better quality would have sold for more money.

Veal Calves.

Prices steady at $8 to $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts light, prices firm. Grain-fed lambs sold at $6.50 to $7 per cwt.; common lambs, $5.50 to $6 per cwt.; export ewes, $4 to $4.50; rams, $3.25 to $3.75.

Hogs.

Gunns and H. P. Kennedy reported prices unchanged at $6.60 for selects, fed and watered at market, and $6.40, f.o.b., cars at country points, to drovers.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Feb. 22.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Feb. 20, were 2128 cattle, 661 sheep and lambs, 1098 hogs and 221 calves. The offerings for local consumption this morning were 1050 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 700 hogs and 160 calves. A firm feeling prevailed in the market for cattle, owing to the fact that the supply was smaller than a week ago and the quality of the stock better, but on account of the observance of the Lenten season the demand was not so keen as the consumption of beef for the next few weeks will be curtailed to some extent. There was some demand from exporters for small lots to complete shipments with, and this coupled with the buying for Quebec account, helped the market considerably, and on the whole a fairly active trade was done. Cables from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade in cattle firm and noted an advance in prices of ½c per lb., as compared with those of last Monday. Choice steers here sold at 5¼c to 5¾c; good, at 5c to 5¼c; fair, at 4½c to 4¾c; medium, at 4c to 4¼c; good cows, at 3½c to 4¼c; common, at 2½c to 3¼c; choice bulls, at 4½c to 4¾c, and common, at 2½c to 4c per lb. There was no further change in the condition of the market for sheep and lambs, prices being firm under a good demand for local consumption and small supplies. Choice lots of lambs sold at 6½c to 7c, and good, at 5¾c to 6¼c, while choice lots of sheep brought 4¼c to 4¾c, and culls, 2½c to 4c per lb. The demand for calves continues good, of which the offerings are small and prices rule strong, with sales at 5c to 7c per lb., live weight. Supplies of hogs were considerably smaller than a week ago, there being only 700 head on the market, as against over 2400 last Monday, and this, coupled with the fact that advices from Winnipeg state there will be no more shipments of dressed hogs this way for the balance of this season, has created a stronger feeling in the market, and higher prices are predicted later on. The demand this morning was good and sales of selected lots were made at $7.50 per cwt., weighed off cars.

ANALYTICAL CHEMIST TELLS OF PATENT MEDICINES

A graduate in organic chemistry, who has made a study of many of the best-known patent medicines on the market, states that many have virtue, but as a rule people have to pay for a lot of unnecessary expense. The following is the recipe of a well-known secret preparation, and is known by authority to be one of the best stomach and liver tonics. It is prescribed by many of the best physicians.

This mixture cures constipation and biliousness. The recipe:—

Fluid Extract Cascara	½ oz.
Syrup Rhubarb	1 oz.
Carriana Compound	1 oz.
Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla	5 oz.

Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

An eminent authority, who has made a careful and scientific study of the relative values of drugs having a specific action on the kidneys, bladder, and liver, pronounces this an excellent combination.

You can buy the ingredients separately and mix at home.

Cures Indigestion.

ALL DISTRESS FROM STOMACH AND INDIGESTION VANISHES IN FIVE MINUTES.

Take your sour stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is food fermentation—food souring; the digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which variably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlains Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Save Money by Buying Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

You will pay just as much for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as for any of the other cough medicines, but you save money in buying it. The saving is in what you get, not what you pay. The sure-to-cure-you quality is in every bottle of this remedy, and you get good results when you take it. Neglected colds often develop serious conditions and when you buy a cough medicine you want to be sure you are getting one that will cure your cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always cures. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle. For sale by all druggists.

THE OLD SAIL DRILL

Perils the Modern Warship Men Do Not Have to Face.

One of the dangers and one of the hardest tasks of the man-of-war's man vanished out of his life when, with the supplanting of the frigate by the steam cruiser, the old time sail drill became a thing of the past. Fleets in the old days were continually exercised in making and shortening sail, shifting spars and all similar maneuvers aloft, says Captain J. W. Gambier of the British navy in his "Links In My Life." As the greatest rivalry existed among the crews as to which ship should carry out the evolution first accidents were frequent. Hardly a drill day passed without men being seriously injured.

Once during a drill in Kiel harbor, where the rivalry in the fleet was increased by the eagerness of foreign ships to compete with the English, an unfortunate French midshipman went head first from the mizzen crosstrees of the French flagship to the deck.

That numbers of accidents should take place in sail drill was not astonishing when one remembers that spars measuring perhaps seventy or eighty feet long and weighing two or three tons were whisked about with bewildering speed with nothing but men's hands and brains to guide them; hundreds of men crammed into a space of a few hundred square feet, where nothing but the most marvelous organization and discipline could avert death on deck or aloft.

To the landsman, who understood nothing of the difficulty involved in rapidly shifting these great masts and yards or in reeling and furling thousands of square feet of stiff canvas—perhaps wet or half frozen—the rapidity with which it was done was perhaps the chief wonder.

Ropes, running like lightning through blocks that were instantly too hot from friction to be touched, had to be checked to within a few inches, requiring the utmost coolness and presence of mind, while the officer in command had to superintend what to the uninitiated looked like a tangled mass of cordage, but which was in reality no more in confusion than the threads in a loom.

In an instant this officer might see something going wrong. To delay a single second meant a terrible catastrophe. Every one, alow and aloft, was relying on his judgment.

"Belay! Ease away!"

The order came in an instant. The boatswain's mates repeated it in a particular call which this life and death necessity soon taught every one to understand, the shrill whistles rising above the din of tramping feet and running ropes or the thunderous crash of the great sails in the wind. Death had been averted—or not. If not you looked up and saw some unfortunate man turning head over heels in the air. Your heart stood still. Would he catch hold of something, even if only to break his fall, or would he come battering on the deck? It was a mere toss up. If he was killed outright it generally stopped the drill for the day; if he was only seriously injured the drill went on, for this was part of the lesson that must be learned—that in peace, as in war, one must take his chances.

Suggestive Questions on Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Mr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

FEBRUARY 28TH, 1909.

Golden Text.—The people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracle which he did. Acts viii : 6.

Verse 4.—What caused the "scattering abroad" of the Christian community?

Was the persecution of the church, headed by Saul, a blessing or a curse?

Was this persecution according to God's first best plan?

When God's first, or original, plan is upset by an evil, is there any evidence to show that he uses that very evil to bring about that which he had planned to accomplish another way? (See case of Joseph also of Jesus.)

Verse 5.—Who was Philip?

Should the church, to-day, utilize laymen more in preaching the gospel?

What did Philip preach at Samaria?

What do you understand by Philip preaching Christ?

Verses 6-7.—How do you account for it, that the people turned to God with such unanimity?

Does the Holy Spirit always accompany the preaching of the gospel?

If Philip's congregation had been made up of 1909 ex-Sunday school scholars, would the result of his preaching have been different?

Verse 8.—What is the proof that Philip's converts were real, and what is the proof of the reality of every conversion?

Verse 7-11.—What is or what was sorcery?

Is there any evidence to believe, that there are, or ever have been, persons with the power claimed by witches, conjurers, fortune tellers and similar fakirs?

Verse 12.—Is it reasonable to believe that all who were baptised were genuine converts?

Verse 13—What ever change may have come over him after, do you think Simon was really converted at this time?

What were then, and what are now the conditions for the forgiveness of our sins, or conversion?

Verses 14-17.—At the time of the "scattering abroad" did all the Apostles remain at Jerusalem?

What was the purpose of sending Peter and John to Samaria, seeing they had just had a great revival?

Did Peter and John pray that these young converts might receive the Holy Spirit.

Did all the converts in Apostolic days, receive the Holy Spirit after their conversion?

Why was not the Holy Spirit given to the converts at Samaria, when they were converted?

Is it the duty and privilege of every Christian to be conscious that the Holy Spirit dwells in him, and that he is Divinely guided in all things?

Verses 18-21.—Are deceivers and tricksters apt to think that all others are like themselves?

Is it possible to obtain spiritual power with the purpose of making money out of it?

Is it possible that this Simon had been converted and that his love of fame, and of money, had led him to this evil?

Lesson for Sunday March 17th 1909. — Philip and the Ethiopian. Acts viii 26-40.

FEBRUARY 7TH, 1909.

Suppose a man gives less than he ought to give to the cause of God does he commit, practically the sin of Ananias and Sapphira?

FEBRUARY 14TH, 1909.

Can an enemy, or circumstances, or his ignorance, or any other power, other than personal sin, put a Christian in a position, where his highest interests are not being served to the utmost possible?

FEBRUARY 21st, 1909.

Why is it not a crime against the gospel, that the preaching of the gospel is so professionalized, that our pulpits to-day in the towns and cities are practically closed to the laymen of the church, so that even men like Stephen, have to "keep silent" in our church pulpits?

FIGHTING FOR MALONE

Simcoe Chief's Counsel Puts Up Unusual Plea.

Gets Indictment Quashed on Magistrate's Bias and Then Demands Acquittal on Second Indictment, Declaring That His Client Has Been In Jeopardy—Judge Denies Motion and Case Goes On.

Simcoe, Feb. 23.—The unusual procedure of a judge quashing the indictment of a prisoner charged with attempted murder and immediately ordering a new indictment and recalling the jury to bring in a true bill a second time, followed by a legal battle in which the defence claimed that the quashing of the first indictment amounted to an acquittal, was an occurrence in the Assizes of the High Court of Justice here yesterday afternoon, when Archibald W. Malone was placed on trial for the sensational shooting of William Wilkins on the early morning of Dec. 1 last year.

Magistrate Beemer, who committed Malone for trial, had previously moved in the sessions of the peace that Malone be discharge as a constable, and the prisoner's counsel, Mr. Kelly, yesterday objected to his commitment of the prisoner on the grounds of bias.

There were five indictments against Malone, two for arson, two for shopbreaking and one for attempted murder. The jury returned a true bill in each case.

Mr. Kelly moved that the indictment be quashed on account of the magistrate's bias. Though his lordship pointed out there was nothing to be gained, he decided, for safety, to quash the indictment. The jury was again given the indictment and returned a true bill.

Once more the prisoner was asked to plead, but this time his counsel, instead of allowing him to plead not guilty, put in the plea of "Autrefois acquit," contending that the prisoner had been tried and acquitted by the quashing of the first indictment. The legal battle continued over this point, but his lordship ruled that the prisoner, having never been tried nor having ever been in danger, had not been acquitted.

Mr. Blackstock, with dramatic effect, described the crown's version of the shooting as given at the preliminary hearing. He intimated that new evidence would be produced to show that immediately following the shots and screams, a man who lived within 60 feet of the place, looked out the window and saw a man whom he took for Malone. This man is Lloyd Barber, who was the second witness examined last night.

The first witness was S. M. Sovereen, whose place had been robbed of furs and who described the finding of some of them on his doorstep after Wilkins began to get better.

Then came Barber, a young man who lives near the scene of the tragedy. He testified to hearing the shots and looking out of the window when he saw a man running toward his house. He could not swear that he recognized him, but he thought he did. Counsel for defendant objected but his lordship said if the witness had reached a conclusion, however doubtful, it should be evidence.

$1,050 For Husband.

Peterboro, Feb. 23.—Maurice Crowley, a former employe of the Canada General Electric Co., received $1,050 in settlement of his claim for $5,000 for the loss of his left hand and wrist while working for the company. The case was to have been heard by Justice Clute yesterday at the Assizes. Crowley claimed that the rubber machine he was attending was not provided with safety appliances.

Great Boom For the Wireless.

London, Feb. 23.—Winston Churchill, President of the Board of Trade, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that as an outcome of the recent collision off Nantucket of the steamers Republic and Florida, he was considering the introduction of legislation to require all British-owned ocean steamers to carry an efficient wireless telegraph equipment.

Chinese In Bonded Car.

San Luis Obispo, Cal., Feb. 23.—What is believed to be an organized plan to smuggle Asiatics in this country, has been unearthed as a result of the discovery of 22 Chinese in a box-car in this city on Sunday. The most peculiar feature of the discovery was that the Chinese were in a bonded car, sealed with the Government stamp.

The Seventh Dreadnought.

Barrow, Eng., Feb. 23.—The battleship Vanguard, the seventh vessel of the Dreadnought class, was successfully launched here at noon yesterday. Mrs. Reginald McKenna, wife of the First Lord of the Admiralty, performed the christening ceremony. It is generally believed that the Vanguard will be ready before the end of 1909.

Kidd Again In House.

This is the seat R. L. Borden resigned.

100 Lives Lost In Blizzard.

London, Feb. 23.—It is reported here that more than 100 lives have been lost in a blizzard which has raged in southwestern Russia during the last three days. The tracks of the Southwestern Railway are blocked for 2,000 miles.

Distinguished Passenger.

Pau, France, Feb. 23.—The Minister of Public Works, Barthou, was a passenger yesterday with Wilbur Wright in a flight of five minutes. Mr. Wright made several sharp turns and went through other movements.

STOLE TWO MILES OF WIRE.

Toronto Lineman Gets Three Years For Unusual Theft.

Toronto, Feb. 23.—David Wells was sent to Kingston Penitentiary for three years yesterday, when he pleaded guilty in the Police Court to theft of about two miles of wire from the poles of the Electric Light Co. in broad daylight.

He, with George Wilson, a lineman, and Newton Snodden, an expressman, was arrested Saturday, charged with the theft. The latter two were discharged, as it was shown that they had assisted Wells, believing that he was employed by the company.

Wells, who is also an experienced lineman, and lived at 240 Delaware avenue, has served time before, having been sent to the Central for two years by Judge Winchester for theft in 1904.

Wells showed unusual nerve in his operations, as he not only risked detection on all hands, but he also braved death in cutting down "live" wires.

His mode of operation was to cut down the wires from the poles. Wilson coiled it as it came down, and Snodden carted it to a second-hand shop in West Adelaide street. In this way he secured over two miles of the wire, which was sold for only a small fraction of its value.

Militia Orders.

The Royal Canadian Regiment—Capt. H. Kemmis Betty, on completion of the staff college course, is seconded for employment on the imperial general staff for a period of two years, from Jan. 10, 1909.

10th Regiment, Royal Grenadiers—To be chaplain, with honorary rank of captain, Rev. Cato Ensor Sharp, vice Honorary Major Rev. A. U. Baldwin, deceased.

91st Regiment, Canadian Highlanders—to be lieutenant-colonel and to command the regiment, Major W. H. Bruce, vice Lieut.-Col. W. A. Logie, who, on completion of his period of tenure of command, is transferred to the reserve officers; to be major, Capt. J. I. McLaren, vice W. H. Bruce, promoted.

Making Fake Butter.

Montreal, Feb. 23.—A factory which was turning out daily some 2,800 pounds of oleomargarine, which was sold as creamery butter to the trade, has been unearthed at Cote, St. Paul, a suburb of Montreal, and the proprietor, G. Jumas, has been apprehended at the instance of D. M. McPherson, inspector of dairy food for the Dominion.

The so-called butter, which was made from animal fats, was put up in 56-pound firkins and the factory had a capacity of 50 of these a day. It was sold to the trade for 20 cents a pound.

The proprietor, it is announced, has agreed to confess judgment, and will pay the maximum fine, which is $400. A few days ago a dealer in Quebec was fined $500 for selling the product.

Earthquake In Spain.

Alicante, Spain, Feb. 23.—Severe earthquakes, which came while the people were assembled at mass in the village church on Sunday, caused a panic among the congregation, who rushed to the doors, throwing down and trampling under foot a score or more of women and children. The furniture in the house was overturned and crockery and window panes broken.

At Crevillente, a town of 10,000 inhabitants, situated about 18 miles from Alicante, houses rocked and swayed at an alarming angle, and the people ran to the countryside in dire terror. They are now camping out in the open fields.

Troops Fight Strikers.

Hong Kong, Feb. 23.—Laborers engaged in constructing the Canton-Hankan Railway began rioting yesterday because the wages of some of the men who had been absent from work were withheld. Troops were called out to suppress the disorder, and in a clash which ensued 25 laborers were injured. Three soldiers are missing.

Kills His Four Children.

Mondovi, Wis., Feb. 23.—Hans E. Hanson, a farmer living near Strun, cut the throats of his four children, a boy and three girls, whose age range from five to fifteen years, yesterday with a butcher knife.

He followed this crime by stabbing several horses and cows, firing the barn and house and then cut his own throat.

Vancouver as Wheat Port.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 23.—F. W. Peters of the C.P.R. is here to arrange terminals for the handling of the wheat. He says two million bushels have already been ordered to be shipped this way, some of it having arrived. He adds that practically all Alberta wheat must come this way, specially to relieve eastern pressure.

C.P.R. Pacific Service.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 23.—C. E. E. Ussher of the C.P.R. made the announcement yesterday that during the coming summer there will be three daily trains each way on the C.P.R., but only two of them will be transcontinental. The third will be a direct connection between Vancouver and St. Paul, via Moosejaw.

New Zealand's Unemployed.

Auckland, Feb. 23.—Speaking to a demonstration of unemployed, who urged the stopping of assisted immigration into New Zealand, Premier Ward pointed out that the Government never assisted others than agriculturalists and domestic servants and that the country could carry twenty millions of people.

10,000 Cholera Cases.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 23.—The cholera, which has now been epidemic here for 160 days, yesterday reached the 10,000 mark.

There has been 3,928 deaths from this disease in St. Petersburg, the highest number of new cases in one day being 44 and the lowest nine.
